Butter Joins Price Dip Parade

Market Slump In Some Lines Slowing Down

Some Economists Say Cuts Temporary

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP)—Still falling market prices pushed most major cost of living commodities lower today, but the headlong plunge of prices tended to level off in some lines.

Butter spearheaded the day's dip parade, breaking as much as 6½ cents a pound in the wholesale markets and selling lower in retail stores in several cities.

More grocery stores clipped meat prices during the day. Rye, soybeans, and some corn contracts for future delivery crashed the daily permissible limits on North American exchanges.

A series of buying and selling waves kept the grain market in a turmoil, with prices skittering. At the end, however, all prices were coming down.

Although many commodities made their strongest showing of the week, the most that could be said for the recovery effort was that it tended to check the precipitate slump. In no lines were there indications of a full-scale comeback drive.

May, July Corn Down Limit

Wheat price closed both higher and lower in Chicago. Both May and July corn were down the eight cents a bushel limit at the market close. Oats moved higher.

The new slump in corn prices brought the decline in May corn to 73½ cents a bushel since the January 16 peak. May wheat, which fell five cents, was 74½ cents under the January 16 peak.

The New York Stock Exchange made little important headway in its post-holiday session. Individual rail and industrial stocks made recoveries but many market leaders suffered from neglect. The overall average was up for the first time in a week. Bond prices were jumbled.

Stocks moved somewhat higher at London, Singapore and Tokyo.

Mill prices of bakery flour came down another five cents at Minneapolis but home use flour remained unchanged.

Price Cuts May Not Last

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—Meat and butter made the headlines in today's story of price cuts. Shoppers are asking if the trend will last.

Some economists say it may not. They say receipts of both are larger just now than in average years.

Besides, meat prices generally take a seasonal slump about now. Ranchers normally move their cattle to markets in the winter. This year they had even more reason to.

Watch out for a meat shortage in May, the experts warn.

Butter receipts have been unusually large recently. Trade sources say this is probably due to nervousness of dealers with large quantities in storage. Competition from margerine is increasing as its price falls in response to lower costs for fats and oils. Both causes have pushed butter prices down.

Many of the experts also take a skeptical view of the retail price cutting. How much of it, they ask,

Fresh Cold Wave Pours Across Canadian Border

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—A fresh cold wave came across the border from Canada today, bolstered by 30 to 35 mile an hour winds.

It sped toward the Upper Mississippi Valley and North Central states. The Northeast will feel its effect late Sunday or Monday.

The cold mass was expected to send temperatures in Minnesota and the Dakotas down to 20 below tonight. The Ohio River will have 5 to 10 above readings tomorrow night, federal forecasters said. Light snow flurries will accompany the cold air.

New ERP Timetable Put In Bill

CLARK TO RESCUE—Attorney General Tom Clark said last night there is no need for 16-month-old Neils Francis Rebholz, Chicago, to be separated from his parents for a year in order to become a resident of the United States. Neils, shown with his parents, was born in Rome, Italy. His father is an American and his mother is a Norwegian. Mrs. Rebholz entered as the wife of an American citizen but their child was admitted only with the status of a visitor. "The boy's status can be adjusted here," Clark said, but Rebholz said arrangements already had been made to send Neils to Denmark.

11 Who Ignored Plea Of Girl Die In Flaming Home

14 Scantily-Clad Occupants Escape

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—Eleven members of one family, including two mothers and nine children, were burned to death today after a 13-year-old girl vainly pleaded that they follow her second floor leap from their burning home.

The unexplained, early-morning fire swept the two-story frame dwelling and the walls collapsed. Fourteen scantily-clad occupants escaped. Three were hospitalized with burns.

Young Mary Hoage said she had jumped into a snowbank from a second-floor porch, after failing to convince her step-mother, Mrs. Ruth Hoage, 24, and the others to do the same.

"I pleaded for them to follow me and throw the babies down, but they said they would wait for the firemen to rescue them," she related.

Ten bodies, most of them charred beyond recognition were recovered from the three-foot deep rubble. One mother clutched a baby.

Three bodies were covered with water and firemen were forced to delay recovery until it could be pumped away.

The dead as listed by Capt. Eugene McNally, of the Fire Prevention Bureau:

Mrs. Ruth Hoage, second wife of Richard Hoage, Sr.; Mrs. Shirley Hoage, 29, wife of Richard Hoage, Jr.; Virginia, 19; Dana, 3; Mark, 8 months; Catherine, 2; Geraldine, 10; Audrey, 5; Charity, 7; Michael 11 months, and Lee, five weeks.

Mrs. Ruth Hoage was the mother of three children, the stepmother of four and the grandmother of the other two. Michael was the son of the junior Hoages.

UAW Ups Demand

DETROIT, Feb. 13—(AP)—The CIO United Auto workers came up today with pay demands against Chrysler Corporation exceeding 35 cents an hour.

The figure is five cents higher than that adopted recently by the union's top policy committee and approved by its international executive board.

Baby Born With Lips Sealed May Live Normal Life

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 13 (AP)—A prematurely-born baby girl, who couldn't cry or eat because her lips and jaws were sealed, today was given an excellent chance to live a normal life.

At her birth in a small Southwestern Pennsylvania village near here, the child's mouth was sealed, with the lower jaw twisted into the roof of the mouth. The baby could not nurse and was fed by a tube through the nostrils.

A dental surgeon, in two operations, a few days after the birth separated her jaws and freed the tiny tongue. Mechanical manipulation is expected to hasten recovery, a statement of the Fayette County Medical Society said.

2,750 Oculists Named In Suits

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP)—The government has named some 2,750 oculists in its price-fixing suits against two large optical firms.

The suits contend the oculists and the firm conspired to fix prices on eye-glasses and violated the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The government wants this alleged practice stopped.

The suits, originally filed July 23, 1946, say this was done by rebates made by the companies to the eye doctors. They say the rebates amounted to about one-half the total price paid by the doctors' patients.

Government prosecutors told reporters the 2,750 doctors received in excess of $10,000,000. They ask that the court's verdict in the 1946 suits be binding on the 2,750 doctors.

The government is asking that the companies and the doctors be prevented, through a court order, from taking part in any "kick-back" plan between them.

It says the companies and the doctors had such kick-back agreements. Under them, the government says, the wholesale firms sold eyeglasses and parts to the doctors' patients for prices "inflated approximately 100 per cent to provide a rebate or credit" paid later by the firms to the doctor who prescribed the glasses.

Forrestal Bans Armed Forces "Public Friction"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Defense Secretary. Forrestal told the armed forces today to quit quarreling in public.

If they intend to say anything to the public or congressional committees about controversial subjects they must give a copy to the defense chief first.

Forrestal mentioned the budget as a controversial topic. Often in the past, the services have been inclined to elbow each other in their drives for funds.

A Navy man, for example, will make a speech picturing the Navy as the vital part of the defense setup. This makes the Army and Air Forces angry, and they retaliate.

PHILADELPHIA TRANSIT STRIKE IS HEADED OFF

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13. (AP)—The executive board of Local 234, CIO Transport Workers Union, announced tonight it had ratified a 15-cent an hour across the board raise for its 11,000 member-employes of the Philadelphia Transportation Company.

The members will vote on the agreement by ballot tomorrow. They were to have voted tonight but only about 1,200 showed up at Town Hall after Mayor Bernard Samuel announced late in the afternoon that the two groups had reached an agreement to avert a strike set for midnight Sunday.

European Union 'Our Great Hope,' Marshall Asserts

Sees "Tragic" Result If Aid Is Inadequate

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 13 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall tonight described the formation of a Western European union as "our great hope."

A "stable and healthy Western Europe," Marshall said, would make Soviet leaders "much more inclined" to reach a settlement of problems that now divide Russia and the West.

Marshall's remarks were contained in an address for the National Farm Institute. Grounded by bad weather at Knoxville, Tenn., while en route here by plane, the Secretary arranged to read his speech by telephone from a radio station in Knoxville.

He unrservedly endorsed the Western European union proposals of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

And he declared that "half-hearted and inadequate" United States aid to Europe would have the "tragic" result of letting Western Europe, the Middle East and the entire Mediterranean area pass into the control of "the Soviet Union and their Communist allies."

To "meet the situation grudgingly," the Secretary declared, would be the same as doing nothing—and doing it "at great expense."

Marshall recalled saying when he returned from the latest London conference of foreign ministers that "there must be a decided change in the situation before we would have a basis for a genuine settlement with the Soviet Union."

"I meant," he said, "that if a stable and healthy Western Europe con be realized, the Soviet leaders, being supreme realists, would be much more inclined to reach a settlement on the terms of a peace treaty."

Marshall said the decision of 16 European countries to pool their recovery efforts—under what has become known as the "Marsrall plan"—was "a historical step of first importance towards the making of a peaceful world."

"And now," he said, "there is in progress a further decvelopment of this concert of free nations and one of great importance to the future of Europe."

Senators Aim At 5.3 Billions For First Year

Committee Agrees On 4-Year Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee agreed late today on a four-year European recovery program with the United States putting up $5,300,000,000 for the first 12 months.

President Truman had asked $6,800,000,000 for the first 15 months.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) said the cut—which averages $11,666,666 a month—was "a change in the timetable" rather than a net reduction.

Shortening the 15-month period, Vandenberg told a news conference, will give Congress a chance to make "a realistic review of the recovery program" at "the earliest possible moment" and then vote whatever additional funds it thinks necessary.

The committee wrote into its bill a section designed to keep exports to Europe from causing shortages in this country.

This section directs the administration of the aid program to consider these things when making purchases:

"The drain upon the resources of the United States.

"The impact of such procurement upon the domestic economy.

"The vital needs of the American people."

Vandenberg said he hopes for a committee vote on the bill as a whole next Tuesday, after a few details have been worked out. If all goes well, he said, it would be ready for Senate debate March 1.

Taft Urges Outright Cuts

Its fate there is uncertain. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and other leading Republicans have called for large outright cuts. Taft suggested a $2,000,000,000 slash.

Vandenberg said the bill authorizes the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to advance $1,000,000,000 to start the aid ball rolling as soon as the measure becomes law.

This means that funds wouldn't be held up while Congress debated separate appropriation bill.

Vandenberg said the bill authorizes appropriations through June 30, 1952, as the administration asked. Thus each Congress between now and that date can vote funds without going through the long drawnout procedure of passing an authorization bill like the present one.

Vandenberg also announced a compromise permitting the Marshall plan countries to charter 300 United States ships.

These would have to be dry-cargo ships—i.e., no tankers—and would have to be drawn from those not in current use by this country.

The administration wanted to sell the European countries 200 ships and charter 300 others. Maritime unions, the United States Maritime Commission and oher groups opposed this, however.

The Senate committee previously wrote these major points into its bill;

1—ERP would be run by a $20,-

Sen. Taft Blasts New Deal, Claims Title Of "Liberal"

GOP Candidate Flays Truman's Proposals

OMAHA, Feb. 13 (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) tonight claimed the title of "true liberal," a term he said New Dealers have no right to "appropriate."

The major political speech was given at a dinner attended by Nebraska Republicans. In a portion of his prepared manuscript which Taft did not repeat for the dinner audience, Taft declared:

"You and I may not think of ourselves as heroic. But if we remain firm in our purposes it is possible that the future will consider all of us heroes."

"We have still kept liberty alive in America. Liberty is not a flag. It is a whole way of life."

Truman's Proposals Assailed

Taft attacked as non-liberal President Truman's proposals for price-wage and rationing control, compulsory health insurance and universal military training.

Charging that the New Deal attempts to solve every national problem simply by creating a new government bureau, he declared in an address prepared for a Lincoln birthday dinner:

"No party which pursues that program can claim the term 'liberal.'"

Earlier grain and livestock men had heard the Ohioan condemn government regulations and, surprisingly, advocate a cut in the level of farm price supports.

Facing an issue that climbs in interest as commodity markets slump, the Ohioan called for a change in the system by which the government guarantees that some farm prices will not fall below fixed levels.

(It does this on a so-called "parity price" basis supposed to make the farmers' income equal to that of other workers).

90 Per Cent Called Too High

"I think that if there is to be such a support program it ought to be at a much less percentage of parity than 90 per cent, although at 90 per cent the government might undertake to interest itself actively in creating more of a market for the product," Taft told members of the Livestock Exchange in South Omaha.

As an example, Taft said he believes the government should help with the erection of industrial alcohol plants such as one located here.

Taft endorsed a proposed change which would base "parity" largely on national income, rather than other factors now used.

While the farmers and livestock men sat silent through his discussion of this point, they cheered his assertion that price control and rationing had proved a "complete failure."

New Mediation Region

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13—(AP)—The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service today set up a new georgraphical region with headquarters in Philadelphia and made John T. Daly, veteran conciliator, the regional director.

The new region, announced Director Cyrus S. Ching, will include Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

German Economic Administration Is Set Up By Russia

Action Further Step In Reich's Partition

BERLIN, Feb. 13 (AP) — Russia ordered a Soviet model of the British-American economic administration set up in Eastern Germany today.

The action was a further step in the partition of Germany between East and West. It marked a further departure from the unified four-zone economy promised by the Big Three at Potsdam in the summer of 1945.

Marshall Vassily Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, issued directions for formation of a 25-member German "economic commission" in the eastern zone. It closely parallels the German economic administration set up by the British and American Military Governments at Frankfurt for their combined zones.

Spurning repeated invitations to join in the administration and carry out the Potsdam program, Sokolovsky has likened the Frankfurt organization to a Western German state and demanded its dissolution. He has warned that its maintenance might break down all joint four-power machinery in Germany.

But when he announced his Soviet zone commission, Russian spokesmen declared it would not be an "East German government."

Der Abend, United States-licensed Berlin newspaper, said 17 of the 25 members would be named by the Russians and "there now exists the danger that the economic commission will bleed the Soviet zone white".

Der Abend said Russia already had taken "far more than the $10,000,000,000 in reparations demanded at Yalta."

Most political observers agreed the move will link Eastern Germany closer to the Soviet-dictated economy of Eastern Europe. Delegations from Poland and Czechoslovakia already are in Germany negotiating trade agreements with the eastern zone.

Twister Kills At Least Five In Mississippi

High Water Makes Hundreds Homeless

[By The Associated Press]

A jumping twisting storm killed at least five persons yesterday in a southland where floods already had driven thousands of persons from their homes and threatened still greater disaster.

The tornado dealt havoc in at least six spots near Newton, Miss., just after noon. Over 30 homes were ripped apart and an airport was demolished. The storm, rising and falling in intensity, cut an intermittent path of destruction nearly four miles long and 100 yards wide.

The American Red Cross reported that flash floods were harrassing 6,000 persons in Tennessee, North Carolina, Kentucky, West Virginia and Mississippi. It said 400 families were temporarily homeless in Tenn. alone.

With still more rain predicted for today, the Red Cross said it was preparing for any emergency.

One fourth of Shelbyville, Tenn., a city of 8,000, was estimated to be under water from flooded Duck River. Water stood 10 to 15 feet deep in some streets. No deaths were reported but hundreds fled their homes before the rising waters.

The same Duck River rose to 48 feet, the highest since 1902, at Columbia, Tenn., where a power shortage was threatened. Two hundred families were evacuated in the Columbia and nearby Mt. Pleasant areas.

So critical was the flood threat in Tennessee that Adj. Gen. Hilton Butler alerted National Guard units to stand by for emergency duty.

West Virginia Hard Hit

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 13 (AP) — Flood waters were lapping in the streets of cities in all sections of West Virginia tonight while a steady rain continued with little promise of early recession.

At least 30 families were forced from their homes in Logan proper and were being housed in the armory. The Logan chapter of the American Red Cross said a representative was en route from Washington to direct relief for hundreds of homeless persons in the southwestern area.

Reports of floods in the southeast and central sections also began to pour in as the rain carried away deep layers of snow into swollen streams.

In Central West Virginia, there were 27 inches of water on Weston's main street and blocking United States Route 19 to Clarksburg. The Road Commission said traffic at a score or more different points throughout the state was blocked by high waters.

A fleet of rowboats was operating in Logan to rescue families marooned by the Guyandotte River which reached a crest of 22.4 feet at 11 p. m. The river normally is three feet.

Several mining communities in Logan, Mingo and Wayne Counties in the southwest were reported isolated. The Road Commission said the communities of Sod in Lincoln County and Pax in Fayette County in the same general area had been cut off.

The entire western border of West Virginia also was threatened by an overflow from the Ohio River which was inching toward flood level.

Dayton, O., Has Flood

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13. — (AP) — A hard winter rain and melted snow tonight drove 1,000 families from their homes in industrial Dayton to the north and presaged a 12-foot rise in the Ohio River.

Jutting ice floes passed Cincinnati without causing feared damage to harbor shipping.

The giant Frigidaire Corporation plant at Moraine City, near Dayton, closed down and water stood one foot deep in the administration building.

Four to seven feet of surface water stood around a housing project near Wright Field. Trucks and boats worked into the midnight hours evacuating 700 to 800 families.

Marriage Of Oil Heir And Divorcee Climaxes "Cinderella" Romance

MR. AND MRS. WINTHROP ROCKEFELLER

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14—(Saturday)—(AP)—Tall and handsome Winthrop Rockefeller, heir to oil millions and one of America's most eligible young bachelors, took Barbara Sears, former actress and daughter of Lithuanian immigrants as his bride at 12:14 a. m. today.

The vows were spoken in a room decked with clusters of snapdragons, gladioli and tulips in the Lake Worth estate of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Guest, noted polo player and Palm Beach winter resident.

Rev. Winslow Drummond conducted the simple single ring Presbyterian ceremony which was attended only by the bride and bridegroom, Laurence Rockefeller, the bridegroom's brother who was best man; Isabel Paul, the bride's sister and maid of honor, and Mr. and Mrs. Guest.

Earlier in the evening, some 50 of Palm Beach's most noted winter residents, including the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Woolworth Donahue, Mr. Hudson Vanderbilt and Mrs. Gloria Baker Kelly, attended a reception in the Guest home.

England To Send Historic Wright Plane Back To U.S.

LONDON, Feb. 14 (Saturday) (INS)—The Wright Brothers' famous Kitty Hawk plane, the little box-like contraption which carried man in his first heavier-than air flight in 1903, will be returned to the United States shortly after a 20-year exile in England.

Directors of London's South Kensington Museum announced officially today their willingness to return the plane "at the earliest possible moment."

The announcement followed receipt of a formal request from the executors for the estate of 76-year-old Orville Wright, who died January 30 in Dayton, O.

The action is based on the terms of his will.

Prof. Herman Shaw, a director of the museum, told International News Service:

"The Kitty Hawk will be returned as soon as shipping arrangements are completed.

"A replica of the famous plane will be made without delay for the Kensington museum."

During the war years the historic two-winged plane had been hidden deep in a quarry for protection.

The plane originally was sent to the London Museum in 1928 after Orville Wright's dispute with the Smithsonian Institute of Washington.

The institute had claimed that Samuel P. Langley's steam-powered plane which flew briefly in 1896—without a pilot aboard—was the first successful plane.

Orville Wright contended that the Kitty Hawk plane which he and his brother, Wilbur, launched with himself at the controls December 17, 1903, on the sand dunes of North Carolina was the first really successful craft.

Actor Wally Berry Denies He Fathered Actress' Son

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13 (AP) — Beefy Wally Beery, screen bad man, was accused today of fathering the son of a 32-year-old bit player, Gloria Whitney.

The actor, admitting knowing the actress for 15 years, denied the charge.

Miss Whitney, suing under her real name, Gloria Schumm, alleged that Johan Richard Wallace Schumm was born last Saturday of an intimate rendezvous on or about last May 1.

She described Beery as "a prominent motion picture character actor of great wealth and affluence, possessed of moneys and properties in excess of $1,000,000."

Beery, who was at the Hall of Records on another matter when the suit was filed, told reporters wryly:

"I have known Miss Whitney for 15 years. She has just been a casual acquaintance. There is absolutely no truth to the charge. I don't know why she is doing this."

Miss Whitney listed his age as 63, but movie records show that Beery was born in Kansas City April 1, 1889, which would make him 58. He has appeared in some 400 films in a 36-year career.

He was married in 1916 to Gloria Swanson, silent screen star. They were divorced two years later. In 1939, he and the former Mary Areta Gilman were divorced, ending 14 years of marriage.

At her home, where she is still in bed, the attractive, brunette actress disclosed that she remarried her husband, Hans Schumm, last August when she discovered she was pregnant.

"Wallace knew about the baby," she told reporters, "but made no provisions for its support."

Forrestal mentioned the budget as a controversial topic. Often in the past, the services have been inclined to elbow each other in their drives for funds.

A Navy man, for example, will make a speech picturing the Navy as the vital part of the defense setup. This makes the Army and Air Forces angry, and they retaliate.

PHILADELPHIA TRANSIT STRIKE IS HEADED OFF

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13. (AP)—The executive board of Local 234, CIO Transport Workers Union, announced tonight it had ratified a 15-cent an hour across the board raise for its 11,000 member-employes of the Philadelphia Transportation Company.

The members will vote on the agreement by ballot tomorrow. They were to have voted tonight but only about 1,200 showed up at Town Hall after Mayor Bernard Samuel announced late in the afternoon that the two groups had reached an agreement to avert a strike set for midnight Sunday.

European Union 'Our Great Hope,' Marshall Asserts

Sees "Tragic" Result If Aid Is Inadequate

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 13 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall tonight described the formation of a Western European union as "our great hope."

A "stable and healthy Western Europe," Marshall said, would make Soviet leaders "much more inclined" to reach a settlement of problems that now divide Russia and the West.

Marshall's remarks were contained in an address for the National Farm Institute. Grounded by bad weather at Knoxville, Tenn., while en route here by plane, the Secretary arranged to read his speech by telephone from a radio station in Knoxville.

He unrservedly endorsed the Western European union proposals of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

And he declared that "halfhearted and inadequate" United States aid to Europe would have the "tragic" result of letting Western Europe, the Middle East and the entire Mediterranean area pass into the control of "the Soviet Union and their Communist allies."

To "meet the situation grudgingly," the Secretary declared, would be the same as doing nothing—and doing it "at great expense."

Marshall recalled saying when he returned from the latest London conference of foreign ministers that "there must be a decided change in the situation before we would have a basis for a genuine settlement with the Soviet Union."

"I meant," he said, "that if a stable and healthy Western Europe con be realized, the Soviet leaders, being supreme realists, would be much more inclined to reach a settlement on the terms of a peace treaty."

Marshall said the decision of 16 European countries to pool their recovery efforts—under what has become known as the "Marsrall plan"—was "a historical step of first importance towards the making of a peaceful world."

"And now," he said, "there is in progress a further decvelopment of this concert of free nations and one of great importance to the future of Europe."

Senators Aim At 5.3 Billions For First Year

Committee Agrees On 4-Year Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee agreed late today on a four-year European recovery program with the United States putting up $5,300,000,000 for the first 12 months.

President Truman had asked $6,800,000,000 for the first 15 months.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) said the cut—which averages $11,666,666 a month—was "a change in the timetable" rather than a net reduction.

Shortening the 15-month period, Vandenberg told a news conference, will give Congress a chance to make "a realistic review of the recovery program" at "the earliest possible moment" and then vote whatever additional funds it thinks necessary.

The committee wrote into its bill a section designed to keep exports to Europe from causing shortages in this country.

This section directs the administration of the aid program to consider these things when making purchases:

"The drain upon the resources of the United States.

"The impact of such procurement upon the domestic economy.

"The vital needs of the American people."

Vandenberg said he hopes for a committee vote on the bill as a whole next Tuesday, after a few details have been worked out. If all goes well, he said, it would be ready for Senate debate March 1.

Taft Urges Outright Cuts

Its fate there is uncertain. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and other leading Republicans have called for large outright cuts. Taft suggested a $2,000,000,000 slash.

Vandenberg said the bill authorizes the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to advance $1,000,000,000 to start the aid ball rolling as soon as the measure becomes law.

This means that funds wouldn't be held up while Congress debated separate appropriation bill.

Vandenberg said the bill authorizes appropriations through June 30, 1952, as the administration asked. Thus each Congress between now and that date can vote funds without going through the long drawnout procedure of passing an authorization bill like the present one.

Vandenberg also announced a compromise permitting the Marshall plan countries to charter 300 United States ships.

These would have to be dry-cargo ships—i.e., no tankers—and would have to be drawn from those not in current use by this country.

The administration wanted to sell the European countries 200 ships and charter 300 others. Maritime unions, the United States Maritime Commission and oher groups opposed this, however.

The Senate committee previously wrote these major points into its bill;

1—ERP would be run by a $20,-

Sen. Taft Blasts New Deal, Claims Title Of "Liberal"

GOP Candidate Flays Truman's Proposals

OMAHA, Feb. 13 (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) tonight claimed the title of "true liberal," a term he said New Dealers have no right to "appropriate."

The major political speech was given at a dinner attended by Nebraska Republicans. In a portion of his prepared manuscript which Taft did not repeat for the dinner audience, Taft declared:

"You and I may not think of ourselves as heroic. But if we remain firm in our purposes it is possible that the future will consider all of us heroes."

"We have still kept liberty alive in America. Liberty is not a flag. It is a whole way of life."

Truman's Proposals Assailed

Taft attacked as non-liberal President Truman's proposals for price-wage and rationing control, compulsory health insurance and universal military training.

Charging that the New Deal attempts to solve every national problem simply by creating a new government bureau, he declared in an address prepared for a Lincoln birthday dinner:

"No party which pursues that program can claim the term 'liberal.'"

Earlier grain and livestock men had heard the Ohioan condemn government regulations and, surprisingly, advocate a cut in the level of farm price supports.

Facing an issue that climbs in interest as commodity markets slump, the Ohioan called for a change in the system by which the government guarantees that some farm prices will not fall below fixed levels.

(It does this on a so-called "parity price" basis supposed to make the farmers' income equal to that of other workers).

90 Per Cent Called Too High

"I think that if there is to be such a support program it ought to be at a much less percentage of parity than 90 per cent, although at 90 per cent the government might undertake to interest itself actively in creating more of a market for the product," Taft told members of the Livestock Exchange in South Omaha.

As an example, Taft said be believes the government should help with the erection of industrial alcohol plants such as one located here.

Taft endorsed a proposed change which would base "parity" largely on national income, rather than other factors now used.

While the farmers and livestock men sat silent through his discussion of this point, they cheered his assertion that price control and rationing had proved a "complete failure."

New Mediation Region

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13—(AP)—The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service today set up a new georgraphical region with headquarters in Philadelphia and made John T. Daly, veteran conciliator, the regional director.

The new region, announced Director Cyrus S. Ching, will include Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

German Economic Administration Is Set Up By Russia

Action Further Step In Reich's Partition

BERLIN, Feb. 13 (AP) — Russia ordered a Soviet model of the British-American economic administration set up in Eastern Germany today.

The action was a further step in the partition of Germany between East and West. It marked a further departure from the unified four-zone economy promised by the Big Three at Potsdam in the summer of 1945.

Marshall Vassily Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, issued directions for formation of a 25-member German "economic commission" in the eastern zone. It closely parallels the German economic administration set up by the British and American Military Governments at Frankfurt for their combined zones.

Spurning repeated invitations to join in the administration and carry out the Potsdam program, Sokolovsky has likened the Frankfurt organization to a Western German state and demanded its dissolution. He has warned that its maintenance might break down all joint four-power machinery in Germany.

But when he announced his Soviet zone commission, Russian spokesmen declared it would not be an "East German government."

Der Abend, United States-licensed Berlin newspaper, said 17 of the 25 members would be named by the Russians and "there now exists the danger that the economic commission will bleed the Soviet zone white".

Der Abend said Russia already had taken "far more than the $10,000,000,000 in reparations demanded at Yalta."

Most political observers agreed the move will link Eastern Germany closer to the Soviet-dictated economy of Eastern Europe. Delegations from Poland and Czechoslovakia already are in Germany negotiating trade agreements with the eastern zone.

Marriage Of Oil Heir And Divorcee Climaxes "Cinderella" Romance

MR. AND MRS. WINTHROP ROCKEFELLER

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14—(Saturday)—(AP)—Tall and handsome Winthrop Rockefeller, heir to oil millions and one of America's most eligible young bachelors, took Barbara Sears, former actress and daughter of Lithuanian immigrants as his bride at 12:14 a. m. today.

The vows were spoken in a room decked with clusters of snapdragons, gladioli and tulips in the Lake Worth estate of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Guest, noted polo player and Palm Beach winter resident.

Rev. Winslow Drummond conducted the simple single ring Presbyterian ceremony which was attended only by the bride and bridegroom, Laurence Rockefeller, the bridegroom's brother who was best man; Isabel Paul, the bride's sister and maid of honor, and Mr. and Mrs. Guest.

Earlier in the evening, some 50 of Palm Beach's most noted winter residents, including the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Woolworth Donahue, Mr. Hudson Vanderbilt and Mrs. Gloria Baker Kelly, attended a reception in the Guest home.

Twister Kills At Least Five In Mississippi

High Water Makes Hundreds Homeless

[By The Associated Press]

A jumping twisting storm killed at least five persons yesterday in a southland where floods already had driven thousands of persons from their homes and threatened still greater disaster.

The tornado dealt havoc in at least six spots near Newton, Miss., just after noon. Over 30 homes were ripped apart and an airport was demolished. The storm, rising and falling in intensity, cut an intermittent path of destruction nearly four miles long and 100 yards wide.

The American Red Cross reported that flash floods were harrassing 6,000 persons in Tennessee, North Carolina, Kentucky, West Virginia and Mississippi. It said 400 families were temporarily homeless in Tenn. alone.

With still more rain predicted for today, the Red Cross said it was preparing for any emergency.

One fourth of Shelbyville, Tenn., a city of 8,000, was estimated to be under water from flooded Duck River. Water stood 10 to 15 feet deep in some streets. No deaths were reported but hundreds fled their homes before the rising waters.

The same Duck River rose to 48 feet, the highest since 1902, at Columbia, Tenn., where a power shortage was threatened. Two hundred families were evacuated in the Columbia and nearby Mt. Pleasant areas.

So critical was the flood threat in Tennessee that Adj. Gen. Hilton Butler alerted National Guard units to stand by for emergency duty.

West Virginia Hard Hit

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 13 (AP) — Flood waters were lapping in the streets of cities in all sections of West Virginia tonight while a steady rain continued with little promise of early recession.

At least 30 families were forced from their homes in Logan proper and were being housed in the armory. The Logan chapter of the American Red Cross said a representative was en route from Washington to direct relief for hundreds of homeless persons in the southwestern area.

Reports of floods in the southeast and central sections also began to pour in as the rain carried away deep layers of snow into swollen streams.

In Central West Virginia, there were 27 inches of water on Weston's main street and blocking United States Route 19 to Clarksburg. The Road Commission said traffic at a score or more different points throughout the state was blocked by high waters.

A fleet of rowboats was operating in Logan to rescue families marooned by the Guyandotte River which reached a crest of 22.4 feet at 11 p. m. The river normally is three feet.

Several mining communities in Logan, Mingo and Wayne Counties in the southwest were reported isolated. The Road Commission said the communities of Sod in Lincoln County and Pax in Fayette County in the same general area had been cut off.

The entire western border of West Virginia also was threatened by an overflow from the Ohio River which was inching toward flood level.

Dayton, O., Has Flood

CINCINNATI, Feb. 13. — (AP) — A hard winter rain and melted snow tonight drove 1,000 families from their homes in industrial Dayton to the north and presaged a 12-foot rise in the Ohio River.

Jutting ice floes passed Cincinnati without causing feared damage to harbor shipping.

The giant Frigidaire Corporation plant at Moraine City, near Dayton, closed down and water stood one foot deep in the administration building.

Four to seven feet of surface water stood around a housing project near Wright Field. Trucks and boats worked into the midnight hours evacuating 700 to 800 families.

England To Send Historic Wright Plane Back To U.S.

LONDON, Feb. 14 (Saturday) (INS)—The Wright Brothers' famous Kitty Hawk plane, the little box-like contraption which carried man in his first heavier-than air flight in 1903, will be returned to the United States shortly after a 20-year exile in England.

Directors of London's South Kensington Museum announced officially today their willingness to return the plane "at the earliest possible moment."

The announcement followed receipt of a formal request from the executors for the estate of 76-year-old Orville Wright, who died January 30 in Dayton, O.

The action is based on the terms of his will.

Prof. Herman Shaw, a director of the museum, told International News Service:

"The Kitty Hawk will be returned as soon as shipping arrangements are completed.

"A replica of the famous plane will be made without delay for the Kensington museum."

During the war years the historic two-winged plane had been hidden deep in a quarry for protection.

The plane originally was sent to the London Museum in 1928 after Orville Wright's dispute with the Smithsonian Institute of Washington.

The institute had claimed that Samuel P. Langley's steam-powered plane which flew briefly in 1896—without a pilot aboard—was the first successful plane.

Orville Wright contended that the Kitty Hawk plane which he and his brother, Wilbur, launched with himself at the controls December 17, 1903, on the sand dunes of North Carolina was the first really successful craft.

Actor Wally Berry Denies He Fathered Actress' Son

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13 (AP) — Beefy Wally Beery, screen bad man, was accused today of fathering the son of a 32-year-old bit player, Gloria Whitney.

The actor, admitting knowing the actress for 15 years, denied the charge.

Miss Whitney, suing under her real name, Gloria Schumm, alleged that Johan Richard Wallace Schumm was born last Saturday of an intimate rendezvous on or about last May 1.

She described Beery as "a prominent motion picture character actor of great wealth and affluence, possessed of moneys and properties in excess of $1,000,000."

Beery, who was at the Hall of Records on another matter when the suit was filed, told reporters wryly:

"I have known Miss Whitney for 15 years. She has just been a casual acquaintance. There is absolutely no truth to the charge. I don't know why she is doing this."

Miss Whitney listed his age as 63, but movie records show that Beery was born in Kansas City April 1, 1889, which would make him 58. He has appeared in some 400 films in a 36-year career.

He was married in 1916 to Gloria Swanson, silent screen star. They were divorced two years later. In 1939, he and the former Mary Areta Gilman were divorced, ending 14 years of marriage.

At her home, where she is still in bed, the attractive, brunette actress disclosed that she remarried her husband, Hans Schumm, last August when she discovered she was pregnant.

"Wallace knew about the baby," she told reporters, "but made no provisions for its support."

China Reds Admit Seizing Marines

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13 (AP) — The Chinese Communists acknowledged today that they had captured five United States marines, who disappeared Christmas Day north of Tsingtao, and that one had died of wounds.

This confirmed a report by the Chinese government commandant at Tsingtao shortly after the Americans vanished. United States naval authorities last Monday said they still had no news of the men.

The five enlisted men were on a hunting trip in a jeep when they strayed into territory then occupied by the Communists.

The Communist radio, however, charged that they were participating in the civil war on the government side.

The broadcast, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, said the Communists had "lodged a strong protest with the American Navy in China, demanding that it apologize and guarantee no recurrence of such actions, otherwise the American troops and the United States government will bear full responsibility for the consequences resulting from such action."

The broadcast promised that "if the American naval authorities accept these justified demands, the peoples liberation army will treat the captured American marines with clemency in accordance with the spirit of friendship between the Chipese and American peoples."

The dead marine was named as "Private First Class Blayton." The only others named in the broadcast were "Privates Dickenson and Hart."

Vandenberg, Promised Woman's Vote, Protests

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) got a promise of one vote for President tonight and promptly protested.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was answering questions of two score reporters about the European aid plan when Ruth Montgomery, reporter for the New York Daily News, started to leave.

"Where you going?" Vandenberg asked.

The reporter explained she had to meet a deadline, but sat down again. Vandenberg assured her she had most of the data and could leave.

"I'm going to vote for you for President," the departing Mrs. Montgomery shouted backward.

"That's the meanest thing you ever said to me," Vandenberg replied as reporters laughed.

Agencies Start Probing Vets' Housing Complaints

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13. (AP)—Federal, state and municipal agencies today started investigating complaints by war veterans of irregularities in construction of their new houses.

Philip Yeager, special assistant to the United States Attorney General, arrived to co-ordinate the federal probe. After a three-hour conference with United States Attorney Bernard J. Flynn, Yeager said the Federal Bureau of Investigation will handle the study.

At the same time, the Baltimore Grand Jury was instructed to inquire into the complaints which have been piling up for months, and the Maryland American Legion announced it would make a study throughout the state of housing problems.

Baltimore Cop's Slayer Is Sought

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13 (AP)—Baltimore's entire force of 75 detectives tonight hunted the slayer of Patrolman Joseph D. Benedict, 39, who was shot down today by a taxicab bandit.

Benedict, father of three, was shot by the passenger in a taxicab he had halted to ask, "Is everything all right?"

Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson said he had ordered the entire detective bureau to seek a 24-year-old, sandy-haired slayer wearing a long tan topcoat.

Foot patrolmen were also ordered to canvass all public places for possible clues.

The A. S. Abell Company, publishers of the Baltimore Sunpapers, announced they "will pay a reward of $1,000 to the person or persons responsible for the apprehension of the gunman who shot and killed Patrolman Joseph Benedict early today."

Benedict went down without drawing his gun in a tight space between the taxicab and his prowl car, which had drawn up alongside.

He was felled by a single bullet which pierced his chest two inches below his badge.

Groom, Bride Who Was Carried Off By Another Still Want Each Other

BLACKSHEAR, Ga., Feb. 13. (AP)—Doniver Teston and Sittie, his 14-year-old bride who was carried away by another man 15 minutes after her wedding, said today they still wanted each other.

But Doniver's mother frowned on a reconciliation. When a photographer asked the bride and groom to pose together, Mrs. Teston announced "it's all over now and I don't see no use starting it up again."

Doniver spent last night at his farm home. Sittie, who returned last night, worn and disheveled after a six-day ride about the state with the other man, stayed with her mother on their farm.

Before going to their respective homes, the couple was together for several hours. Both Doniver and Sittie said today they had agreed to live together.

Doniver apparently had forgotten his charges in an annulment suit three days ago. In it he charged Sittie conspired with James Davis, 22, the man who carried her away last Friday, to get him into a "sham" wedding to prolong an "illicit love affair" between the bride and Davis.

Doniver said today he hadn't made any charges. They are on file in affidavit form in the Superior Court of Bacon County where the couple was married. Homer Causey, attorney who filed them for Doniver, said he didn't know what course they would take now that the bride had returned.

Sheriff L. L. Taylor said he had a kidnaping warrant for Davis, who is still missing.

Reece Rates Controls Worse Than High Prices

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 13 (AP)—Chairman Reece, of the Republican National Committee, rates government controls as far worse than high prices.

Urging a Lincoln Day rally to resist "every impairment of human freedom," Reece said in a prepared address tonight:

"I would rather pay a high price for butter today, knowing well it is but a temporary condition due to causes beyond human control, than to submit to further regulation involving another invasion of my freedom x x x."

"I say to you that every impairment of human freedom must be resisted, even if it seems to give some temporary benefit," he said.

Eastern Areas To Get Additional Fuel Oil

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—(AP)—The Petroleum Regional Advisory Council announced today that additional fuel will be supplied at once in Maryland, Delaware, the Philadelphia area and Washington, D. C.

"These additional supplies will result from voluntary industry efforts to increase the yields of light fuel oils and because of an easing of transportation," the council announced.

Two Jockeys Injured In Spill At Hialeah

HIALEAH, Fla., Feb. 13 (AP) — Harold Featherston and Richard Kline, both promising apprentice riders, suffered serious injuries in a spectacular mixup early in today's second race.

Physicians' hasty examination brought the report that Featherston had a fractured lower right arm, fractured back and possible paralysis. Kline suffered a badly fractured upper right leg. Both boys were rushed to a hospital (Jackson Memorial) in Miami.

Fire Sweeps Detroit Spring Company Plant

DETROIT, Feb. 13—(AP)—A spectacular fire swept the main plant of the L. A. Young Spring and Wire Corporation today, causing damage estimated at more than $1,000,000.

The blaze, reported to have started in a drying oven, raced through the paint department and main offices, enveloping a large portion of the big L-shaped factory.

Neil Ely, vice president and general manager, said damage was "well over $1,000,000." Three bake ovens destroyed in the blaze were valued at more than $500,000.

After an inspection the company, a chief supplier of auto cushion springs, announced its production would not be interrupted as had been feared earlier.

"Bo" Offered Pro Job

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 13. (AP)—Alvin N. (Bo) McMillin indicated today he had been offered a job as coach of the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, but he doesn't know yet what he is going to do about it.

The gray-thatched athletic director and head football coach at Indiana University hasn't even talked with I. U. authorities about leaving, he said, because he hasn't made up his mind that he wants to leave.

Ex-State Delegate Dies

CENTERVILLE, Md., Feb. 13—(AP)—Former State Delegate Mordecai M. Price, 77, died today on his 400-acre farm near Wye Mills south of here. Price, an Eastern Shore Democrat, served as a delegate to the Maryland General Assembly from 1939 to 1942.

3—The administrator could stop the flow of United States help at any time that "changed conditions" made it advisable—if, for example, any of the countries on the receiving end should go Communist.

Before today's announcement, the State Department withdrew its earlier objection to the holding of a conference by the "Marshall plan" countries.

Market Slump

Big Chains Accussed

Some independent grocers are accusing the big food chains of just that.

They call it capitalizing on the advertising value of cutting retail prices, whether justified or not by wholesale quotations.

When headlines scream that commodity prices are plunging on the exchanges, consumers demand that retail prices go down pronto. Smart store managers cut their prices, although the stocks had been bought at old, high wholesale levels. Grateful shoppers, the theory goes, will keep on buying at that store after the price war cools down.

But the consumer didn't play as passive a role as that theory implies.

Many in the food industry agree that with each boost in food prices another income group was dropped from the list of steady customers to become once-or-twice-a-week customers.

China Reds Admit Seizing Marines

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13 (AP) — The Chinese Communists acknowledged today that they had captured five United States marines, who disappeared Christmas Day north of Tsingtao, and that one had died of wounds.

This confirmed a report by the Chinese government commandant at Tsingtao shortly after the Americans vanished. United States naval authorities last Monday said they still had no news of the men.

The five enlisted men were on a hunting trip in a jeep when they strayed into territory then occupied by the Communists.

The Communist radio, however, charged that they were participating in the civil war on the government side.

The broadcast, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, said the Communists had "lodged a strong protest with the American Navy in China, demanding that it apologize and guarantee no recurrence of such actions, otherwise the American troops and the United States government will bear full responsibility for the consequences resulting from such action."

The broadcast promised that "if the American naval authorities accept these justified demands, the peoples liberation army will treat the captured American marines with clemency in accordance with the spirit of friendship between the Chipese and American peoples."

The dead marine was named as "Private First Class Blayton." The only others named in the broadcast were "Privates Dickenson and Hart."

Marine Corps headquarters in Washington on January 9 listed the missing men as Pfc. Charles J. Brayton, Jr., formerly of Fort Jay, Governor's Island, N. Y., Pfc. Carrol W. Vandenberg, Promised Woman's Vote, Protests

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) got a promise of one vote for President tonight and promptly protested.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was answering questions of two score reporters about the European aid plan when Ruth Montgomery, reporter for the New York Daily News, started to leave.

"Where you going?" Vandenberg asked.

The reporter explained she had to meet a deadline, but sat down again. Vandenberg assured her she had most of the data and could leave.

"I'm going to vote for you for President," the departing Mrs. Montgomery shouted backward.

"That's the meanest thing you ever said to me," Vandenberg replied as reporters laughed.

Agencies Start Probing Vets' Housing Complaints

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13. (AP)—Federal, state and municipal agencies today started investigating complaints by war veterans of irregularities in construction of their new houses.

Philip Yeager, special assistant to the United States Attorney General, arrived to co-ordinate the federal probe. After a three-hour conference with United States Attorney Bernard J. Flynn, Yeager said the Federal Bureau of Investigation will handle the study.

At the same time, the Baltimore Grand Jury was instructed to inquire into the complaints which have been piling up for months, and the Maryland American Legion announced it would make a study throughout the state of housing problems.

Baltimore Cop's Slayer Is Sought

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13 (AP)—Baltimore's entire force of 75 detectives tonight hunted the slayer of Patrolman Joseph D. Benedict, 39, who was shot down today by a taxicab bandit.

Benedict, father of three, was shot by the passenger in a taxicab he had halted to ask, "Is everything all right?"

Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson said he had ordered the entire detective bureau to seek a 24-year-old, sandy-haired slayer wearing a long tan topcoat.

Foot patrolmen were also ordered to canvass all public places for possible clues.

The A. S. Abell Company, publishers of the Baltimore Sunpapers, announced they "will pay a reward of $1,000 to the person or persons responsible for the apprehension of the gunman who shot and killed Patrolman Joseph Benedict early today."

Benedict went down without drawing his gun in a tight space between the taxicab and his prowl car, which had drawn up alongside.

He was felled by a single bullet which pierced his chest two inches below his badge.

Groom, Bride Who Was Carried Off By Another Still Want Each Other

BLACKSHEAR, Ga., Feb. 13. (AP)—Doniver Teston and Sittie, his 14-year-old bride who was carried away by another man 15 minutes after her wedding, said today they still wanted each other.

But Doniver's mother frowned on a reconciliation. When a photographer asked the bride and groom to pose together, Mrs. Teston announced "it's all over now and I don't see no use starting it up again."

Doniver spent last night at his farm home. Sittie, who returned last night, worn and disheveled after a six-day ride about the state with the other man, stayed with her mother on their farm.

Before going to their respective homes, the couple was together for several hours. Both Doniver and Sittie said today they had agreed to live together.

Doniver apparently had forgotten his charges in an annulment suit three days ago. In it he charged Sittie conspired with James Davis, 22, the man who carried her away last Friday, to get him into a "sham" wedding to prolong an "illicit love affair" between the bride and Davis.

Doniver said today he hadn't made any charges. They are on file in affidavit form in the Superior Court of Bacon County where the couple was married. Homer Causey, attorney who filed them for Doniver, said he didn't know what course they would take now that the bride had returned.

Sheriff L. L. Taylor said he had a kidnaping warrant for Davis, who is still missing.

Reece Rates Controls Worse Than High Prices

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 13 (AP)—Chairman Reece, of the Republican National Committee, rates government controls as far worse than high prices.

Urging a Lincoln Day rally to resist "every impairment of human freedom," Reece said in a prepared address tonight:

"I would rather pay a high price for butter today, knowing well it is but a temporary condition due to causes beyond human control, than to submit to further regulation involving another invasion of my freedom x x x."

"I say to you that every impairment of human freedom must be resisted, even if it seems to give some temporary benefit," he said.

Eastern Areas To Get Additional Fuel Oil

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—(AP)—The Petroleum Regional Advisory Council announced today that additional fuel will be supplied at once in Maryland, Delaware, the Philadelphia area and Washington, D. C.

"These additional supplies will result from voluntary industry efforts to increase the yields of light fuel oils and because of an easing of transportation," the council announced.

Two Jockeys Injured In Spill At Hialeah

HIALEAH, Fla., Feb. 13 (AP) — Harold Featherston and Richard Kline, both promising apprentice riders, suffered serious injuries in a spectacular mixup early in today's second race.

Physicians' hasty examination brought the report that Featherston had a fractured lower right arm, fractured back and possible paralysis. Kline suffered a badly fractured upper right leg. Both boys were rushed to a hospital (Jackson Memorial) in Miami.

There was a Cinderella flavor to the romance which brought Rockefeller, 35-year-old heir to the fabulous fortune built up by his grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and his vivacious blonde bride to their Valentine's Day wedding.

The new Mrs. Rockefeller started life as the daughter of Lithuanian immigrants and once lived in the "Back of the Yards" neighborhood in Chicago.

Fire Sweeps Detroit Spring Company Plant

DETROIT, Feb. 13—(AP)—A spectacular fire swept the main plant of the L. A. Young Spring and Wire Corporation today, causing damage estimated at more than $1,000,000.

The blaze, reported to have started in a drying oven, raced through the paint department and main offices, enveloping a large portion of the big L-shaped factory.

Neil Ely, vice president and general manager, said damage was "well over $1,000,000." Three bake ovens destroyed in the blaze were valued at more than $500,000.

After an inspection the company, a chief supplier of auto cushion springs, announced its production would not be interrupted as had been feared earlier.

"Bo" Offered Pro Job

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 13. (AP)—Alvin N. (Bo) McMillin indicated today he had been offered a job as coach of the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, but he doesn't know yet what he is going to do about it.

The gray-thatched athletic director and head football coach at Indiana University hasn't even talked with I. U. authorities about leaving, he said, because he hasn't made up his mind that he wants to leave.

Ex-State Delegate Dies

Senators Aim

000-a-year, cabinet-rank administrator outside the State Department. The President would umpire any disputes between the administrator and the Secretary or State. A bi-partisan board and a joint congressional committee would keep an eye on the setup.

2—Countries getting United States help would required to do everything in their power to help themselves and help each other. Otherwise American assistance would be shut off.

3—The administrator could stop the flow of United States help at any time that "changed conditions" made it advisable—if, for example, any of the countries on the receiving end should go Communist.

Before today's announcement, the State Department withdrew its earlier objection to the holding of a conference by the "Marshall plan" countries.

Market Slump

Big Chains Accussed

Some independent grocers are accusing the big food chains of just that.

They call it capitalizing on the advertising value of cutting retail prices, whether justified or not by wholesale quotations.

When headlines scream that commodity prices are plunging on the exchanges, consumers demand that retail prices go down pronto. Smart store managers cut their prices, although the stocks had been bought at old, high wholesale levels. Grateful shoppers, the theory goes, will keep on buying at that store after the price war cools down.

But the consumer didn't play as passive a role as that theory implies.

Many in the food industry agree that with each boost in food prices another income group was dropped from the list of steady customers to become once-or-twice-a-week customers.

Improvements Are To Be Made To Garrett County Road System

Work Depends On Free Rights-Of-Way

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND — A number of improvements to the county road system were agreed upon by the County Commissioners and county roads engineer at a meeting this week, it was announced.

The new construction includes five projects of one mile each, and the priority of these was listed as follows:

No. 1, one mile, Little Crossings-New Germany Road; No. 2, one mile, Bethlehem, from Euzzard Road; No 3, one mile, Mayhew Inn-Swallow Falls Road; No. 4, one mile, Accident-Bittinger Road; No. 5, one mile, Sunnyside, to Route 50 road.

Construction of the above roads will depend upon the public granting the County Roads Department 40-foot rights of way, without cost according to Roads Engineer W. W. DeWitt. The same will apply to the reconstruction program of 11.3 miles which includes 10 propects and which are listed as follows:

No. 1, one mile, Bechman to Underwood Church; No. 2, two miles, Oakland Sang Run Road; No. 3, one mile, South end of Mason School Road; No. 4, one and a half miles, Dorsey Hotel Road; No. 6, one mile, Boiling Spring-Buzzard Road, No. 7, one mile, Kings Run-Broadford Road; No. 8, one mile, Silver Knob Road; No. 9, one mile, Cranesville Road; No. 10, eight-tenths mile, Jim Paugh Road.

Jurors Are Named

Grand and petit jurors for the March term of Garrett County Circuit Court were named Thursday morning by Chief Judge William A. Huster, in the presence or Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit Court, and attorneys.

The grand jury will convene Monday morning, March 8, at 10 o'clock. S. Townshend Naylor, Oakland, was named foreman of the grand jury. Others named were Charles O. Keller, John R. Moon, Edward G. Baker, Glen Barton, S. S. Bender, Forrest L. Mason, Richard L. Howard, Dorsey Ashby, John A. Merrill, James E. Barrick, Heywood Custer, Howard A. Marshall, George P. Fitzwater, Ralph R. Fike, Frank L. Blamble, Victor Clyde Miner, A. Leo Helbig, Aubrey R. Custer, Edward F. Harvey, Lester Bittinger, Hayward F. Broadwater, and William P. Bennett.

The petit jurors will be called for duty Monday morning, March 22, at 9 o'clock.

The 25 petit jurors selected include Joseph F. Turney, James E. White, Carl H. Richter, Joseph Hinebaugh, Claude F. Friend, Ralph E. Kissner, Nelson Brenneman, William H. Bowser, Roy Gibbs, George T. Upole, Reverde W. Beckman, Luther Keller.

Roy S. Umbel, Fred Richter, Harmon Rolf, W. M. Friend, S. A. Rodeheaver, Harry C. Edwards, Earl E. Opel, Norris K. Welch, Boyd Sanders, Jr., Ray E. Mosser, Lloyd Brenneman, Carson B. Groves and Henry M. Speicher.

Red Cross Drive Starts Soon

Announcement that the annual Red Cross campaign for funds would get underway March 1 was made this week by Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, roll call fund chairman.

Mrs. Naylor said the drive would be carried on as in former years with teachers of the county assisting in the soliciting of funds. Community chairmen and their workers are to be named soon.

The quota set by national headquarters for the county is $2,100.

Substitute Librarian Named

Mrs. Veronica Rasche Robertson was named Wednesday as substitute librarian to fill temporarily the position made vacant by the resignation of Miss Eleanor Ray, it was announced by the Library Board committee. Miss Ray's resignation becomes effective Saturday.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Friend, Accident, announce the marriage of their eldest daughter, Lenora Irene Friend, to Perry Keith Steiding, on Friday, February 6.

Mr. Steiding is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Steiding, Piedmont, W. Va., and grandson of John W. Herman, former county commissioner, of near Accident, where Mr. Steiding resides.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Johns at Accident. Sam and Ann Johns served as ring bearers.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Accident High School, class of 1946. Since that time Miss Friend has been employed at the William-James Hotel, Oakland. Mr. Steiding is a farmer and recently was selected as the farmer in the state making the most progress in the use of soil conservation, in a contest conducted by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Margaret Wagner Is Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Wagner, McHenry, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ellen, to George G. Edgar, of the same community. Mr. Edgar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edgar, Deep Creek Lake.

The bride was graduated from Accident High School with the class of 1946. She attended State Teachers College, Frostburg, for one year following her graduation.

She had as her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Everett Platt.

The groom served in the 502nd Anti-Aircraft unit of the Army and saw action in the Southern Pacific during the last war. He had as his best man his brother, Lester Edgar.

The wedding was solemnized Sunday, February 8, by Rev. George H. Coker, pastor of the Deep Creek Baptist Church, with only the bridal couple and attendants present in the pastor's home.

The couple will make their home temporarily in the vicinity of Washington, D. C.

Local Pastor To Speak At Wallace Convention

Rev. Richard H. Bready, pastor of Union Grove Methodist Circuit, will give the invocation at the founding convention of a new political party to place Henry A. Wallace on the ballot, to be held tomorrow at the 104th Medical Regiment Armory, Baltimore.

Rev. Mr. Bready said each of the 50 to 75 delegates expected from Allegany County will represent at least 10 persons and added most of the delegates are persons who organized "Wallace for President" committees. He termed the movement here a "grass roots" affair and said no caucus will be held prior to the convention.

A final decision on Congressional candidates will be made at the meeting officials said.

City Seeks Pool Improvement Bids

If bids the Mayor and City Council plan to ask for March 8 are within reason the municipal swimming pool at Constitution Park may be equipped with a recirculating, filtering and sterilizing system before the summer season opens.

Commissioner Myers G. Light, who has been critical of the sanitary condition of the pool for a number of years, said yesterday bids will be received by the Mayor and Council March 8 for the proposed improvements.

Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, said general specifications for the project have been prepared by his office listing minimum specifications that must be met.

The pool was opened eight years ago but the circulating system was not included because of the cost.

Agent Gets Award

Irwin S. Lowery, Ellerslie, was awarded a 25-year pin by the Continental Insurance Company, a member of the American Fire Insurance and Indemnity Group, for his service with the company. The award was made by P. J. Hess, field man for the company.

Approximately a quarter-million workers are employed in making yarns and fabrics in the United States.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Bad Reputations Usually Deserved, Often-Jilted Duo Is Advised

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

We are two fellows, soon to be 19 and 20. My buddy just got back from overseas and has been jilted three nights in a row by three different girls, and he felt so low that he was ready to enlist again.

With me, I know more girls than I can handle, and am always fixing my buddies up. But the girls we used to go with told all the other girls that we have bad reputations. I know we haven't done anything fiendish, but the girls expect us to be angels, and are ruining our chances.

What should we do? Can anything be done about our old girl friends?

"WHITEY"

Dear "Whitey":

If you and your buddies gave these "old girl friends" of yours reason to feel as they did, you have nobody but yourselves to blame for the fact that they have given you bad reputations. It probably isn't "angels" that the girls expect you to be, but merely gentlemen.

Nobody gets a bad reputation undeservedly. Your letter makes me believe that you had better do some work on yourselves if you want to be accepted as friends by nice girls.

Calling Norwegian War Brides

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a Norwegian war bride and have been in this country for a little over a year. I like it very much, and everybody I've met is so nice to me. But I still get lonesome for my old country and wish I had some of my own kind to talk with.

I am hoping that maybe you could help me get in touch with some other Norwegian war brides. I know that you, as a rule, do not put readers of your column in touch with each other, but I feel I must write you and maybe you can help me somehow.

A YOUNG NORWEGIAN WAR BRIDE

Dear "Norwegian War Bride":

You are right. In general, it is the policy of this column not to introduce readers to each other. However, your type of situation is a little different, and so I am glad to print your letter and hope that by this means we may find you some friends of your own nationality.

It is nice to know that you like your new home. But it is also quite understandable that you should feel lonesome occasionally for friends who are from your own country. I am sure there must be others who feel the same way you do, and perhaps this will help bring you together.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Johns at Accident. Sam and Ann Johns served as ring bearers.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Accident High School, class of 1946. Since that time Miss Friend has been employed at the William-James Hotel, Oakland. Mr. Steiding is a farmer and recently was selected as the farmer in the state making the most progress in the use of soil conservation, in a contest conducted by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Margaret Wagner Is Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Wagner, McHenry, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ellen, to George G. Edgar, of the same community. Mr. Edgar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edgar, Deep Creek Lake.

The bride was graduated from Accident High School with the class of 1946. She attended State Teachers College, Frostburg, for one year following her graduation.

She had as her matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Everett Platt.

The groom served in the 502nd Anti-Aircraft unit of the Army and saw action in the Southern Pacific during the last war. He had as his best man his brother, Lester Edgar.

The wedding was solemnized Sunday, February 8, by Rev. George H. Coker, pastor of the Deep Creek Baptist Church, with only the bridal couple and attendants present in the pastor's home.

The couple will make their home temporarily in the vicinity of Washington, D. C.

Local Pastor To Speak At Wallace Convention

Rev. Richard H. Bready, pastor of Union Grove Methodist Circuit, will give the invocation at the founding convention of a new political party to place Henry A. Wallace on the ballot, to be held tomorrow at the 104th Medical Regiment Armory, Baltimore.

Rev. Mr. Bready said each of the 50 to 75 delegates expected from Allegany County will represent at least 10 persons and added most of the delegates are persons who organized "Wallace for President" committees. He termed the movement here a "grass roots" affair and said no caucus will be held prior to the convention.

A final decision on Congressional candidates will be made at the meeting officials said.

City Seeks Pool Improvement Bids

If bids the Mayor and City Council plan to ask for March 8 are within reason the municipal swimming pool at Constitution Park may be equipped with a recirculating, filtering and sterilizing system before the summer season opens.

Commissioner Myers G. Light, who has been critical of the sanitary condition of the pool for a number of years, said yesterday bids will be received by the Mayor and Council March 8 for the proposed improvements.

Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, said general specifications for the project have been prepared by his office listing minimum specifications that must be met.

The pool was opened eight years ago but the circulating system was not included because of the cost.

Agent Gets Award

Irwin S. Lowery, Ellerslie, was awarded a 25-year pin by the Continental Insurance Company, a member of the American Fire Insurance and Indemnity Group, for his service with the company. The award was made by P. J. Hess, field man for the company.

Approximately a quarter-million workers are employed in making yarns and fabrics in the United States.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Bad Reputations Usually Deserved, Often-Jilted Duo Is Advised

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

We are two fellows, soon to be 19 and 20. My buddy just got back from overseas and has been jilted three nights in a row by three different girls, and he felt so low that he was ready to enlist again.

With me, I know more girls than I can handle, and am always fixing my buddies up. But the girls we used to go with told all the other girls that we have bad reputations. I know we haven't done anything fiendish, but the girls expect us to be angels, and are ruining our chances.

What should we do? Can anything be done about our old girl friends?

"WHITEY"

Dear "Whitey":

If you and your buddies gave these "old girl friends" of yours reason to feel as they did, you have nobody but yourselves to blame for the fact that they have given you bad reputations. It probably isn't "angels" that the girls expect you to be, but merely gentlemen.

Nobody gets a bad reputation undeservedly. Your letter makes me believe that you had better do some work on yourselves if you want to be accepted as friends by nice girls.

Calling Norwegian War Brides

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a Norwegian war bride and have been in this country for a little over a year. I like it very much, and everybody I've met is so nice to me. But I still get lonesome for my old country and wish I had some of my own kind to talk with.

I am hoping that maybe you could help me get in touch with some other Norwegian war brides. I know that you, as a rule, do not put readers of your column in touch with each other, but I feel I must write you and maybe you can help me somehow.

A YOUNG NORWEGIAN WAR BRIDE

Dear "Norwegian War Bride":

You are right. In general, it is the policy of this column not to introduce readers to each other. However, your type of situation is a little different, and so I am glad to print your letter and hope that by this means we may find you some friends of your own nationality.

It is nice to know that you like your new home. But it is also quite understandable that you should feel lonesome occasionally for friends who are from your own country. I am sure there must be others who feel the same way you do, and perhaps this will help bring you together.

Court Test Of Labor Law Clause Is Welcomed

The indictment secured by the Department of Justice from a federal grand jury against Philip Murray, charging the CIO leader with violating a portion of the Taft-Hartley labor bill, paves the way for a court test of the clause bearing on contributions to campaign expenditures and freedom of the press.

The charge springs from a Maryland congressional contest as a result of the Congress of Industrial Organizations endorsing in "The C. I. O. News" the candidacy of Edward Garmatz, a Democratic candidate for Congress. He won. It is charged that this endorsement was intentional in order to invite court action. Six months ago an American Federation of Labor chapter in Connecticut sought to challenge the same provision by entering upon a campaign of newspaper advertising to defeat Senator Taft, of Ohio, and members of Congress from Connecticut who voted for the Taft-Hartley bill.

But nothing came of the alleged violation or defiance of the law until Mr. Murray inserted an editorial in the CIO News endorsing the candidate in Maryland. It probably was considered a more direct violation of the weakest link in the law than the Connecticut campaign, for it is contended that while labor dislikes the Taft-Hartley law in general, there are portions with which union members are in accord. To have invited a court test on those clauses might have brought down the wrath of workers on the heads of their leaders.

There are grounds for the belief that the provision which has been defied by labor needs clarification, and we are in agreement with Senator Taft, co-author of the measure, that it is deserving of court interpretation. The Ohio senator, like those who supported the bill, merely sought to prevent direct contributions to campaign expenditures, not only by labor organizations but by corporations as well. It is certain they had no intention of gagging either labor newspapers or publications of general circulation, which, of course, is unconstitutional. So, we, like Mr. Murray, welcome the clarification of the clause the court proceedings are expected to provide.

It is asserted radio announcing has added 2,000 new words to the language. Possibly the announcers' pronunciations only make it seem that way.

Comes Valentine's Day With Messages Of Love

Deflation has not yet set in in the local Valentine market, especially as to quotations on comic valentines. There was a time when a kid could insult his teacher, the cop on the corner and the crabby lady living next door all for a cent apiece. But not any more. A survey of valentine venders reveals that comic valentines are selling for as high as a nickel each.

And the real fancy kind, the valentines with lace and hearts and cupid which lovers, sweethearts—and even some married folks—send each other sold for as high as a dollar. According to one Cumberland youth who was overheard at a counter yesterday, that's too much.

"A buck is a lot of dough to shell out for a valentine just to tell a girl you love her," he complained. "Way too much." Well, that's inflation for you.

But the price did not prevent those who enjoy such occasions as today—Valentine Day—from observing it to the full extent of their pocketbooks. And the one person who realized this fact is the mail carrier who has found his shoulder pouch increasingly heavier the past few days. And little wonder when one considers valentines by the millions flood Uncle Sam's postoffice yearly. It is disclosed that the Chicago post office alone accepted 1,250,000, and 750,000 were handled by the Philadelphia postoffice. Letter mail cancellations at the Cumberland postoffice jumped 10,000 when the mailing of valentines got underway a day or so ago. The volume increased to such proportions by this morning that substitute carriers were required to work longer hours to deliver their increased loads of love messages.

And who started all this valentine sending which has been going on for hundreds of years. Well, the whole thing started, according to the reference books, during the Roman Feast of Lupercalia, celebrated in the memory of Juno. The young Roman bobby-sox crowd would gathr around a big urn and draw out tablets with names on them.

Each tablet was the name of a girl, and the lucky fellow drawing her name was supposed to be her boy friend for a whole year. This festival was held near the anniversary of St. Valentine's death, and it was finally merged with St. Valentine's Day until it became the practice of choosing sweethearts on this special occasion.

Perhaps clerks should have explained this to young fellows buying dollar valentines.

A fashion authority says it is not true grandmother had more clothes than the modern girl. She just put on more at one time.

"Freedom Gardens" To Aid Humanity Being Urged

Seed catalogues are arriving by every mail, packets of seeds are already being displayed in stores, and the gardener of 1948 is busy scanning the colorful booklets, with an eye on descriptions of vegetable seed, particularly the newer creations in the hope that these might be the answer to his failure with this or that crop by past experiences during the war and immediately after peace was declared.

Why are vegetable seeds attracting more attention this year? Well, it is because an additional way to aid Europe's hungry is being promoted by the National Garden Conference. It is urging Americans to plant 20,000,000 "freedom gardens" to free other food for shipment abroad.

The average gardener, and even those who have yet to try their hand at growing vegetables, and who has a little space in his garden, needs only a good reason to take up the spade. The plan of the National Garden Conference will, we believe, meet with less opposition than any plan of its kind yet proposed.

There are those who will feel that, from a money standpoint, it isn't worth while, but give them a cause, be it war or the appeal of humanity, and he will be found in his plot turning over the earth in preparation for this all-important gardening undertaking.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Dry, Scaly Skin

Ichtyosis is a peculiar disorder in which the skin is exceedingly dry and scaly. The malady is not common and some individuals are disturbed more than others. The victim is either born with the condition or it appears within a few weeks or a year after birth.

Dr. Van Dellen

The character of the lesions depends upon the severity and extent of the disease. In its mildest form the affected areas are limited to the outer surfaces of the limbs which exhibit regions of dryness and branlike scales. When more pronounced, the face and the remainder of the body are usually involved; the lesions varrying from an exaggerated goose-flesh to fishlike scales, which explains why the malady is sometimes called "fish skin disease."

Sometimes the scales are shiny and translucent others assume a brownish-gray or green-black hue similar to those found on snakes. In rare cases the epidermis is covered with heavy, hardened plates so thickened and irregular that the term "crocodile skin" is used. The surface almost resembles a rasp because it is so harsh to the touch.

When the parts over the joints, such as elbows and knees are affected, deep furrows develop as the skin cracks through bending. Occasionally the nails become harsh and brittle; the hair may be dry and the scalp covered with dandruff. Secretions from the oil and sweat glands are practically nil. Itching is variable but otherwise ichthyosis it not distressing except from a cosmetic standpoint.

As a rule, the disturbance becomes worse until a certain stage of development is reached and from then on remains stationary. It is generally more severe during the winter and better in summer. In a few instances it actually clears up during the warm weather.

There has never been any dearth of treatment but none of the remedies has ever proved curative. Dryness can be relieved with oily and greasy substances and the victims feel better if they minimize bathing with water and ordinary soap. Some improve be remaining in a warm climate. A more recent treatment includes the use of large amounts of vitamin A. Bile salts and neostigmine are added to facilitate absorption of the vitamin. Furthermore, the areas over which sweating occurs are less likely to suffer. This suggested that salt might be used to good advantage. A salve containing the chemical, along with salt baths, is now being advocated and good results have been reported.

HEEL HEIGHT

G. W. writes: I bought a pair of flat heeled shoes but after wearing them for a few hours my calves ache. Will I get used to them in time?

Reply

Yes. With low heels, the tendon of Achilles (in the heel) is stretched and this creates tension on the calf muscles.

Organic Disturbance

G. A. writes: Does organic disease of the nervous system mean insanity or something like paralysis?

REPLY

Paralysis is closer to the true answer. Organic disease refers to conditions in which a definite lesion exists such as swelling, inflammation, tumor, injury, or degeneration. This is in contrast to a function disturbance in which no abnormality can be found to account for symptoms.

Bad Knee

Mrs. W. writes: When my husband was a child he fell on his right knee, which bothered him for years. Recently it has started troubling him again, especially first thing in the morning or when he sits too long. Could this be a turned cartilage?

REPLY

This is a possibility but arthritis and other knee defects must be considered. The earlier injury may be coincidental because most active children fall on the knees almost every day. Nevertheless, real damage to these "hinges" predispose to arthritis later in life.

Lung Disorders

G. writes: Is there any positive way to determine whether a person has tuberculosis or bronchiectasis?

REPLY

Yes, but then the disorders coexist, it is sometimes difficult to diagnosis bronchiectasis because lipiodol is needed. This drug contains an iodide, which has an adverse effect on tuberculosis. Furthermore, when the two disorders are present, the physician is content to treat the tuberculosis first, disregarding the bronchial disturbance for the time being.

"I"

C. V. writes: What is the medical meaning of the word "ego?"

Reply

Dorland's dictionary gives the following definition:

"That part of the mind or psyche which possesses consciousness, maintains its identity, and recognizes and tests reality."

CERTAINLY

Mrc. K. writes: Can a woman who is always constipated have a child?

REPLY

Since constipation is not mentioned in the story of the birds and the bees, I would say that it is possible.

TENDENCY EXISTS

D. R. writes: Is cleft-palate hereditary?

Reply

The defect apparently has a tendency to appear in succeeding generations.

"YEAR OF DECISION"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman Tempted To Pull Props From SEC; Alice Longworth Has New Name For Dewey; Kaiser Stock Battle Started Market Decline

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. — Boss of the Bronx Ed Flynn, who had a great deal to do with picking Harry Truman for Vice President at Chicago, has a queer complex about liberalism. He has repeatedly urged Truman to appoint a Negro as Federal Judge in New York in order to attract the Negro vote, yet he turns round and tries to undercut a Government agency which protects the economic welfare of both Negroes and whites.

This is what the charming Ed was up to when he visited at the White House this week.

His visit was aimed at persuading Truman to appoint Paul Rowen of Boston to the Securities and Exchange Commission, and simultaneously to make Ed Hanrahan of New York chairman.

On the surface, this sounds innocent enough. But below the surface, it happens that Hanrahan, already a member of the SEC, has come under the influence of Wall Street to such extent that it's a foregone conclusion that as chairman he would try to throw overboard the Holding Company Act, one of the greatest landmarks in F. D. Roosevelt's battle against the big utilities.

It also happens that Rowen is pledged in advance to vote for Hanrahan for chairman.

Finally, it happens that Ed Flynn's law firm represents some of the best-paying firms along Wall Street. Nuff said.

Only other thing to do is watch and see whether Truman follows Flynn's advice. Inside word is that he's inclined to do so.

Merry-Go-Round

Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Bob Taft's best socialite booster, has a new word for Dewey. In 1944 she called him "The little man on the wedding cake." Now she says: "Dewey is a souffle. He never rises twice." . . . It was Alice who said of Calvin Coolidge: "He must have been weaned on a pickle." . . . Biggest wearers of Wallace buttons are the colored people . . . That's why Democratic leaders privately have virtually given up New York state as lost, especially if Dewey runs. Wallace, they figure, will swing all the Harlem vote, and Dewey would take most of the New York Jewish vote. Also, Wallace will carve out a sizable hunk of the New York City labor vote . . . Tammany leaders are so glum about Truman's prospects in New York state that many have already decided to sit it out. They're more interested in 1949—the election for Mayor of New York . . . Jim Farley is all for the Republicans when it comes to the income-tax and the Taft-Hartley bills. That's one reason he says he can't make too many political speeches now—it might be embarrassing . . . It was Jim Farley who gave Senator Howard McGrath his first job as U. S. Attorney in Providence, R. I. That's one reason McGrath is so strong for Farley. . . . Friends suggested to Tom Watson (International Business Machines and Eisenhower's political mentor) that Ike run for Governor of New York in 1950. This would get him back in the Presidential race in 1952. Watson was noncommittal.

What Happened To Kaiser

Even on the stock market it's sometimes a fact that mighty oaks from little acorns grow. Take, for instance, the mysterious attempted stock flotation for Kaiser-Frazer automobiles.

On Feb. 2, Henry Kaiser, the big West Coast shipbuilder who had the nerve to invade Detroit to build automobiles, sat down with his bankers to iron out final details of a $17,000,000 stock flotation. Kaiser had successfully carried out his auto threat, was turning out 1,100 cars per day at the Willow Run plant, had made $5 per share during his first year of operation. He now wanted money to push production to 1,500 cars daily.

Participating in the conference were Otis and Co. of Cleveland, The First California Company of San Francisco, and Allen and Co. of New York. Kaiser-Frazer stock, it was agreed, would be sold to the public on Feb. 4, at $13 a share but it was also agreed that to keep the price up the day before, Kaiser would buy his own stock at $13.50.

What Kaiser didn't know, however, was that Cyrus Eaton, head of Otis and Company, was going to tip off brokers to this fact. Supposedly this support agreement to keep the price at $13.50 on Feb. 3, the day before the stock flotation, was to be kept a strict secret.

But it wasn't. Furthermore, Eaton's telegram to brokers amounted to an invitation to them to dump Kaiser stock at $13.50 on Feb. 3 and buy it back for $13 on Feb. 4.

Kaiser Pays Off

As a result there was a mad rush to sell Kaiser stock. Further result was that Kaiser had to shell out around $2,400,000 of his own money to buy his own stock. However, he kept his word. Grimly for one long day, he bought up his own stock at the rate of 500 per minute.

Otis and Company and The First California Company, however, did not keep their word. As the time approached for these two underwriters to take over the Kaiser-Frazer stock they had pledged to sell, a Philadelphia lawyer, James F. Masterson, mysteriously brought suit against Kaiser. In fact, he brought the suit exactly 40 minutes before Otis and Company was supposed to pay up.

And what most people didn't know was that lawyer Masterson had previously been close to Eaton and the railroad he finances, the Chesapeake and Ohio.

What people did know, however, was that the tumultuous selling of Kaiser-Frazer stocks on the day brokers had been tipped off they could make a killing, was followed next day by the general stock-market nosedive.

Maybe the nosedive would have come later anyway. But the manner in which the bankers let down the one man who has dared buck the big auto companies certainly didn't help to retard it.

Note 1—Cyrus Eaton of Otis and Company has been extremely critical of Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman and his former investment banking connections.

Note 2—Other bankers, including the Bank of America and The First Boston Corporation, have indicated that they will now take up Kaiser's unfinished financing.

Anti-Inflation-Mindedness Best Buttress Against Bust

By MARK SULLIVAN

In the outpouring of interpretations of the crash in grain this month, two dates are frequent. One February, 1948, is obvious. Second in the attempts at interpretation is October 1929. Discussion of the present crash, and speculation of what it may mean for the future, seeks light by comparison with the crash of 1929.

But the light is not clear. There are similarities between the two, and also differences. What is here attempted is a brief statement of the conditions, then and now, with respect to some groups composing the economic structure, and factors determining economic trends.

Industry as a whole. In this field is overall contrast. Today there is postwar shortage of goods of nearly all kinds, housing is a conspicious example. In 1929 the shortage of goods following the First World War had been filled. The housing shortage had been met as early as 1927, and falling off in the building industry was a factor in the collapse of 1929.

Employment. In 1929, due to completion of post-war stimulation of industry was a measurable amount of unemployment. Today employment is at an all-time high.

Farming. In 1929 farming was a cruelly depressed industry. Ten to twelve years before, during the First World War, there had been an immense rise in prices of farm land, feverish speculation in it. Mid-west farms of which the normal price was $100 an acre had gone as high as $600. Then, following the end of the war, about 1921-2, there had been a drastic drop, leaving farmers under the burden of large mortgages at high rates of interest, which they had given in the buying of farms. With price drop in farm land had gone drop in farm crops. This double distress was the condition of farming in 1929.

Farming Prosperous Industry

In contrast, farming today is a prosperous, strongly-buttressed industry. There has been little speculation in farm land, no great rise in the price of it, and little giving of mortgages. As for farm crops, they are at all-time high prices. In part, these high prices are accounted for by a government policy of price support for farm products adopted during the 1930's. What may be the future effect of price support, if it is kept, in its bearing on the country's economy as a whole, remains to be seen. The present existence of it is one of the chief contrasts between 1948 and 1929.

Labor. In 1929 the ability of labor unions and leaders to get higher wages was as it had normally been. Since 1929 this has been altered by two laws. The Wagner National Labor Relations Act of 1935 gave unions and leaders immensely increased power in bargaining, made it difficult for industry to resist. This accounted in large part for post-war wage raises, in 1945-46, which brought wage levels to all-time highs. This power of unions and leaders in bargaining was modified by the Taft-Hartley labor law of 1947, which gives employers a degree of power to resist wage demands if they choose. If new wage rasies now contemplated take place, whether because industry does not resist or otherwise, this will be a factor making for contrast with 1929 and having weight in the future.

Stock Market Utter Contrast

The stock market. Here is utter contrast. In 1929 the stock market was at fantastic heights. Histories of the period, such as Mr. Frederick Lewis Allen's "Only Yesterday" include reproductions of stock market pages in newspapers of late 1929, just before the collapse, in which prices over $300 a share were not uncommon .Today, far from boom, prices on the stock market are comparatively depressed.

Public psychology. In 1929 the public was boom-minded, while today it is anti-boom-minded. The 1929 public psychology was one of the great popular illusions of history comparable to the classic Mississippi Bubble and the Tulip Craze. The mass optimism was shared by some business leaders and had some academic authorities on economics, and their belief fed that of the public. A professor in a leading university spoke of "a permantly high plateau." A phrase popularly current, expressing the exuberent optimism of the day was, "Be a bull on America." The present anti-inflation-mindedness of the public is perhaps the country's best buttress against economic disaster.

GOP Appears To Have Won Argument Over High Prices

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 — The public may think it is witnessing a controversy about speculation in the grain markets, but actually it is just an old-fashioned game of politics.

The Democrats started the muckraking last summer and so angered the Republicans that they have now retaliated and seem to have much the better of the argument.

It doesn't pay to misrepresent things even in politics, but the Truman Administration, with its eyes wide open, blamed the Republican Party for the rise in prices when government controls were lifted. The Republicans didn't create the scarcities in grain or steel or other articles in great demand. But under the leadership of President Truman and his Cabinet, who saw a good political opening, a flood of propaganda and speeches was released accusing the Republicans of having pushed upward the cost of living. Statistics were produced that completely ignored the rises in price during the war and also omitted all mention of the inexorable law of supply and demand.

Republicans Grabbed The Ball

Resentful over such misrepresentations, the Republicans quickly grabbed the ball when President Truman fumbled by blaming high prices on speculation in the grain markets. The free-for-all started immediately. The Republicans showed that Edwin Pauley, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and a presidential appointee in the department of the Army, had engaged in speculation. There was really nothing wrong with Mr. Pauley's activities but, in the light of Mr. Truman's characterization, this was too good an opening for the Republicans to overlook.

The Administration during the past several months had also been pursuing a political attack on corporation earnings. The spokesmen for the Democrats kept calling attention to some misleading statistics on profits of corporations and failed to point out that profits per dollar of sales had not changed materially.

Labor unions, with whom the administration plays intimately, took up the same strategy until it became apparent through Gallup Polls that the Administration was succeeding in its attempt to blame the Republicans for removing controls and, it was alleged, thereby sending upward the cost of living.

The Republicans have known all along that the Government is the biggest single buyer of grain and that it could cause a rise or drop in prices on the markets at will. But the Republicans refrained from attack along that line until Mr. Truman opened up on the speculators.

The Republicans knew also that the Administration, irritated by the pleas of Democratic leaders over meat controls in the autumn of 1946, had begun a general retreat on the subject of controls.

Then, when the Administration saw in the Marshall Plan and its increased buying for export a likelihood that prices would rise, a demand for a restoration of price controls came from President Truman at the special session called last November. It was made to appear as a belated vindication of the policy he pursued in vetoing the repeal of the OPA in the summer of 1946.

The Republicans refused to go along with the restoration of controls and, while giving a small amount of authority, insisted controls should not be revived. Again the Democrats thought they had caught the Republicans in a trap and began hinting that demands for a third round of wage increases would be forthcoming from its labor-union allies unless prices were reduced. The claim was that only government controls could bring down prices.

Republicans Return Truman Smear

The Republicans stuck to their attack. They dramatized the issue of speculation, not because trading in grain is in itself wrong or unlawful but because they saw a chance to return the smear which Mr. Truman and his spokesmen had sought to impose by reason of the removal of the OPA and price controls.

The Republicans organized congressional investigations to look into all manner of speculation inside and outside the government. They discovered that government buying did affect prices and that the wide publicity given to Administration buying policies helped speculators to bid up prices.

This does not mean that anybody in the government did anything unethical. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson is in no way involved in the speculation, and it is doubtful whether it will be found that any important aides or assistants were speculating or informing speculators as to the department's plans for purchasing.

The simple truth is that, when there is scarcity in the face of abnormal demand, the price goes up. Likewise when there is an adequate supply for export and the government has bought about all it needs, the price levels off and tends to drop. It is unfortunate that the political game has to be played with such obvious disregard of economic laws. The Republicans aren't responsible for high prices and neither are the Democrats.

The real blame falls on the devastation of war and the ravages of bad weather. As oversupply sets in, prices come down naturally without government controls or the OPA.

UN AND PALESTINE

THE United Nations voted the partition of Palestine between Jews and Arabs. The United States and Soviet Russia, in conflict on most other issues, united in support of this one. During the debate at the United Nations, all Arab states made it clear that they would contest the decision by force. The British, charged with maintaining order in Palestine under a mandate from the old League of Nations, served notice that they would on a fixed date withdraw their troops from Palestine, which, beyond doubt, settled the date for total anarchy in the Near East.

The stage thus was set in Palestine for a world conflict, for immediately all the issues that make for war were concentrated there. The problem that faces the United Nations is to make its decision binding. Should the United Nations fail in Palestine, the precedent becomes established that any country may, if forceful enough, veto a UN decision by military power. This reduces the United Nations to a consultative organization, without authority, without the competence to enforce its decisions. It might just as well shut up shop.

But the United Nations lacks an army, navy, air force and all the concomitants for enforcing its decisions. It has no means for the establishment of partition in Palestine. It has no means for maintaining order in Palestine when the British leave. It has taken an historic stand, solving a 2,000-year-old question but has not even a crutch to uphold it.

In fact, it is very doubtful whether the United States, Soviet Russia or Great Britain give any genuine encouragement to the establishment of an armed force by the United Nations. They all fear the consequences for themselves of effective intererence by the United Nations in their particular policies. What would it mean, a quarter of a century from now, if a UN army were on the loose? Maybe, good; maybe, bad. Who can say? Therefore, nothing important has been done to make it possible for the United Nations to enforce its decisions in Palestine or anywhere else.

In a word, all the arguments against the San Francisco charter are now coming home to roost. Unfortunately, the Palestine question is the test. It might have been Korea, China, Indonesia, Poland, Greece, any country. But Palestine is the rock upon which UN stands or falls. And UN is not ready. All of this should have been foreseen at San Francisco. It should have been foreseen at Yalta and Potsdam. Statesmanship is the capacity to recognize the inevitable and to meet it astutely in advance of a crisis. Apparently there was too little statesmanship at San Francisco.

Political and economic pressure is forcing the United States, in a campaign year, to meet this problem. Both political parties and every politician of any stature have asserted their adherence to the Jewish side of the Palestinian question. This has been true of days of Woodrow Wilson and Henry Cabot Lodge. It is true of Harry Truman. Nevertheless, the government of the United States is actually supporting the Arab side, General Marshall's denials to the contrary notwithstanding. It has assisted the Arab states to arm but has placed an embargo on arms purchased for the Jews. The reason behind this, as it was President Roosevelt's reason for supporting the Arab League, is the importance of Near Eastern oil, particularly the oil of Saudi Arabia. The United States has a huge investment in that area. Even more, the United States, uncertain of its relations with Soviet Russia, needs that oil for war. It wants to be sure that Russia does not develop an economic and possibly a political enclave in the Arabic world. The United States does not want to be defeated for lack of oil.

When all this is added up, the total is horrifying. The British will withdraw. The Jews and Arabs will murder each other. The United Nations will do nothing. Nobody will do anything. The United Nations will shrink in prestige to next to nothing. The pattern will be formed for more bloodshed, more genocide throughout the world. And it is said that World War II settled something.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Looks like Dean Eisenhower is back in school again. He had to have some place to put his diplomas.

Robert E. Lee also became prexy of a college after graduating from war. Some of his staff ran a lottery in New Orleans, where they took Yankee dollars with great glee.

The dean of Columbia sort of insinuated that no soldier belonged in politics. It isn't likely Doug MacArthur will subscribe to one of the Columbia home study courses.

We will know more about Mac's intentions when he arrives in America. If he wades ashore he's going to take the joint over.

There seems to be a racket in new cars and a rattle in the old ones. Way back in 1631 an English Justice said you couldn't stop any caper in which there was more than thirty per cent profit.

He was referring to the lace, spice and wine smugglers of Scotland. I happen to know they invented the highland fling to kick contraband across the border.

That's why the numbers, the black market, bootlegging and other rackets will flourish like weeds on a railroad spur.

Let's go back to the prohibition times when this observant turnip wrote, "We tax our good habits. Why not our bad ones?"

Court Test Of Labor Law Clause Is Welcomed

The indictment secured by the Department of Justice from a federal grand jury against Philip Murray, charging the CIO leader with violating a portion of the Taft-Hartley labor bill, paves the way for a court test of the clause bearing on contributions to campaign expenditures and freedom of the press.

The charge springs from a Maryland congressional contest as a result of the Congress of Industrial Organizations endorsing in "The C. I. O. News" the candidacy of Edward Garmatz, a Democratic candidate for Congress. He won. It is charged that this endorsement was intentional in order to invite court action. Six months ago an American Federation of Labor chapter in Connecticut sought to challenge the same provision by entering upon a campaign of newspaper advertising to defeat Senator Taft, of Ohio, and members of Congress from Connecticut who voted for the Taft-Hartley bill.

But nothing came of the alleged violation or defiance of the law until Mr. Murray inserted an editorial in the CIO News endorsing the candidate in Maryland. It probably was considered a more direct violation of the weakest link in the law than the Connecticut campaign, for it is contended that while labor dislikes the Taft-Hartley law in general, there are portions with which union members are in accord. To have invited a court test on those clauses might have brought down the wrath of workers on the heads of their leaders.

There are grounds for the belief that the provision which has been defied by labor needs clarification, and we are in agreement with Senator Taft, co-author of the measure, that it is deserving of court interpretation. The Ohio senator, like those who supported the bill, merely sought to prevent direct contributions to campaign expenditures, not only by labor organizations but by corporations as well. It is certain they had no intention of gagging either labor newspapers or publications of general circulation, which, of course, is unconstitutional. So, we, like Mr. Murray, welcome the clarification of the clause the court proceedings are expected to provide.

It is asserted radio announcing has added 2,000 new words to the language. Possibly the announcers' pronunciations only make it seem that way.

Comes Valentine's Day With Messages Of Love

Deflation has not yet set in in the local Valentine market, especially as to quotations on comic valentines. There was a time when a kid could insult his teacher, the cop on the corner and the crabby lady living next door all for a cent apiece. But not any more. A survey of valentine venders reveals that comic valentines are selling for as high as a nickel each.

And the real fancy kind, the valentines with lace and hearts and cupid which lovers, sweethearts—and even some married folks—send each other sold for as high as a dollar. According to one Cumberland youth who was overheard at a counter yesterday, that's too much.

"A buck is a lot of dough to shell out for a valentine just to tell a girl you love her," he complained. "Way too much." Well, that's inflation for you.

But the price did not prevent those who enjoy such occasions as today—Valentine Day—from observing it to the full extent of their pocketbooks. And the one person who realized this fact is the mail carrier who has found his shoulder pouch increasingly heavier the past few days. And little wonder when one considers valentines by the millions flood Uncle Sam's postoffice yearly. It is disclosed that the Chicago post office alone accepted 1,250,000, and 750,000 were handled by the Philadelphia postoffice. Letter mail cancellations at the Cumberland postoffice jumped 10,000 when the mailing of valentines got underway a day or so ago. The volume increased to such proportions by this morning that substitute carriers were required to work longer hours to deliver their increased loads of love messages.

And who started all this valentine sending which has been going on for hundreds of years. Well, the whole thing started, according to the reference books, during the Roman Feast of Lupercalia, celebrated in the memory of Juno. The young Roman bobby-sox crowd would gathr around a big urn and draw out tablets with names on them.

Each tablet was the name of a girl, and the lucky fellow drawing her name was supposed to be her boy friend for a whole year. This festival was held near the anniversary of St. Valentine's death, and it was finally merged with St. Valentine's Day until it became the practice of choosing sweethearts on this special occasion.

Perhaps clerks should have explained this to young fellows buying dollar valentines.

"Freedom Gardens" To Aid Humanity Being Urged

Seed catalogues are arriving by every mail, packets of seeds are already being displayed in stores, and the gardener of 1948 is busy scanning the colorful booklets, with an eye on descriptions of vegetable seed, particularly the newer creations in the hope that these might be the answer to his failure with this or that crop by past experiences during the war and immediately after peace was declared.

Why are vegetable seeds attracting more attention this year? Well, it is because an additional way to aid Europe's hungry is being promoted by the National Garden Conference. It is urging Americans to plant 20,000,000 "freedom gardens" to free other food for shipment abroad.

The average gardener, and even those who have yet to try their hand at growing vegetables, and who has a little space in his garden, needs only a good reason to take up the spade. The plan of the National Garden Conference will, we believe, meet with less opposition than any plan of its kind yet proposed.

There are those who will feel that, from a money standpoint, it isn't worth while, but give them a cause, be it war or the appeal of humanity, and he will be found in his plot turning over the earth in preparation for this all-important gardening undertaking.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Dry, Scaly Skin

Ichtyosis is a peculiar disorder in which the skin is exceedingly dry and scaly. The malady is not common and some individuals are disturbed more than others. The victim is either born with the condition or it appears within a few weeks or a year after birth.

Dr. Van Dellen

The character of the lesions depends upon the severity and extent of the disease. In its mildest form the affected areas are limited to the outer surfaces of the limbs which exhibit regions of dryness and branlike scales. When more pronounced, the face and the remainder of the body are usually involved; the lesions varrying from an exaggerated goose-flesh to fishlike scales, which explains why the malady is sometimes called "fish skin disease."

Sometimes the scales are shiny and translucent others assume a brownish-gray or green-black hue similar to those found on snakes. In rare cases the epidermis is covered with heavy, hardened plates so thickened and irregular that the term "crocodile skin" is used. The surface almost resembles a rasp because it is so harsh to the touch.

When the parts over the joints, such as elbows and knees are affected, deep furrows develop as the skin cracks through bending. Occasionally the nails become harsh and brittle; the hair may be dry and the scalp covered with dandruff. Secretions from the oil and sweat glands are practically nil. Itching is variable but otherwise ichthyosis it not distressing except from a cosmetic standpoint.

As a rule, the disturbance becomes worse until a certain stage of development is reached and from then on remains stationary. It is generally more severe during the winter and better in summer. In a few instances it actually clears up during the warm weather.

There has never been any dearth of treatment but none of the remedies has ever proved curative. Dryness can be relieved with oily and greasy substances and the victims feel better if they minimize bathing with water and ordinary soap. Some improve be remaining in a warm climate. A more recent treatment includes the use of large amounts of vitamin A. Bile salts and neostigmine are added to facilitate absorption of the vitamin. Furthermore, the areas over which sweating occurs are less likely to suffer. This suggested that salt might be used to good advantage. A salve containing the chemical, along with salt baths, is now being advocated and good results have been reported.

HEEL HEIGHT

G. W. writes: I bought a pair of flat heeled shoes but after wearing them for a few hours my calves ache. Will I get used to them in time?

Reply

Yes. With low heels, the tendon of Achilles (in the heel) is stretched and this creates tension on the calf muscles.

Organic Disturbance

G. A. writes: Does organic disease of the nervous system mean insanity or something like paralysis?

REPLY

Paralysis is closer to the true answer. Organic disease refers to conditions in which a definite lesion exists such as swelling, inflammation, tumor, injury, or degeneration. This is in contrast to a function disturbance in which no abnormality can be found to account for symptoms.

Bad Knee

Mrs. W. writes: When my husband was a child he fell on his right knee, which bothered him for years. Recently it has started troubling him again, especially first thing in the morning or when he sits too long. Could this be a turned cartilage?

REPLY

This is a possibility but arthritis and other knee defects must be considered. The earlier injury may be coincidental because most active children fall on the knees almost every day. Nevertheless, real damage to these "hinges" predispose to arthritis later in life.

Lung Disorders

G. writes: Is there any positive way to determine whether a person has tuberculosis or bronchiectasis?

REPLY

Yes, but then the disorders coexist, it is sometimes difficult to diagnosis bronchiectasis because lipiodol is needed. This drug contains an iodide, which has an adverse effect on tuberculosis. Furthermore, when the two disorders are present, the physician is content to treat the tuberculosis first, disregarding the bronchial disturbance for the time being.

"I"

C. V. writes: What is the medical meaning of the word "ego?"

Reply

Dorland's dictionary gives the following definition:

"That part of the mind or psyche which possesses consciousness, maintains its identity, and recognizes and tests reality."

CERTAINLY

Mrc. K. writes: Can a woman who is always constipated have a child?

REPLY

Since constipation is not mentioned in the story of the birds and the bees, I would say that it is possible.

TENDENCY EXISTS

D. R. writes: Is cleft-palate hereditary?

Reply

The defect apparently has a tendency to appear in succeeding generations.

"YEAR OF DECISION"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman Tempted To Pull Props From SEC; Alice Longworth Has New Name For Dewey; Kaiser Stock Battle Started Market Decline

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. — Boss of the Bronx Ed Flynn, who had a great deal to do with picking Harry Truman for Vice President at Chicago, has a queer complex about liberalism. He has repeatedly urged Truman to appoint a Negro as Federal Judge in New York in order to attract the Negro vote, yet he turns round and tries to undercut a Government agency which protects the economic welfare of both Negroes and whites.

This is what the charming Ed was up to when he visited at the White House this week.

His visit was aimed at persuading Truman to appoint Paul Rowen of Boston to the Securities and Exchange Commission, and simultaneously to make Ed Hanrahan of New York chairman.

On the surface, this sounds innocent enough. But below the surface, it happens that Hanrahan, already a member of the SEC, has come under the influence of Wall Street to such extent that it's a foregone conclusion that as chairman he would try to throw overboard the Holding Company Act, one of the greatest landmarks in F. D. Roosevelt's battle against the big utilities.

It also happens that Rowen is pledged in advance to vote for Hanrahan for chairman.

Finally, it happens that Ed Flynn's law firm represents some of the best-paying firms along Wall Street. Nuff said.

Only other thing to do is watch and see whether Truman follows Flynn's advice. Inside word is that he's inclined to do so.

Merry-Go-Round

Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Bob Taft's best socialite booster, has a new word for Dewey. In 1944 she called him "The little man on the wedding cake." Now she says: "Dewey is a souffle. He never rises twice." . . . It was Alice who said of Calvin Coolidge: "He must have been weaned on a pickle." . . . Biggest wearers of Wallace buttons are the colored people . . . That's why Democratic leaders privately have virtually given up New York state as lost, especially if Dewey runs. Wallace, they figure, will swing all the Harlem vote, and Dewey would take most of the New York Jewish vote. Also, Wallace will carve out a sizable hunk of the New York City labor vote . . . Tammany leaders are so glum about Truman's prospects in New York state that many have already decided to sit it out. They're more interested in 1949—the election for Mayor of New York . . . Jim Farley is all for the Republicans when it comes to the income-tax and the Taft-Hartley bills. That's one reason he says he can't make too many political speeches now—it might be embarrassing . . . It was Jim Farley who gave Senator Howard McGrath his first job as U. S. Attorney in Providence, R. I. That's one reason McGrath is so strong for Farley. . . . Friends suggested to Tom Watson (International Business Machines and Eisenhower's political mentor) that Ike run for Governor of New York in 1950. This would get him back in the Presidential race in 1952. Watson was noncommittal.

What Happened To Kaiser

Even on the stock market it's sometimes a fact that mighty oaks from little acorns grow. Take, for instance, the mysterious attempted stock flotation for Kaiser-Frazer automobiles.

On Feb. 2, Henry Kaiser, the big West Coast shipbuilder who had the nerve to invade Detroit to build automobiles, sat down with his bankers to iron out final details of a $17,000,000 stock flotation. Kaiser had successfully carried out his auto threat, was turning out 1,100 cars per day at the Willow Run plant, had made $5 per share during his first year of operation. He now wanted money to push production to 1,500 cars daily.

Participating in the conference were Otis and Co. of Cleveland, The First California Company of San Francisco, and Allen and Co. of New York. Kaiser-Frazer stock, it was agreed, would be sold to the public on Feb. 4, at $13 a share but it was also agreed that to keep the price up the day before, Kaiser would buy his own stock at $13.50.

What Kaiser didn't know, however, was that Cyrus Eaton, head of Otis and Company, was going to tip off brokers to this fact. Supposedly this support agreement to keep the price at $13.50 on Feb. 3, the day before the stock flotation, was to be kept a strict secret.

But it wasn't. Furthermore, Eaton's telegram to brokers amounted to an invitation to them to dump Kaiser stock at $13.50 on Feb. 3 and buy it back for $13 on Feb. 4.

Kaiser Pays Off

As a result there was a mad rush to sell Kaiser stock. Further result was that Kaiser had to shell out around $2,400,000 of his own money to buy his own stock. However, he kept his word. Grimly for one long day, he bought up his own stock at the rate of 500 per minute.

Otis and Company and The First California Company, however, did not keep their word. As the time approached for these two underwriters to take over the Kaiser-Frazer stock they had pledged to sell, a Philadelphia lawyer, James F. Masterson, mysteriously brought suit against Kaiser. In fact, he brought the suit exactly 40 minutes before Otis and Company was supposed to pay up.

And what most people didn't know was that lawyer Masterson had previously been close to Eaton and the railroad he finances, the Chesapeake and Ohio.

What people did know, however, was that the tumultuous selling of Kaiser-Frazer stocks on the day brokers had been tipped off they could make a killing, was followed next day by the general stock-market nosedive.

Maybe the nosedive would have come later anyway. But the manner in which the bankers let down the one man who has dared buck the big auto companies certainly didn't help to retard it.

Note 1—Cyrus Eaton of Otis and Company has been extremely critical of Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman and his former investment banking connections.

Note 2—Other bankers, including the Bank of America and The First Boston Corporation, have indicated that they will now take up Kaiser's unfinished financing.

Anti-Inflation-Mindedness Best Buttress Against Bust

By MARK SULLIVAN

In the outpouring of interpretations of the crash in grain this month, two dates are frequent. One February, 1948, is obvious. Second in the attempts at interpretation is October 1929. Discussion of the present crash, and speculation of what it may mean for the future, seeks light by comparison with the crash of 1929.

But the light is not clear. There are similarities between the two, and also differences. What is here attempted is a brief statement of the conditions, then and now, with respect to some groups composing the economic structure, and factors determining economic trends.

Industry as a whole. In this field is overall contrast. Today there is postwar shortage of goods of nearly all kinds, housing is a conspicious example. In 1929 the shortage of goods following the First World War had been filled. The housing shortage had been met as early as 1927, and falling off in the building industry was a factor in the collapse of 1929.

Employment. In 1929, due to completion of post-war stimulation of industry was a measurable amount of unemployment. Today employment is at an all-time high.

Farming. In 1929 farming was a cruelly depressed industry. Ten to twelve years before, during the First World War, there had been an immense rise in prices of farm land, feverish speculation in it. Mid-west farms of which the normal price was $100 an acre had gone as high as $600. Then, following the end of the war, about 1921-2, there had been a drastic drop, leaving farmers under the burden of large mortgages at high rates of interest, which they had given in the buying of farms. With price drop in farm land had gone drop in farm crops. This double distress was the condition of farming in 1929.

Farming Prosperous Industry

In contrast, farming today is a prosperous, strongly-buttressed industry. There has been little speculation in farm land, no great rise in the price of it, and little giving of mortgages. As for farm crops, they are at all-time high prices. In part, these high prices are accounted for by a government policy of price support for farm products adopted during the 1930's. What may be the future effect of price support, if it is kept, in its bearing on the country's economy as a whole, remains to be seen. The present existence of it is one of the chief contrasts between 1948 and 1929.

Labor. In 1929 the ability of labor unions and leaders to get higher wages was as it had normally been. Since 1929 this has been altered by two laws. The Wagner National Labor Relations Act of 1935 gave unions and leaders immensely increased power in bargaining, made it difficult for industry to resist. This accounted in large part for post-war wage raises, in 1945-46, which brought wage levels to all-time highs. This power of unions and leaders in bargaining was modified by the Taft-Hartley labor law of 1947, which gives employers a degree of power to resist wage demands if they choose. If new wage rasies now contemplated take place, whether because industry does not resist or otherwise, this will be a factor making for contrast with 1929 and having weight in the future.

Stock Market Utter Contrast

The stock market. Here is utter contrast. In 1929 the stock market was at fantastic heights. Histories of the period, such as Mr. Frederick Lewis Allen's "Only Yesterday" include reproductions of stock market pages in newspapers of late 1929, just before the collapse, in which prices over $300 a share were not uncommon .Today, far from boom, prices on the stock market are comparatively depressed.

Public psychology. In 1929 the public was boom-minded, while today it is anti-boom-minded. The 1929 public psychology was one of the great popular illusions of history comparable to the classic Mississippi Bubble and the Tulip Craze. The mass optimism was shared by some business leaders and had some academic authorities on economics, and their belief fed that of the public. A professor in a leading university spoke of "a permantly high plateau." A phrase popularly current, expressing the exuberent optimism of the day was, "Be a bull on America." The present anti-inflation-mindedness of the public is perhaps the country's best buttress against economic disaster.

GOP Appears To Have Won Argument Over High Prices

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 — The public may think it is witnessing a controversy about speculation in the grain markets, but actually it is just an old-fashioned game of politics.

The Democrats started the muckraking last summer and so angered the Republicans that they have now retaliated and seem to have much the better of the argument.

It doesn't pay to misrepresent things even in politics, but the Truman Administration, with its eyes wide open, blamed the Republican Party for the rise in prices when government controls were lifted. The Republicans didn't create the scarcities in grain or steel or other articles in great demand. But under the leadership of President Truman and his Cabinet, who saw a good political opening, a flood of propaganda and speeches was released accusing the Republicans of having pushed upward the cost of living. Statistics were produced that completely ignored the rises in price during the war and also omitted all mention of the inexorable law of supply and demand.

Republicans Grabbed The Ball

Resentful over such misrepresentations, the Republicans quickly grabbed the ball when President Truman fumbled by blaming high prices on speculation in the grain markets. The free-for-all started immediately. The Republicans showed that Edwin Pauley, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and a presidential appointee in the department of the Army, had engaged in speculation. There was really nothing wrong with Mr. Pauley's activities but, in the light of Mr. Truman's characterization, this was too good an opening for the Republicans to overlook.

The Administration during the past several months had also been pursuing a political attack on corporation earnings. The spokesmen for the Democrats kept calling attention to some misleading statistics on profits of corporations and failed to point out that profits per dollar of sales had not changed materially.

Labor unions, with whom the administration plays intimately, took up the same strategy until it became apparent through Gallup Polls that the Administration was succeeding in its attempt to blame the Republicans for removing controls and, it was alleged, thereby sending upward the cost of living.

The Republicans have known all along that the Government is the biggest single buyer of grain and that it could cause a rise or drop in prices on the markets at will. But the Republicans refrained from attack along that line until Mr. Truman opened up on the speculators.

The Republicans knew also that the Administration, irritated by the pleas of Democratic leaders over meat controls in the autumn of 1946, had begun a general retreat on the subject of controls.

Then, when the Administration saw in the Marshall Plan and its increased buying for export a likelihood that prices would rise, a demand for a restoration of price controls came from President Truman at the special session called last November. It was made to appear as a belated vindication of the policy he pursued in vetoing the repeal of the OPA in the summer of 1946.

The Republicans refused to go along with the restoration of controls and, while giving a small amount of authority, insisted controls should not be revived. Again the Democrats thought they had caught the Republicans in a trap and began hinting that demands for a third round of wage increases would be forthcoming from its labor-union allies unless prices were reduced. The claim was that only government controls could bring down prices.

Republicans Return Truman Smear

The Republicans stuck to their attack. They dramatized the issue of speculation, not because trading in grain is in itself wrong or unlawful but because they saw a chance to return the smear which Mr. Truman and his spokesmen had sought to impose by reason of the removal of the OPA and price controls.

The Republicans organized congressional investigations to look into all manner of speculation inside and outside the government. They discovered that government buying did affect prices and that the wide publicity given to Administration buying policies helped speculators to bid up prices.

This does not mean that anybody in the government did anything unethical. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson is in no way involved in the speculation, and it is doubtful whether it will be found that any important aides or assistants were speculating or informing speculators as to the department's plans for purchasing.

The simple truth is that, when there is scarcity in the face of abnormal demand, the price goes up. Likewise when there is an adequate supply for export and the government has bought about all it needs, the price levels off and tends to drop. It is unfortunate that the political game has to be played with such obvious disregard of economic laws. The Republicans aren't responsible for high prices and neither are the Democrats.

The real blame falls on the devastation of war and the ravages of bad weather. As oversupply sets in, prices come down naturally without government controls or the OPA.

These Days By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

UN AND PALESTINE

THE United Nations voted the partition of Palestine between Jews and Arabs. The United States and Soviet Russia, in conflict on most other issues, united in support of this one. During the debate at the United Nations, all Arab states made it clear that they would contest the decision by force. The British, charged with maintaining order in Palestine under a mandate from the old League of Nations, served notice that they would on a fixed date withdraw their troops from Palestine, which, beyond doubt, settled the date for total anarchy in the Near East.

The stage thus was set in Palestine for a world conflict, for immediately all the issues that make for war were concentrated there. The problem that faces the United Nations is to make its decision binding. Should the United Nations fail in Palestine, the precedent becomes established that any country may, if forceful enough, veto a UN decision by military power. This reduces the United Nations to a consultative organization, without authority, without the competence to enforce its decisions. It might just as well shut up shop.

But the United Nations lacks an army, navy, air force and all the concomitants for enforcing its decisions. It has no means for the establishment of partition in Palestine. It has no means for maintaining order in Palestine when the British leave. It has taken an historic stand, solving a 2,000-year-old question but has not even a crutch to uphold it.

In fact, it is very doubtful whether the United States, Soviet Russia or Great Britain give any genuine encouragement to the establishment of an armed force by the United Nations. They all fear the consequences for themselves of effective intererence by the United Nations in their particular policies. What would it mean, a quarter of a century from now, if a UN army were on the loose? Maybe, good; maybe, bad. Who can say? Therefore, nothing important has been done to make it possible for the United Nations to enforce its decisions in Palestine or anywhere else.

In a word, all the arguments against the San Francisco charter are now coming home to roost. Unfortunately, the Palestine question is the test. It might have been Korea, China, Indonesia, Poland, Greece, any country. But Palestine is the rock upon which UN stands or falls. And UN is not ready. All of this should have been foreseen at San Francisco. It should have been foreseen at Yalta and Potsdam. Statesmanship is the capacity to recognize the inevitable and to meet it astutely in advance of a crisis. Apparently there was too little statesmanship at San Francisco.

Political and economic pressure is forcing the United States, in a campaign year, to meet this problem. Both political parties and every politician of any stature have asserted their adherence to the Jewish side of the Palestinian question. This has been true of days of Woodrow Wilson and Henry Cabot Lodge. It is true of Harry Truman. Nevertheless, the government of the United States is actually supporting the Arab side. General Marshall's denials to the contrary notwithstanding. It has assisted the Arab states to arm but has placed an embargo on arms purchased for the Jews. The reason behind this, as it was President Roosevelt's reason for supporting the Arab League, is the importance of Near Eastern oil, particularly the oil of Saudi Arabia. The United States has a huge investment in that area. Even more, the United States, uncertain of its relations with Soviet Russia, needs that oil for war. It wants to be sure that Russia does not develop an economic and possibly a political enclave in the Arabic world. The United States does not want to be defeated for lack of oil.

When all this is added up, the total is horrifying. The British will withdraw. The Jews and Arabs will murder each other. The United Nations will do nothing. Nobody will do anything. The United Nations will shrink in prestige to next to nothing. The pattern will be formed for more bloodshed, more genocide throughout the world. And it is said that World War II settled something.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Looks like Dean Eisenhower is back in school again. He had to have some place to put his diplomas.

Robert E. Lee also became prexy of a college after graduating from war. Some of his staff ran a lottery in New Orleans, where they took Yankee dollars with great glee.

The dean of Columbia sort of insinuated that no soldier belonged in politics. It isn't likely Doug MacArthur will subscribe to one of the Columbia home study courses.

We will know more about Mac's intentions when he arrives in America. If he wades ashore he's going to take the joint over.

There seems to be a racket in new cars and a rattle in the old ones. Way back in 1631 an English Justice said you couldn't stop any caper in which there was more than thirty per cent profit.

He was referring to the lace, spice and wine smugglers of Scotland. I happen to know they invented the highland fling to kick contraband across the border.

That's why the numbers, the black market, bootlegging and other rackets will flourish like weeds on a railroad spur.

Let's go back to the prohibition times when this observant turnip wrote, "We tax our good habits. Why not our bad ones?"

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13—(INS)—Such secrecy you've never heard over the script of "Story X" which will be made for Dore Schary, by Dudley Nichols, at RKO, natch.

Eddie Cantor

All I could learn is that the author is Samuel Grafton, and that Dore bought the story when he was in New York some time ago. He signed Dudley to write, direct and produce, much the same sort of deal Nichols had for "Mourning Becomes Electra."

Barbara Bel Geddes has been chosen for the lead, and Barbara says she doesn't know what the story is about and won't until she faces the camera in the summer. She has to finish "Blood On the Moon" first.

• — • — •

Anna Sten, who cost Sam Goldwyn millions when he tried to put her over, is coming back to the movies after a three year absence. Not that she wanted to come back. She was perfectly content to remain in seclusion, but she was persuaded by Hedy Lamarr and Bob Cummings, who co-star in "Let's Live a Little" at Eagle-Lion, to play the third most important role.

Eugene Frenke, Anna's husband, is making the picture, and he wasn't keen about his wife doing a part, but so strong was the argument of Hedy and Bob that they finally convinced both Anna and her husband.

Anna photographs much more glamorously than she looks off the screen, and one of Sam's complaints to her was that she didn't keep herself looking beautiful.

Dennis Day, just back from his honeymoon, will have his songs for "Babes In The Toyland" recorded with Fred Waring's orchestra. He flies to New York between broadcasts to record.

If you don't like it sweet and sentimental you can get it operatic, for Ezio Pinza is being starred as the Toy Master. Bill Le Baron and Boris Morros are going all out on the musical angle of this old time musical comedy.

Speaking of Dennis, many radio fans have wondered why Jack Benny hasn't made more of Dennis' marriage on their air show. Jack told me it would be a fatal error and would ruin the young singer's radio "characterization" of a brash kid who knows nothing.

I used to love to read Albert Peyson Terhune's stories about dogs. He knew and loved all canines better than any other writer.

All 47 of the Terhune stories have been acquired by Ronold Stoltz Productions in a deal just closed by Mitchell Hamilburg, an agent. The first picture, "Big Red," will star Roddy McDowall and an Irish Setter named Big Red.

Now if it were about a cocker spaniel, I could tell them where the prettiest one in America lives, but I don't intend to let my pet be a movie actor.

• — • — •

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Sydney Greenstreet won't be able to go back to work for some time but he is now able to take daily walks and says he feels much better.

Lana Turner and Bob Topping visited the Mocambo and had a soft drink each. They haven't been doing much night clubbing. Their favorite place to dine is a quiet little spot called the Villa Nova along the strip.

Director Fritz Lang, who was rushed to the hospital earlier in the week, is reported better today.

Grace Hayes, who still goes to Charley Foy's to see Charley, was there with Bill McWade a few nights ago.

David Niven and his beautiful bride attracted a lot of attention when they walked into the Beverly Brown Derby for luncheon.

There is quite a sentimental note in the China shower Mrs. Frank Lloyd is giving for Barbara Brodine, who will soon be a bride. Mrs. Lloyd gave a baby shower for Mrs. Brodine when Barbara was expected.

I hear tell the Eddie Cantor life story has been shelved at Warners, although I can get no verification.

The Lauren Bacall Camellia will be shown at the florist convention in Pasadena February 21 and 22.

Mrs. Eddie Robinson leaves for Europe April 21, to be present for the exhibition of her paintings in Paris in June.

That's all today.

Frances Arthur Will Be Bride Of Willard Miller

Ceremony To Be Performed Tomorrow

Before the fireplace banked with palms and fern and decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and candelabra of cathedral tapers, Miss Marian Frances Arthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Arthur, 811 Shriver Avenue, will become the bride of Willard Eugene Miller, son of Melvin M. Miller, Decatur Street, and the late Mrs. Helen Miller, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of her parents.

Rev. William A. Eisenberger, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will officiate at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. John Dorn will play a prelude of nuptial music and the traditional processional from the opera Lohengrin.

Miss Mary Louise Robertson will be the maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. William P. Merritt will serve as Mr. Miller's best man.

The bride will be attired in a white Chantilly lace gown, fashioned with a high neckline, fitted bodice, long sleeves and full sweeping skirt. Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion edged with wide lace will be caught by a tiara of tiny rosebuds. She will carry a bouquet of white roses with orchid center and a shower of satin streamers.

Her attendant's gown is of aqua taffeta made on long torso lines, with three-quarter length sleeves, round neckline and tiny bustle and full skirt. With it she will wear a matching shoulder length veil held by pink rosebuds, and will carry a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Arthur will wear a navy blue, street length dress trimmed in pink lace, and a corsage of pink roses will complete her costume.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School, where she participated in all musical organizations and was awarded the Music and Arts Club Music award for outstanding achievement in music. She was also a member of the Spanish Club. A graduate of Allegany Hospital School of Nursing, class of 1947, she is now on the hospital staff.

Mr. Miller is a graduate of Gaithersburg High School, where he took part in athletics, and upon graduation enlisted in the Navy. He served for 17 months in the Pacific as a gunners' mate and now is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Following the ceremony a reception will be held with Mrs. R. J. Reuschlein, Mrs. Lawrence Kyle, Mrs. Hugo Golden, Miss Anna Hartman, Mrs. John Gormer and Mrs. Robert Llewellyn assisting in serving. Spring flowers are being used throughout the house and low bowls of roses and smilax will center both the bride's table and the refreshment table. A miniature bride and bridegroom will adorn the three-tiered wedding cake.

For their trip to Baltimore and Washington the bride has chosen a Navy blue suit, with blue accessories, a full length pink coat and orchid corsage. Upon their return the couple will reside at 811 Shriver Avenue.

Out-of-town guests will include Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hughes, Washington; Mrs. Frances Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Wise, Jr., and daughter, Susan, Glen E. Wise, Clearfield, Pa., and Mrs. Fred Hienicken, Catonsville.

Lester Inskeep To Wed Miss Hilda M. O'Neal

Rev. W. M. Michael To Perform Ceremony

Miss Hilda Marguerite O'Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. O'Neal, 625 Bedford Street, will become the bride of Lester Arnold Inskeep, Algonquin Hotel, tomorrow.

The wedding ceremony is to be solemnized at 2 o'clock in the parsonage of Centre Street Methodist Church, with Rev. Walter Marion Michael officiating. Mrs. Robert C. Cook will be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant and James Rexroad will serve as best man.

The bride will be attired in a rose beige suit with which she will wear Navy accessories and a white orchid corsage. Her matron of honor will wear a Navy and white costume and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. O'Neal has chosen a navy print dress with navy accessories and a corsage of roses, for her daughter's marriage.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School and is employed as credit manager of the local Montgomery Ward store.

Her fiance, a native of Baltimore, is local representative of the Baltimore Sunpapers.

Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of the bride for the family and friends. A tiered wedding cake will center the table and Mrs. Gene W. Offutt, Mrs. Merle Zembower, Mrs. Harold D. Fulk and Mrs. Cook will assist in serving.

For traveling the bride has chosen a black suit with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return from a trip to Washington and New York, Mr. Inskeep and his bride will reside at 2007 Bedford Road.

Pauline Minnicks To Be Bride Of Wilmoth Harman

Ceremony To Be In Sister's Home

Miss Pauline Minnicks, 505 Rose Hill Avenue, will become the bride of Wilmoth Harman, resident of Central YMCA, and a native of Harman, W. Va., tomorrow afternoon, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Earl G. Wagner, with whom she resides.

The double ring ceremony will be solemnized at 2 o'clock by Rev. Frederick D. Oberkircher, pastor of Zion Reformed Church, with the couple standing beneath a cluster of wedding bells before the mantel decorated with candles, vines and spring flowers.

Miss Josephine Minnicks will be her sister's maid of honor and Sondra Wagner will be the junior bridesmaid. Arthur Wilson, Petersburg, W. Va., will serve as best man.

The bride will wear a spring print crepe with a brown background and a new draped skirt. With it she will wear a hat of real talisman roses. Her maid of honor will wear a plain blue crepe dress with embroidered neckline. Her headdress will be a band of flowers. The junior bridesmaid will wear a pink dress, black slippers and carry a teenage bouquet. Mrs. Wagner will be attired in a gray print dress with yellow flowers and have an orchid corsage.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School and is secretary in the office of George W. Brown Insurance Agency. Mr. Harman is employed by the Maryland State Forestry Department.

A wedding reception will be held at 2:30, with a tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centering the table. Mrs. Ada Minnicks and Miss Josephine Minnicks will assist in serving.

For her wedding trip through West Virginia the bride has chosen a blue suit with matching accessories and maroon coat. Upon their return the couple will reside at 14 Market Street.

The Ladies Bible Class of St. Mark's Reformed Church will meet Monday at 8, with Mrs. Lenora Berkeley and Mrs. Esther Baker, co-hostesses.

Lena M. Grove, Edward McKinney Are Married

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Grove, Potomac Park, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lena M. Grove, to Edward B. McKinney, Cresap Park.

The ceremony was performed January 22 in the first Church of the Brethren with Rev. Paul M. Naff officiating. Mrs. Melva Hitchens was the matron of honor and Donald McKinney served as his father's best man. Homer Grove and Lyn Grove, brothers of the bride; Kenneth McKinney, son of the bridegroom; and Robert Allen Haines, Jr., nephew of the bride, were the ushers.

Ralph Martin played "Liebestraum," "Claire de Lune" and "Because," and Mrs. Claude Yoder and Mrs. Horace Mills sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

The bride wore a navy blue dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Her matron of honor wore a pink dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Grove wore a wine colored costume with black accessories.

A reception was held in the church basement, which was decorated in pink and white. The refreshment table was centered with a tiered wedding cake.

Both the bride and bridegroom are employed on the staff of the Celanese. Upon their return from a trip to Detroit, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. McKinney will reside in Cresap Park.

Women Plan Bazaar

Plans for a bazaar in March were formulated at the meeting of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 914, Thursday night. Mrs. Betty Jane Paige, Mrs. Eva Dalson and Mrs. Marie Dorsey were named the committee in charge. There will also be entertainment and dancing.

A Valentine party followed the meeting.

Girl Scout Leaders Plan Three-Key-Women Policy

Camp Troop Project Contest Announced

Mrs. O. J. Hale assumed the presidency of the Girl Scout Leaders Association at the meeting Thursday night at the headquarters and the group decided upon a new policy for the organization of having three key women keep in touch with the Girl Scout office.

The chairman will call the office once or twice a week to learn any new policy or activity from headquarters which concerns the troop members or leaders. She in turn will notify the other two members of the Key committee. Each key member will notify her group of the Leaders Association, which has been divided into three groups.

Miss Helen Campbell is chairman of the Key committee with Mrs. Margaret Casserly and Mrs. Vivian Durst, members.

After the business meeting Mrs. Hale resigned as president of the association as she will be leaving in the near future to reside in New Brunswick, N. J., where her husband has accepted a position as executive secretary of the New Jersey Press Association.

Mrs. Patrick Hogan reported on the camp troop projects. She said each troop is supposed to complete one project concerning camp activities, as bed rolling, trail blazing or fire building. Prizes will be awarded to the troop having the most perfect projects. Judging is to be at the camp rally to be held in March.

It was also announced that the troop leaders are asked to select girls who would be eligible to compete for an award campership on merit of scouting ability. She also announced that camperships would be available to girls eligible but not financially able to attend. There was also a discussion on training and certificates of leaders.

Mrs. Durst, vice president, was inducted as president and Mrs. Ross Prysock was elected vice president.

Mrs. Casserly read a letter from Mrs. J. Gordon Mitchell, commissioner, in appreciation for the work Mrs. Hale has done in the Girl Scout organization, and in behalf of the Leaders Association, Miss Campbell presented a sterling silver and gold inlaid cigarette case to Mrs. Hale, in appreciation of her work as a leader and Publicly chairman of the Girl Scouts.

Following the meeting a Juliette Low play, based on the life of the founder of Girl Scouts, was presented by the Juliette Low Representatives of each troop, and featured the establishment of the Juliette Low World Friendship fund.

Concluding the meeting a certificate for completing leaders training and an apprenticeship was awarded to Mrs. Durst. Mrs. A. M. Spioch, representing the Training committee; Miss Campbell, representing the commissioner; Mrs. Hale, president of the Leaders Assocation, conducted the ceremony, with Mrs. John Whitaker, Mrs. Casserly and Mrs. Josephine Simpson forming the color guard.

A Valentine party followed and refreshments were served with Mrs. Spioch and Mrs. Robert Mathews as hostesses.

State 4-H To Tour Washington

All Maryland 4-H boys and girls over 15 years of age are eligible to attend the tour of Washington to be held March 1.

Miss Gloria Bohn and Joseph Steger will accompany the Allegany County group and have arranged for the bus trip. Those expecting to go should make arrangements either with Miss Bohn or Mr. Steger within the next week or ten days.

Arriving in Washington, the groups from all over the state will assemble at the United States Department of Agriculture at 10:15 and tour the department and meet the people there. After luncheon in the department cafeteria the tour will go to the Capitol for the remainder of the afternoon.

The return home will be made that evening.

Henry Roy Robinette, Jr., To Wed Regenia Marteney

Rev. W. J. Elliott To Perform Ceremony

Miss Regenia Dare Marteney, 156 Bedford Street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Marteney, Piedmont, W. Va., will become the bride of Henry Roy Robinette, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roy Robinette, 224 Harrison Street, this afternoon.

The ceremony is to be solemnized at 2 o'clock in First Methodist Church with Rev. William James Elliott officiating. Mr. and Mrs. William O'Neal will be the couple's attendants.

The bride has chosen a pale blue suit with a Navy hat and accessories for her wedding. A corsage of red roses and gardenias will complete her costume. She attended Piedmont High School and was Miss Valentine of Cumberland in 1947. She is now the pianist for the Top Hatters Orchestra here.

Mr. Robinette attended Paw Paw High School where he played in the school band. He is now employed at the Maryland State Unemployment Compensation Board.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception will be held for the immediate families at the home of the bride.

Not uncommon today in Mexico is the wayside shrine. Here the weary traveler may kneel and say a prayer. Here, too, the peasant and the peasant's children have a constant reminder of the Faith by which they live.

But there is a greater need than the Cross by the side of the Road. Man needs a Road by the side of the Cross.

For all the world the season of Lent is such a road. It brings us face to face with spiritual realities . . . with the divine love manifested in Jesus Christ . . . with the human hatreds that nailed Him to a Cross.

Yes, Lent is our Road by the side of the Cross. The Church is beckoning each of us—weary wanderers—to pause along the way of life . . . to worship the Christ who died for men . . . to discover anew the spiritual strength that has flowed through the centuries from the Cross.

The Cross by the side of the Road...

and the Road by the side of the Cross

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake - (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	Jeremiah 26; 27

Not uncommon today in Mexico is the wayside shrine. Here the weary traveler may kneel and say a prayer. Here, too, the peasant and the peasant's children have a constant reminder of the Faith by which they live.

But there is a greater need than the Cross by the side of the Road. Man needs a Road by the side of the Cross.

For all the world the season of Lent is such a road. It brings us face to face with spiritual realities . . . with the divine love manifested in Jesus Christ . . . with the human hatreds that nailed Him to a Cross.

Yes, Lent is our Road by the side of the Cross. The Church is beckoning each of us—weary wanderers—to pause along the way of life . . . to worship the Christ who died for men . . . to discover anew the spiritual strength that has flowed through the centuries from the Cross.

The Cross by the side of the Road...

and the Road by the side of the Cross

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sentinels Notch Eighth Straight WMI League Win

Allegany And Central Trim Beall, Barton

Fort Hill High School made it eight straight wins in the W.M.I. League by hanging it on Bruce High School, 56-39, last night on the Fort Hill court.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aggregation scored 21 field goals and converted 14 of 24 shots at the charity line. Bruce was limited to an even dozen goals and connected for 15 points in 26 attempts at the 15-foot mark.

Don Moran, Bruce center, scored 18 points to grab high point honors, while Charley Lattimer was the Sentinel's high man with 13 markers.

Fort Hill held led throughout, the quarter scores being 19-9, 30-18 and 41-27.

In the preliminary game Fort Hill Reserves topped the Bruce Reserves, 35-13.

AHS Scores At Beall

At Frostburg, Allegany High registered its seventh triumph in eight league starts by defeating a crippled Beall High quintet, 42-27.

The Mountaineers playing without the services of Truly and Robeson, who were out of action on account of illness, trailed throughout. The quarter scores were 4-1, 20-8 and 31-18.

Don Lilya and Ronnie Sterne accounted for 27 AHS points while Farrady and Coleman shared 20 Beall markers. Beall lost Scarpelli on personal fouls in the 4th quarter.

Allegany's Jayvees defeated Beall in the preliminary game, 50-18.

Barton Bows To Central

Barton High School went down to defeat at Central High School, Lonaconing, 42-35.

Trailing 29-27, the Tigers yanked the ball game out of the fire with a garrison finish. In the last four minutes of play Rowan's foul broke a 31-31 tie and Ralston's shooting put the game on ice for the Orange ad Black.

Lambertson, Green and Tichnell of Barton were ejected on personal fouls.

Ralston scored 16 points for Central while Green collected 10 to top Barton. Lineups:

Niland To Fight Howard Monday

Fred Perry Is Named Announcer For Show

Joe Niland, local 155-pounder, will swap punches with Bob Howard, of the Merrick Boys' Club, Washington, D. C., in one of the three-round bouts on the Cumberland Amvets' boxing card Monday at the State Armory, Matchmaker "Sparky" Chisholm announced last night.

Howard recently gave "Skeets" Starkey a great fight but lost the decision.

Fred Perry, manager of the Liberty Theater, will be the master of ceremonies and will introduce the boxers on Monday's program which will be topped by the five-rounder between "Skeets" Starkey, local welterweight, and Homer Boone, of Lewistown, Pa.

Boxing Dates Set

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP) — The United States Olympic boxing finals trials will be held at Boston, Mass., June 28 and 29, James A. Lee of Cleveland, chairman of the American Olympic Boxing committee, announced today.

Bi-State League Elects Officers

Smith, Bradley, March Named At Lonaconing

LONACONING, Feb. 13 — Robert Smith of Lonaconing was elected president of the Bi-State Baseball League at the annual meeting of the circuit held tonight at the Lonaconing Republican Club.

John Bradley of Barton was elected vice president and Lonnie Marsh of Westernport was named secretary-treasurer.

Nine of last year's ten franchises holders were present at tonight's meeting. The only team not represented was the Romney (W. Va.) Rockets and it was announced that Romney will be represented in the Interstate League this year.

Teams represented were Hyndman (Pa.) Firemen, Frostburg VFW, Barton Legion, Mt. Savage, Midland, Westvaco, Queen City Brewers of Cumberland, Lonaconing Republican Club and the Amvets of Cumberland, 1947 champions.

Teams desiring to fill the vacant berth in the league are requested to send their representatives to the next meeting of the loop to be announced later. Franchise fee of $50 must be posted by each team.

STAN ROJEK PROVES HONESTY PAYS OFF

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 13—(AP)—Stan Rojek says honesty pays off.

The North Tonawanda shortstop, recently traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates by Brooklyn, told a group attending a sports gathering last night about the time he was offered a bonus to jump to the Mexican League.

Rojek said he refused, of course, and when Branch Rickey of the Dodgers heard about it he gave him $1,000 for "being honest and using his head."

LaMotta Fined $1,000, Suspended Until June

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission today suspended boxer Jake Lamotta until June 21 and fined him $1,000 for having concealed facts of his physical condition before he was stopped by Billy Fox of Philadelphia on Nov. 14 at Madison Square Garden.

Lamotta has been under "temporary suspension" ever since Nov. 21, when he admitted to the commission that he went into the Fox fight with an injured side and against the advice of his physician. The bout was halted in the fourth round after Lamotta had taken a fierce beating from the Philadelphia Negro.

Col. Eddie Egan, chairman of the commission, said today that final disposition of Lamotta's case had been held up pending the outcome of an investigation of the fight by the New York Grand Jury. The grand jury, he said, had uncovered no additional facts, so it now was possible to close the case.

Player's Father Blamed For Attack On Referee

HACKENSACK, N. J., Feb. 13. (AP) —Al Brown, high school basketball referee who suffered a brain concussion in an attack which police blamed on the irate father of a schoolboy athlete, was reported in satisfactory condition today at the Hackensack Hospital.

Brown was thrown to the floor during a game between Long Branch and Morristown High Schools Tuesday night after calling four personal fouls against a Long Branch player, Joseph Oxley, in the first period.

Police arrested the boy's father, Barrett Oxley, Sr., 45, for the attack. He was freed yesterday on $500 bail pending a hearing Feb. 21 on a charge of atrocious assault and battery.

Maryland Ring Team Seeks Double Win

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 13 (AP) —The University of Maryland boxing team will try for a double victory here tomorrow night.

Coach Heinie Miller will match his "Regulars" against Clemson and his "B" performers against American University.

Luckman's Contract Extended Thru 1949

CHICAGO, Feb. 13—(AP)—Quarterback Sid Luckman, who has pitched a football something like eight miles for 125 touchdowns in nine National Football League seasons, has extended his Chicago Bear contract another season, through 1949.

Previously signed for 1948, Luckman yesterday added anothed season to a two-year contract signed with the Bears last winter.

Docusen Defeats Burton In Tame Bout In Garden

Gavilan And Zivic Capture Decisions

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (INS)—Bernard Docusen, New Orleans Filipino, tonight won a tame, liberally-hooted 10-round decision over Gene Burton, New York negro.

Referee Arthur Donovan frequently warned the fighters to mix it up, but they staggered and struggled to the finish with little action.

Donovan and one judge voted for Docusen and the other judge called it a draw.

The bout was expected to produce an over-the-weight opponent for Lightweight Champion Ike Williams or a title challenger for Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson. Apparently both fighters eliminated themselves from further consideration.

Docusen weighed 143¼ against 142¼ for Burton.

LaSalle Is Loser At Altoona, 43-32

Altoona Catholic Hands Explorers 9th Defeat

LaSalle High School's basketball team fell below the .500 mark for the first time this season when it dropped a 43 to 32 decision to Altoona Catholic High School in Altoona, Pa., last night.

It was the Explorers' ninth defeat of the season against eight victories.

The Marauders held a 13-10 lead over LaSalle at the end of the first period, increased their advantage to 23-15 at the intermission and held the long end of a 32-22 score when the third quarter ended.

Fox was the "big gun" for Altoona with eight field goals and a total of 17 points. Jimmie Collins topped LaSalle's scorers with 10 points.

LaSalle will play Gonzaga High School at the National Guard Armory in Washington, D. C., Sunday afternoon.

Mickey Walker Hits Big Time As Artist

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 13. (INS) — Mickey Walker, former world welterweight and middleweight champion, hit the big-time today as an artist.

The fabulous $2,000,000 Casa Marina Hotel announced that the one-time "Toy Bulldog" of the prize ring has been commissioned to do five paintings to be hung in the new hotel's lavish lobbies.

Walker currently is on tour for Police Gazette seeking a fighter to be developed into a heavyweight title challenger.

Walker is sports editor of the magazine, but will take time off to do the paintings, the first such big assignment he has had.

He started painting soon after he retired from the ring and has had several New York shows.

Adopt Freshman Rule

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13— (AP) — Johns Hopkins University will adopt the freshman rule for all sports, starting next fall, Athletic Director C. Gardner Mallonee announced today.

First-year men are already banned from varsity basketball and lacrosse under a policy started last year.

Ridgeley Wallops Piedmont, 42-23 For 7th Straight Victory In PVC

Keyser And Petersburg Also Score Triumphs

Ridgeley High School continued to brush aside all opposition in the Potomac Valley Conference by walloping Piedmont High School's Lions last night at Piedmont, W. Va., by the convincing score of 42 to 23.

It was the seventh straight conference victory for Coach Jesse Riggleman's Blackhawks who are undefeated in the 15-team circuit.

Quarter scores were 12-5, 33-11, and 29-17 with the Hawks on top throughout.

Bill Brehany, Roy Comer and Joe Moss headed the attack with 11, 10 and eight points.

Keyser Trounces Romney

Keyser High School crushed Romney High School on the latter's court by the score of 46 to 16.

The Pioneers were limited to eight field goals while Keyser collected a total of 19. Lee paced the Keyser offensive with 15 points.

At half time Keyser held a 22-6 advantage.

Romney's Jayvees topped Keyser's Jayvees in the first game of the twin bill, 29-28.

Fort Hill High School's undefeated girls' basketball team took over undisputed possession of first place in the Western Maryland Interscholastic League yesterday by defeating Allegany High School on its home court by the score of 16 to 13.

The victory gave Coach Henrietta Paupe Snyder's sextet a clean sweep of the two-game series with its city rival, the Hilltoppers having copped the opener on January 8 by the margin of three points——24 to 21.

At no time did Allegany hold the lead in yesterday's game. The score was knotted at 2-2, 4-4 and 9-9. Midway in the third quarter Geraldine "Jerry" Kirby broke the 9-9 deadlock with two field goals in rapid succession and the Fort Hill team was never headed.

Conway's Goal Clincher

Allegany trailed at 13-11 on Dolores Howe's fielder as the fourth quarter got under way. Kirby sank one of two free throws and Hilton put AHS one point in the rear at 14-13 with a fielder 1:30 before the final whistle. Then Oleta "Casey's goal made victory sure for the White-clad sextet from Greenway avenue.

In the first period baskets by Shirley Tower and Clare Hudson tied the score at 2-2 and Kirby's goal gave Fort Hill a 4-2 edge. Tower's double-decker made it 4-4 as the second quarter got under way but Hudson's fielder and two free throws by Conway gave Fort Hill a four-point lead at 8-4. AHS trailed at halftime, 8-7, after Hilton sank a charity toss and Howe connected for a field goal.

After Kirby's singleton in two tries made it 9-7 in favor of Fort Hill as the third stanza opened, Howe tied it up at 9-all with a fielder. Then Kirby meshed two baskets to give the Hilltoppers the long end of a 13-9 score as the third quarter ended.

AHS Weak At Foul Line

Each team scored six field goals but Fort Hill had the edge at the foul line by sinking four out of 10 shots while the Campobello team converted only one of eight chances.

Donna Decker, Fort Hill guard, suffered a sprained ankle 1:30 before the final whistle but finished the game.

High scoring honors went to "Jerry" Kirby who collected eight points on three field goals and two foul goals.

Central Defeats Beall

Central High School atoned for a 31-21 defeat at the hands of Beall High School by winning the return game from the Frostburg girls yesterday in Lonaconing by the score of 25-17.

Beall held an 8-5 lead in the first period but Central forged to the front at 13-10 at the half and stayed there the remainder of the game. The score was 19-13 when the third quarter ended.

Althea Beeman was the "big noise" in this game with 16 points to her credit, including seven field goals. Hanna Turner accounted for all of Beall's points. The latter was foulded out of the game. Lineups:

PUGNACIOUS IRISHMAN SWINGS AT JOE LOUIS BUT HIS AIM IS POOR

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis easily retained his title early today in a night club encounter with a 50-year-old Irishman whose pugnacity was unquestioned but whose aim was poor.

The only swing was taken by Thomas Delaney. He landed on the floor. Witnesses said the only contribution Louis made to this result was some fancy footwork in ducking the punch.

The champion was leaving the Ebony Club, Broadway night spot, with friends, when Delaney stepped up.

"So you're Joe Louis," the Irishman said. "Well, I'm going to beat Walcott to the title. I'm going to become the first Irish heavyweight champion of the world."

Louis hurried out of the club and murmured something about "foolish fellow" as he stepped into his car.

Police took the 6-foot, 200-pound Delaney to a precinct station, advised him Friday the 13th was the wrong day to challenge Louis, and released him.

Button Is Figure Skating Champion

American Cops World Title In Switzerland

DAVOS PLATZ, Switzerland, Feb. 13. (AP)—Dick Button, the handsome 18-year-old prodigy from Englewood, N. J., came from behind today to add the men's world figure skating championship to the Olympic crown he won last week at St. Moritz.

In a flawless display of free-style skating, the American youth easily overcame a lead which his staunch rival, Hans Gerschweiler of Switzerland, had taken in yesterday's compulsory figures.

Once again, as in the Olympics, the 28-year-old Gerschweiler fell today while attempting an intricate figure, and Button sailed on to victory. The final count of the nine judges gave Button 1,980.7 points to Gerschweiler's 1,948.5.

Ede Kiraly of Hungary gained third place with 1,917.9 points, and then came two more Americans, John Lettingarver of St. Paul, Minn., with 1,909.8 points, and Jimmie Grogan of Oakland, Calif., with 1,807.2.

H. Graham Sharp, an Englishman, slightly outscored Grogan, with 1,809.9 points, but the judges, as is their perogative, placed the California boy fifth and Sharp sixth. Fourteen skaters competed, but there was never a doubt that either Gerschweiler, the defending champion, or Button would be the winner.

There was even less doubt as to the eventual winner of the women's competition, which began immediately the men had left the ice. Beauteous Barbara Ann Scott of Canada was considered a cinch to retain her world title as easily as she waltzed away with Olympic honors.

At the end of the first two school figures skated today, Barbara Ann held a lead of more than four points over her closest rival, Jeannette Altwegg of England. The unofficial count was Scott 340.3 points; Altwegg 336.1.

Yvonne Sherman of New York City, the only American entrant, was in sixth place with 318.7. Eileen Seigh of Brooklyn withdrew as the contest began, reducing the field to 20 girls.

The remaining four compulsory figures will be skated tomorrow, and on Sunday each competitor will do four minutes of free style. If Miss Scott wins, it will mark the first time that both world titles have been carried across the Atlantic.

BEDFORD HIGH TOPS FERNDALE, 44 TO 43

BEDFORD, Pa., Feb. 13 — Bedford High School's Bisons eked out a 44 to 43 decision over Ferndale High of Johnstown, Pa., tonight on the local court.

The game was highlighted by the shooting of Naugle, Renick and Sponsler, Bedford junior varsity players, who accounted for 31 points.

Ferndale outscored the Buffaloes 16 to 14 in field goals but the home team held a 16-11 edge in points scored at the foul line.

In the preliminary contest, Ferndale's Jayvees topped Bedford, 22 to 18. Lineups:

Allegany And Central Trim Beall, Barton

Fort Hill High School made it eight straight wins in the W.M.I. League by hanging it on Bruce High School, 56-39, last night on the Fort Hill court.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's aggregation scored 21 field goals and converted 14 of 24 shots at the charity line. Bruce was limited to an even dozen goals and connected for 15 points in 26 attempts at the 15-foot mark.

Don Moran, Bruce center, scored 18 points to grab high point honors, while Charley Lattimer was the Sentinel's high man with 13 markers.

Fort Hill held led throughout, the quarter scores being 19-9, 30-18 and 41-27.

In the preliminary game Fort Hill Reserves topped the Bruce Reserves, 35-13.

AHS Scores At Beall

At Frostburg, Allegany High registered its seventh triumph in eight league starts by defeating a crippled Beall High quintet, 42-27.

The Mountaineers playing without the services of Truly and Robeson, who were out of action on account of illness, trailed throughout. The quarter scores were 4-1, 20-8 and 31-18.

Don Lilya and Ronnie Sterne accounted for 27 AHS points while Farrady and Coleman shared 20 Beall markers. Beall lost Scarpelli on personal fouls in the 4th quarter.

Allegany's Jayvees defeated Beall in the preliminary game, 50-18.

Barton Bows To Central

Barton High School went down to defeat at Central High School, Lonaconing, 42-35.

Trailing 29-27, the Tigers yanked the ball game out of the fire with a garrison finish. In the last four minutes of play Rowan's foul broke a 31-31 tie and Ralston's shooting put the game on ice for the Orange ad Black.

Lambertson, Green and Tichnell of Barton were ejected on personal fouls.

Ralston scored 16 points for Central while Green collected 10 to top Barton. Lineups:

Niland To Fight Howard Monday

Fred Perry Is Named Announcer For Show

Joe Niland, local 155-pounder, will swap punches with Bob Howard, of the Merrick Boys' Club, Washington, D. C., in one of the three-round bouts on the Cumberland Amvets' boxing card Monday at the State Armory, Matchmaker "Sparky" Chisholm announced last night.

Howard recently gave "Skeets" Starkey a great fight but lost the decision.

Fred Perry, manager of the Liberty Theater, will be the master of ceremonies and will introduce the boxers on Monday's program which will be topped by the five-rounder between "Skeets" Starkey, local welterweight, and Homer Boone, of Lewistown, Pa.

Boxing Dates Set

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP) — The United States Olympic boxing finals trials will be held at Boston, Mass., June 28 and 29, James A. Lee of Cleveland, chairman of the American Olympic Boxing committee, announced today.

Bi-State League Elects Officers

Smith, Bradley, March Named At Lonaconing

LONACONING, Feb. 13—Robert Smith of Lonaconing was elected president of the Bi-State Baseball League at the annual meeting of the circuit held tonight at the Lonaconing Republican Club.

John Bradley of Barton was elected vice president and Lonnie Marsh of Westernport was named secretary-treasurer.

Nine of last year's ten franchises holders were present at tonight's meeting. The only team not represented was the Romney (W. Va.) Rockets and it was announced that Romney will be represented in the Interstate League this year.

Teams represented were Hyndman (Pa.) Firemen, Frostburg VFW, Barton Legion, Mt. Savage, Midland, Westvaco, Queen City Brewers of Cumberland, Lonaconing Republican Club and the Amvets of Cumberland, 1947 champions.

Teams desiring to fill the vacant berth in the league are requested to send their representatives to the next meeting of the loop to be announced later. Franchise fee of $50 must be posted by each team.

STAN ROJEK PROVES HONESTY PAYS OFF

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 13—(AP)—Stan Rojek says honesty pays off.

The North Tonawanda shortstop, recently traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates by Brooklyn, told a group attending a sports gathering last night about the time he was offered a bonus to jump to the Mexican League.

Rojek said he refused, of course, and when Branch Rickey of the Dodgers heard about it he gave him $1,000 for "being honest and using his head."

LaMotta Fined $1,000, Suspended Until June

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission today suspended boxer Jake Lamotta until June 21 and fined him $1,000 for having concealed facts of his physical condition before he was stopped by Billy Fox of Philadelphia on Nov. 14 at Madison Square Garden.

Lamotta has been under "temporary suspension" ever since Nov. 21, when he admitted to the commission that he went into the Fox fight with an injured side and against the advice of his physician. The bout was halted in the fourth round after Lamotta had taken a fierce beating from the Philadelphia Negro.

Col. Eddie Egan, chairman of the commission, said today that final disposition of Lamotta's case had been held up pending the outcome of an investigation of the fight by the New York Grand Jury. The grand jury, he said, had uncovered no additional facts, so it now was possible to close the case.

Player's Father Blamed For Attack On Referee

HACKENSACK, N. J., Feb. 13. (AP) —Al Brown, high school basketball referee who suffered a brain concussion in an attack which police blamed on the irate father of a schoolboy athlete, was reported in satisfactory condition today at the Hackensack Hospital.

Brown was thrown to the floor during a game between Long Branch and Morristown High Schools Tuesday night after calling four personal fouls against a Long Branch player, Joseph Oxley, in the first period.

Police arrested the boy's father, Barrett Oxley, Sr., 45, for the attack. He was freed yesterday on $500 bail pending a hearing Feb. 21 on a charge of atrocious assault and battery.

Maryland Ring Team Seeks Double Win

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 13 (AP) —The University of Maryland boxing team will try for a double victory here tomorrow night.

Coach Heinie Miller will match his "Regulars" against Clemson and his "B" performers against American University.

Luckman's Contract Extended Thru 1949

CHICAGO, Feb. 13—(AP)—Quarterback Sid Luckman, who has pitched a football something like eight miles for 125 touchdowns in nine National Football League seasons, has extended his Chicago Bear contract another season, through 1949.

Previously signed for 1948, Luckman yesterday added anothed season to a two-year contract signed with the Bears last winter.

Docusen Defeats Burton In Tame Bout In Garden

Gavilan And Zivic Capture Decisions

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (INS)—Bernard Docusen, New Orleans Filipino, tonight won a tame, liberally-hooted 10-round decision over Gene Burton, New York negro.

Referee Arthur Donovan frequently warned the fighters to mix it up, but they staggered and struggled to the finish with little action.

Donovan and one judge voted for Docusen and the other judge called it a draw.

The bout was expected to produce an over-the-weight opponent for Lightweight Champion Ike Williams or a title challenger for Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson. Apparently both fighters eliminated themselves from further consideration.

Docusen weighed 143¼ against 142¼ for Burton.

LaSalle Is Loser At Altoona, 43-32

Altoona Catholic Hands Explorers 9th Defeat

LaSalle High School's basketball team fell below the .500 mark for the first time this season when it dropped a 43 to 32 decision to Altoona Catholic High School in Altoona, Pa., last night.

It was the Explorers' ninth defeat of the season against eight victories.

The Marauders held a 13-10 lead over LaSalle at the end of the first period, increased their advantage to 23-15 at the intermission and held the long end of a 32-22 score when the third quarter ended.

Fox was the "big gun" for Altoona with eight field goals and a total of 17 points. Jimmie Collins topped LaSalle's scorers with 10 points.

Mickey Walker Hits Big Time As Artist

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 13. (INS) — Mickey Walker, former world welterweight and middleweight champion, hit the big-time today as an artist.

The fabulous $2,000,000 Casa Marina Hotel announced that the one-time "Toy Bulldog" of the prize ring has been commissioned to do five paintings to be hung in the new hotel's lavish lobbies.

Walker currently is on tour for Police Gazette seeking a fighter to be developed into a heavyweight title challenger.

Walker is sports editor of the magazine, but will take time off to do the paintings, the first such big assignment he has had.

He started painting soon after he retired from the ring and has had several New York shows.

Adopt Freshman Rule

BALTIMORE, Feb. 13— (AP) — Johns Hopkins University will adopt the freshman rule for all sports, starting next fall, Athletic Director C. Gardner Mallonee announced today.

First-year men are already banned from varsity basketball and lacrosse under a policy started last year.

Ridgeley Wallops Piedmont, 42-23 For 7th Straight Victory In PVC

Keyser And Petersburg Also Score Triumphs

Ridgeley High School continued to brush aside all opposition in the Potomac Valley Conference by walloping Piedmont High School's Lions last night at Piedmont, W. Va., by the convincing score of 42 to 23.

It was the seventh straight conference victory for Coach Jesse Riggleman's Blackhawks who are undefeated in the 15-team circuit.

Quarter scores were 12-5, 33-11, and 29-17 with the Hawks on top throughout.

Bill Brehany, Roy Comer and Joe Moss headed the attack with 11, 10 and eight points.

Keyser Trounces Romney

Keyser High School crushed Romney High School on the latter's court by the score of 46 to 16.

The Pioneers were limited to eight field goals while Keyser collected a total of 19. Lee paced the Keyser offensive with 15 points.

At half time Keyser held a 22-6 advantage.

Central at Fort Hill
Bruce at Beall

Fort Hill High School's undefeated girls' basketball team took over undisputed possession of first place in the Western Maryland Interscholastic League yesterday by defeating Allegany High School on its home court by the score of 16 to 13.

The victory gave Coach Henrietta Paupe Snyder's sextet a clean sweep of the two-game series with its city rival, the Hilltoppers having copped the opener on January 8 by the margin of three points——24 to 21.

At no time did Allegany hold the lead in yesterday's game. The score was knotted at 2-2, 4-4 and 9-9. Midway in the third quarter Geraldine "Jerry" Kirby broke the 9-9 deadlock with two field goals in rapid succession and the Fort Hill team was never headed.

Conway's Goal Clincher

Allegany trailed at 13-11 on Dolores Howe's fielder as the fourth quarter got under way. Kirby sank one of two free throws and Hilton put AHS one point in the rear at 14-13 with a fielder 1:30 before the final whistle. Then Oleta "Casey's goal made victory sure for the White-clad sextet from Greenway avenue.

In the first period baskets by Shirley Tower and Clare Hudson tied the score at 2-2 and Kirby's goal gave Fort Hill a 4-2 edge. Tower's double-decker made it 4-4 as the second quarter got under way but Hudson's fielder and two free throws by Conway gave Fort Hill a four-point lead at 8-4. AHS trailed at halftime, 8-7, after Hilton sank a charity toss and Howe connected for a field goal.

After Kirby's singleton in two tries made it 9-7 in favor of Fort Hill as the third stanza opened, Howe tied it up at 9-all with a fielder. Then Kirby meshed two baskets to give the Hilltoppers the long end of a 13-9 score as the third quarter ended.

AHS Weak At Foul Line

Each team scored six field goals but Fort Hill had the edge at the foul line by sinking four out of 10 shots while the Campobello team converted only one of eight chances.

Donna Decker, Fort Hill guard, suffered a sprained ankle 1:30 before the final whistle but finished the game.

High scoring honors went to "Jerry" Kirby who collected eight points on three field goals and two foul goals.

Central Defeats Beall

Central High School atoned for a 31-21 defeat at the hands of Beall High School by winning the return game from the Frostburg girls yesterday in Lonaconing by the score of 25-17.

Beall held an 8-5 lead in the first period but Central forged to the front at 13-10 at the half and stayed there the remainder of the game. The score was 19-13 when the third quarter ended.

Althea Beeman was the "big noise" in this game with 16 points to her credit, including seven field goals. Hanna Turner accounted for all of Beall's points. The latter was foulded out of the game. Lineups:

PUGNACIOUS IRISHMAN SWINGS AT JOE LOUIS BUT HIS AIM IS POOR

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis easily retained his title early today in a night club encounter with a 50-year-old Irishman whose pugnacity was unquestioned but whose aim was poor.

The only swing was taken by Thomas Delaney. He landed on the floor. Witnesses said the only contribution Louis made to this result was some fancy footwork in ducking the punch.

The champion was leaving the Ebony Club, Broadway night spot, with friends, when Delaney stepped up.

"So you're Joe Louis," the Irishman said. "Well, I'm going to beat Walcott to the title. I'm going to become the first Irish heavyweight champion of the world."

Louis hurried out of the club and murmured something about "foolish fellow" as he stepped into his car.

Police took the 6-foot, 200-pound Delaney to a precinct station, advised him Friday the 13th was the wrong day to challenge Louis, and released him.

Button Is Figure Skating Champion

American Cops World Title In Switzerland

DAVOS PLATZ, Switzerland, Feb. 13. (AP)—Dick Button, the handsome 18-year-old prodigy from Englewood, N. J., came from behind today to add the men's world figure skating championship to the Olympic crown he won last week at St. Moritz.

In a flawless display of free-style skating, the American youth easily overcame a lead which his staunch rival, Hans Gerschweiler of Switzerland, had taken in yesterday's compulsory figures.

Once again, as in the Olympics, the 28-year-old Gerschweiler fell today while attempting an intricate figure, and Button sailed on to victory. The final count of the nine judges gave Button 1,980.7 points to Gerschweiler's 1,948.5.

Ede Kiraly of Hungary gained third place with 1,917.9 points, and then came two more Americans, John Letingarver of St. Paul, Minn., with 1,909.8 points, and Jimmie Grogan of Oakland, Calif., with 1,807.2.

H. Graham Sharp, an Englishman, slightly outscored Grogan, with 1,-809.9 points, but the judges, as is their perogative, placed the California boy fifth and Sharp sixth. Fourteen skaters competed, but there was never a doubt that either Gerschweiler, the defending champion, or Button would be the winner.

There was even less doubt as to the eventual winner of the women's competition, which began immediately the men had left the ice. Beauteous Barbara Ann Scott of Canada was considered a cinch to retain her world title as easily as she waltzed away with Olympic honors.

At the end of the first two school figures skated today, Barbara Ann held a lead of more than four points over her closest rival, Jeannette Altwegg of England. The unofficial count was Scott 340.3 points; Altwegg 336.1.

Yvonne Sherman of New York City, the only American entrant, was in sixth place with 318.7. Eileen Seigh of Brooklyn withdrew as the contest began, reducing the field to 20 girls.

The remaining four compulsory figures will be skated tomorrow, and on Sunday each competitor will do four minutes of free style. If Miss Scott wins, it will mark the first time that both world titles have been carried across the Atlantic.

BEDFORD HIGH TOPS FERNDALE, 44 TO 43

BEDFORD, Pa., Feb. 13 — Bedford High School's Bisons eked out a 44 to 43 decision over Ferndale High of Johnstown, Pa., tonight on the local court.

The game was highlighted by the shooting of Naugle, Renick and Sponsler, Bedford junior varsity players, who accounted for 31 points.

Ferndale outscored the Buffaloes 16 to 14 in field goals but the home team held a 16-11 edge in points scored at the foul line.

In the preliminary contest, Ferndale's Jayvees topped Bedford, 22 to 18. Lineups:

Oakland Mayor Wants Survey On Smoke Control

New Plans For Fire Hall Being Studied

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND—Mayor A. G. Hesen, in a letter to H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland division of the B. and O. Railroad, has asked for a study of the amount of smoke coming from trains as they pass through Oakland.

Hesen told Wyatt numerous complaints had been received about the excessive smoke discoloring public buildings and homes.

He asked for a representative to make a survey to see if a smoke control project could be inaugurated.

Plan New Fire House

Definite plans for a new building to house the Oakland Fire Department, with possibilities for an entirely new community building, are being considered by the volunteer firemen, it was announced following a special meeting of the department Wednesday night.

The executive and building committees met Monday night, and then presented their recommendations to the firemen Wednesday. Details of the plan are lacking, until the committee from the fire department meets in special session with the Mayor and Town Council.

Talk of a new fire house has been in evidence for several years and when the bond issue for the new community building was passed by the citizens several years ago, it was in the plans to have a part of the building set aside for the fire department.

Women Hear Dr. Lusby

At the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday night, Dr. Thomas P. Lusby was the speaker. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Harve Mussard, chairman of the health and safety committee.

Names of members accepted at the last meeting include Mrs. Beatrice Gonder, Miss Wanda Whittaker, Miss Elizabeth Talbott, Mrs. Alta Duling, Mary Lohr, Mrs. Julius Littman, Leona Menke, Oleda Bittinger, Rebecca Teets, Arthelia Dixon and Mrs. Helen Thayer.

Mrs. Wrightsman Rites

A funeral service was conducted Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the United Brethren Church in Loch Lynn, for Mrs. Ethel Hamill Wrightsman, 53, who died at her home in the Bethlehem community February 9, after a lingering illness.

The service was in charge of Rev. George W. Simpson, pastor, and interment was in Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

She was a daughter of the late Robert and Lacey Ann Hamill and was born in this county July 1, 1893.

Sirviving are her husband, John Wrightsman; two children by a previous marriage, Mrs. John Kitzmiller and Dale Simpson, both of Deer Park; five grandchildren, three brothers and two sisters, Earl, Henry and Getty Hamill, and Mrs. Lndsay Campbell, all of Detroit, Mich.; and Mrs. Clio Borror, of California.

Mrs. Liller Dies

Mrs. Hattie A. Liller, 80, wife of David P. Liller, Red Oak, this county, died Tuesday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. August Boehler, near Zanesville, Ohio, where she had been visiting.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Boehler, of Pleasant Valley, O.; Mrs. H. L. Thomas, Morgantown, W. Va.; and three sons, Ralph D. Liller and Garrett Liller, Gormania; Richard Liller, Parsons, W. Va.; 17 grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Aaron Liller. A daughter, Mrs. Charles Liller. died in 1934.

She was born January 13, 1868. She was a member of the Brethren Church at Fairview.

The body was taken to Leighton Funeral Home Thursday evening and a funeral service will be conducted this morning at 10:30 at Maple Spring Brethren Church, Eglon, W. Va.

K. of P. To Honor Old Members

Twenty-two members of Garrett Lodge, No. 112, Knights of Pythias, will receive twenty-five-year veteran jewels at the anniversary program and annual ladies' night in Castle Hall, Friday evening, February 20.

Those eligible to receive the award include Elmer D. Ault, Emory Bolden, George E. Coddington, Wilfred Chadderton, James H. Campbell, C. P. Cuppett, Artie E. Dodge, Paul W. Frazee, Paul M. Friend, Ernest Gortner, Malone Gainer, I. E. Hardesty, Milburn W. Mann, Arthur Naylor, T. J. Roy, Charles C. Reckard, George O. Sweitzer, Edward Sembower, Stephen D. Sanders, Ray Teets, J. Philip Walter and George Welling.

Other features are being planned for the occasion by various committees.

Timber Meeting Planned

Controversy over the Forest Conservation Act and its regulations will be aired at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Land and Timber Owners Protective Association, to be held in the Accident school house Tuesday evening, February 17, according to Ralph Ault, secretary.

The meeting is to decide a course of action in regard to the recent order of the local forestry board that limits the cutting of any trees below seven inches in diameter for commercial purposes.

WSCS To Meet

The general meeting of the WSCS of the Methodist church will be held February 18, at the assembly room, at which time Mrs. William Bitzer will address the society on the subject of "We the People," which is the study course theme for the year.

Mrs. Bitzer is Conference Missionary secretary of Moorefield District of the Methodist church. She studied the topic under Paul Douglass of the American Institute, at Ocean Grove last summer.

The meeting is in the form of a 6 o'clock supper which is in charge of Mrs. Margaret Liller, chairman of local Methodist church activities.

Friendsville Elects

William F. Frazee was elected mayor of Friendsville at the town's municipal election recently.

Ray Lytle and Cecil F. Schroyer were re-elected as councilmen, and Jonas Bittinger was the third councilman chosen. Aubrey Custer, whose term expired this year, was not a candidate for re-election.

Holdover members are Clarence Nicklow, Laurence Friend and John Williams. The first meeting of the new council will be held the first Monday in March.

KEMPTON MINES CLOSE FOR FUNERAL

By BURNETTA ARNOLD

KEMPTON, W. Va., — Kempton mines were idle Wednesday so the employes could attend the funeral of Joseph Proud, Thomas, who was the pumper at the Kempton mines for several years.

Members of the local union, Homer Evans, William Broll, William Hilton and Jack Lipovic, Sr., were pallbearers.

Personals

Douglas Eugene Buckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckley, has been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Scripp, Bayard, visited friends and relatives in Kempton.

Mrs. Kenneth Jackson has returned after visiting her husband, who is improving at Philippi Hospital.

Jack Duling, a veteran of World War II, has re-enlisted in the Navy.

Mrs. Opal Terrant and daughter, Josephine, Table Rock, Md., visited friends in Kempton.

John Keating Is Taken By Death At Detroit Home

Last Rites Will Be Held Monday

By MARIE MERRBACH

LONACONING — John Keating, son of the late Thomas and Margaret O'Toole Keating, died at his home in Detroit, Mich., Thursday. Mr. Keating left Lonaconing 25 years ago to reside in Detroit.

A funeral service will be held Monday at Holy Redeemer Catholic Church, Detroit.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edna Keating; three children, Thomas, Patrick and Delores; two brothers, Charles, Detroit, and James Keating Cumberland; and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Milton, Cumberland, and Mrs. Mary Woods, Lonaconing.

Ellis Byers Dies

Ellis Byers, a former resident of Lonaconing, died in the Veterans Hospital at Aspinwall, Pa., Friday morning following a heart attack.

Mr. Byers was a native of Lonaconing, son of William and Margaret Byers. He was engaged in the coal operating business. He left Lonaconing about 25 years ago, and had been residing in Grafton, W. Va. He was a veteran of World War 1.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Hazel Byers, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Edward Walker; two sons, William and Jack at home, one grandchild; and two brothers, William and Adam Byers, Lonaconing. The late Mrs. William C. Abbott, Lonaconing, was a sister.

To Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas Fisher, 17 East Main Street, will observe their golden wedding anniversary tomorrow. Mrs. Fisher before her marriage was Miss Hattie Conno.

They were married in Frostburg

They were married in Frostburg, February, 15, 1898, by Rev. T. Marshall West, Sr., Methodist minister.

Both were born in Lonaconing and have been lifelong residents here. Mr. Fisher is a retired miner, and at present is employed by the County Commissioners as a warden at Sylvan Retreat.

The couple had three children. Irene, a graduate of Maryland General Hospital, died in 1931. Lesta, now Mrs. Thomas V. McGuire, lives in Westernport. Marabel is Mrs. Frank P. Haran, a teacher at Central School.

They have three granddaughters.

Open house will be held from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9 p. m. tomorrow.

Meeting Room Granted

Alvin C. Neat Post, VFW, met Thursday night and granted the Young Women's Club a room for meetings.

Capt. Reeves, Company D, 115th Infantry, National Guard, Frostburg, gave a short talk on National Guard and its purpose. All young men 17 to 35 interested in the unit are requested to attend regular drill periods each Tuesday at St. Michaels Hall, Frostburg, at 7:30 p. m.

Edgar Gross and his solovox, featuring Py Harvey, are playing this month on Wednesdays and Saturday evenings. Admission is by 1948 membership cards.

The drill team and burial squad of the local VFW will hold a porkkraut fete Monday night, at 8 o'clock after which a Navy movie will be shown.

Tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. the ladies auxiliary will bowl the Henry Hart Auxiliary of Cumberland at Grove's Alley, Lonaconing.

Bake Sale Planned

A bake sale will be held Saturday, beginning at 9:30 a. m. in Atkinson's store room by the sophomore class of Central high school.

Those in charge are Delores Nichols, Margaret Bogie, Delores Beeman, Marilyn Wilhelm, Martha Bishop, Jennie Lee Miller, Billy Johnson and Jack Miller.

Coronation Held

Jeannette Kirkwood and James Getson were crowned "Queen and King" of the Valentine dance held Thursday night at Central High School by the junior class, attended by 100 persons.

The coronation ceremony was performed by Kendrick Y. Hodgdon, class adviser, and Miss Ruth Lee Cuthbertson, class president. The couple was chosen by holding the lucky number in the sweetheart waltz played at 9:30 p. m.

While the "Sweetheart Couple" reigned over the dance, "So Far" was played as their favorite selection.

END MEN—William Neff (left) as "Snowball" and Jack Woods (right) as "Tambo" will be two of the end men in the "Minstrel Melodies of 1948" to be given by the music department of Central High School, Lonaconing, February 26.

Spanish War Veterans Mark 50th Anniversary With Dinner In Luke

By GEORGE DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT—The 50th anniversary of the Spanish-American War was observed by Potomac Camp No. 5, United Spanish War Veterans, with a turkey dinner at Roberts Restaurant, Luke.

The huge cake was cut by John D. Kennedy, Keyser, commander, assisted by his wife, and served to veterans and their guests.

Officers for the year were elected and installed by Charles A. Boyles, past department commander. They include:

Henry W. Nau

Henry W. Nau, 90, retired railroad blacksmith and former city commissioner of Westernport, died yesterday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock at his home, 329 Vine Street, Westernport, after an illness of four months.

A native of Piedmont, he was a son of the late Conrad and Theresa Huffman Nau and had been a lifelong resident of the Tri-Towns.

Mr. Nau learned the blacksmith's trade at the old B. and O. shops in Piedmont and worked there and at the Keyser shops for 51 years prior to his retirement 30 years ago.

An active Democrat, he served on the election board here for the past 40 years and served as councilman for two terms. He was a member of Piedmont Council No. 685, Knights of Columbus, and of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport.

His wife, the former Mary Frances Shafer, died 19 years ago.

Surviving are four daughters, Miss Elizabeth Nau and Mrs. Guy Orndorff, both at home; Mrs. John David Mongold, Westernport, and Mrs. Lawrence Coburn, Lonaconing; one sister, Mrs. Theresa Coalson, Cresaptown; four grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Ministers Plan Program

A co-ordinated program of sermons and visitations to encourage church and Sunday school attendance was planned yesterday by the Tri-Towns Ministerial Association.

Teams to be composed of 12 persons will be formed to stimulate the attendance. The program will run for seven Sundays after Easter.

The plan of a consolidated program of Lenten services was abandoned after it was discovered that the ministers already have plans for services in the respective churches.

Admitted To Bar

William Frank Mansfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Mansfield, Church Street, Westernport, passed the District of Columbia Bar examination, he learned Wednesday.

Mansfield was graduated last June from Georgetown University after completing his law studies at night school. At present he is secretary to the Rent Control Commission, Washington.

Bible Class Meets

The monthly meeting of the Philathea Bible Class, First Baptist Church, Westernport, met at the home of Mrs. William Kelly, Ashfield Street, Piedmont, recently.

3 Keyser Scouts Get Eagle Award At Honor Court

Workman, Bishoff, Hixenbaugh Honored

By JUNE B. ROLLEY

KEYSER, W. Va.—Approximately 170 persons attended the Scout Court of Honor and banquet held at First Presbyterian Church Thursday.

Immediately following the dinner the presentation of officers, who were recently elected in New Creek District, was made by Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State School, who served as master of ceremonies.

Officers presented are: Dr. Robert T. Coffman, scout commissioner of New Creek District; James H. Swadley, Jr., executive commissioner; Lawrence Lewis, camp and activities chairman, with Edgar Ward, as assistant; Edgell Grayson, finance chairman; and E. Wade Thomas, safety chairman, with Lester Oates as assistant. Guests introduced were Kenneth E. Jackson, chief Scout executive of Potomac Council; Earl Black, Potomac Council field director, both of Cumberland; Justin Jussel, regional field director, New York; Allen Fortney, district chairman and scoutmaster for the Tri-Towns area, and Martin L. Watson, Keyser, member of the National Scout Council.

Of the numerous awards presented during the Court of Honor were three Eagle Scout Awards to three members of Troop 39, Glenn O. Workman, William Bishoff and Marshall Hixenbaugh. It is believed that it is the first time in the history of Potomac Council for three members of the same troop to receive Eagle Awards at the same time.

Parents of the three scouts made the awards. They are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn O. Workman, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Chester K. Bishoff, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hixenbaugh.

Special awards presented by Jackson were Douglas Spencer, four-year perfect attendance; William Bishoff, seven-year perfect attendance, both of Troop 39; Douglas Spencer, Glenn O. Workman, Marion Dorsey, all of Troop 39, were presented 5-year veteran awards by Jackson.

Court Officials To Dine

Secretaries and clerks to officials of the Mineral County Court House will be guests at a turkey dinner to be served at the Shrine Club, Main Street, today at 12 o'clock noon.

Those attending will be Paul W. Dayton, clerk of Circuit Court; Juanita Rotruck, deputy clerk; Harry Rogers, clerk of the County Court, and Mabel Cannon, Faye Hawk and Mary Nelson Huffman, all of his office; Frank Hott, tax assessor, and his secretary, Ruth Elaine Rotruck; H. I. Idleman, county superintendent of schools, and his secretaries, Marie McDowell, and Georganna Kelly; Sheriff James A. Dixon, and Adrian Clark, deputy sheriff; William Waller, county health sanitarian officer, and his office assistants, Charlotte Waller and Henrietta Allen, county health nurse; Judge Ernest A. See, Margaret Pence, court reporter; Vernon A. Rankin, prosecuting attorney, his secretary, Gay Mellon; and West Virginia State Troopers Frank Bowley and Robert Karickhoff.

Jacob Shear, president of the Shrine Club, will be a guest.

Registration Canvass Underway

Harry Rogers, clerk of the County Court, reports that a house to house canvass by 62 workers is being made in Mineral County for the registration of voters for the primary election. A Republican and Democrat is working in each of the 31 precincts, Rogers said.

Keyser Without Electricity

All of Keyser and vicinity was without electricity yesterday morning from 6 o'clock to 6:45 when a pole at McCoole, which evidently had been hit by a car earlier in the week, fell to the ground, severing a 33,000 volt line that brings power to Keyser from Cumberland.

Earlier in the morning it was reported that a transformer on a pole near the Royale Dairy on South Water Street burned out.

Dancers Well Received

The concert presented in Keyser High School auditorium last night by the famous Spanish dancers, Rosario, Antonio and Company, was well received. The appearance of these artists marked the first of a series of three concerts to be presented by the Keyser Community Concert Association.

Opening the program was the traditional opening number of dance programs in Spain, "Sevilla" by Albeniz. Spanish dances and music featured the entire program which consisted of 16 dances and instrumental numbers.

$650 Is Pledged For Support Of The Arion Band

Campaign For $5,000 Is Getting Underway

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—Six hundred and fifty dollars was pledged at a Lions Club-sponsored meeting in City Hall Wednesday for the purpose of arranging a community-wide drive for $5,000 to equip the Arion Band with new uniforms and for other financial needs, such as repairing instruments, remodeling the band hall and purchasing new music.

Those making the pledges were Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, represented by Frank T. Powers and Arthur Norris, $500; Green Chevrolet Company, represented by S. W. Green, $50; and Hafer Furniture Company, represented by Mrs. Pearl Mattingly, $100. An additional $250 was assured by an organization whose representative stated the pledge would have to be approved at a meeting before it could be announced.

W. W. Sluss, president of the Lions Club, presided and announced that a committee, including all members of the Lions Club, headed by Darrell Zeller as general chairman and Charles Shutz as general secretary, will launch the community-wide drive at a meeting February 26 in City Hall. In the meantime, an advanced gift committee, consisting of William Dolder and S. W. Green will contact business and professional people for donations to be reported at the February 26 meeting.

The Arion Band was organized here in 1877 with the late Conrad F. Nickel as director and after rehearsing for several months in the Nickel and Gross Furniture Factory located on the site of the Berkowitz Pajama Factory, made its first public appearance in 1878 with 20 members to serenade the late J. S. Metzger, who had been elected mayor on the Republican ticket. From that time until the present, the Arion Band has been one of the county's popular organizations.

In 1899 the band became a part of the state militia, having been admitted to one of Maryland's regiments as the Fourth Battalion Band. It was outfitted with elaborate uniforms by the state and camped with the Fourth Battalion at Camp Jackson, near Frederick, under command of the late Col. George A. Pearre, Cumberland.

In 1912 one of the features of Frostburg's centennial celebration was the appearance of 120 former members from every section of the country marching behind the band in a street parade.

On its various occasions in its history of 70 years when the band found itself in need of funds for new uniforms, instruments, music or other purposes, the people always responded generously.

The band, according to Director Darrell Zeller, has 66 members, the largest in its history. Due to the larger membership and present high prices, more money than ever is needed to keep the organization going. The band receives $300 annually from the Mayor and Council for current expenses.

Oakland Mayor Wants Survey On Smoke Control

New Plans For Fire Hall Being Studied

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND—Mayor A. G. Hesen, in a letter to H. F. Wyatt, superintendent of the Cumberland division of the B. and O. Railroad, has asked for a study of the amount of smoke coming from trains as they pass through Oakland.

Hesen told Wyatt numerous complaints had been received about the excessive smoke discoloring public buildings and homes.

He asked for a representative to make a survey to see if a smoke control project could be inaugurated.

Plan New Fire House

Definite plans for a new building to house the Oakland Fire Department, with possibilities for an entirely new community building, are being considered by the volunteer firemen, it was announced following a special meeting of the department Wednesday night.

The executive and building committees met Monday night, and then presented their recommendations to the firemen Wednesday. Details of the plan are lacking, until the committee from the fire department meets in special session with the Mayor and Town Council.

Talk of a new fire house has been in evidence for several years and when the bond issue for the new community building was passed by the citizens several years ago, it was in the plans to have a part of the building set aside for the fire department.

Women Hear Dr. Lusby

At the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday night, Dr. Thomas P. Lusby was the speaker. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Harve Mussard, chairman of the health and safety committee.

Names of members accepted at the last meeting include Mrs. Beatrice Gonder, Miss Wanda Whittaker, Miss Elizabeth Talbott, Mrs. Alta Duling, Mary Lohr, Mrs. Julius Littman, Leona Menke, Oleda Bittinger, Rebecca Teets, Arthelia Dixon and Mrs. Helen Thayer.

Mrs. Wrightsman Rites

A funeral service was conducted Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the United Brethren Church in Loch Lynn, for Mrs. Ethel Hamill Wrightsman, 53, who died at her home in the Bethlehem community February 9, after a lingering illness.

The service was in charge of Rev. George W. Simpson, pastor, and interment was in Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

She was a daughter of the late Robert and Lacey Ann Hamill and was born in this county July 1, 1893.

Surviving are her husband, John Wrightsman; two children by a previous marriage, Mrs. John Kitzmiller and Dale Simpson, both of Deer Park; five grandchildren, three brothers and two sisters, Earl, Henry and Getty Hamill, and Mrs. Lindsay Campbell, all of Detroit, Mich.; and Mrs. Clio Borror, of California.

Mrs. Liller Dies

Mrs. Hattie A. Liller, 80, wife of David P. Liller, Red Oak, this county, died Tuesday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. August Boehler, near Zanesville, Ohio, where she had been visiting.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Boehler, of Pleasant Valley, O.; Mrs. H. L. Thomas, Morgantown, W. Va.; and three sons, Ralph D. Liller and Garrett Liller, Gormania; Richard Liller, Parsons, W. Va.; 17 grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Aaron Liller. A daughter, Mrs. Charles Liller, died in 1934.

She was born January 13, 1868. She was a member of the Brethren Church at Fairview.

The body was taken to Leighton Funeral Home Thursday evening and a funeral service will be conducted this morning at 10:30 at Maple Spring Brethren Church, Eglon, W. Va.

Henry W. Nau

Henry W. Nau, 90, retired railroad blacksmith and former city commissioner of Westernport, died yesterday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock at his home, 329 Vine Street, Westernport, after an illness of four months.

A native of Piedmont, he was a son of the late Conrad and Theresa Huffman Nau and had been a lifelong resident of the Tri-Towns.

Mr. Nau learned the blacksmith's trade at the old B. and O. shops in Piedmont and worked there and at the Keyser shops for 51 years prior to his retirement 30 years ago.

An active Democrat, he served on the election board here for the past 40 years and served as councilman for two terms. He was a member of Piedmont Council No. 685, Knights of Columbus, and of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport.

His wife, the former Mary Frances Shafer, died 19 years ago.

Surviving are four daughters, Miss Elizabeth Nau and Mrs. Guy Orndorff, both at home; Mrs. John David Mongold, Westernport, and Mrs. Lawrence Coburn, Lonaconing; one sister, Mrs. Theresa Coalson, Cresaptown; four grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Ministers Plan Program

A co-ordinated program of sermons and visitations to encourage church and Sunday school attendance was planned yesterday by the Tri-Towns Ministerial Association.

Teams to be composed of 12 persons will be formed to stimulate the attendance. The program will run for seven Sundays after Easter.

The plan of a consolidated program of Lenten services was abandoned after it was discovered that the ministers already have plans for services in the respective churches.

Admitted To Bar

William Frank Mansfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Mansfield, Church Street, Westernport, passed the District of Columbia Bar examination, he learned Wednesday.

Mansfield was graduated last June from Georgetown University after completing his law studies at night school. At present he is secretary to the Rent Control Commission, Washington.

Bible Class Meets

The monthly meeting of the Philathea Bible Class, First Baptist Church, Westernport, met at the home of Mrs. William Kelly, Ashfield Street, Piedmont, recently.

A study of "The Book We Teach" by J. B. Weatherspoon, was begun. Class sisters exchanged Valentine gifts.

Present Minstrel

The Junior Choir of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, recently presented an assembly program in the form of a minstrel in the school auditorium. John Patrick was interlocutor.

To Mark Anniversary

Piedmont Lodge No. 1120, Loyal Order of Moose will observe its second anniversary tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m. at the home, 40 Lyons Street, Piedmont.

Fifteen candidates will be initiated by the Cumberland degree team. A shrimp feed and entertainment will follow.

A dance will begin at 9 p. m. with music by The Collegians Orchestra, Frostburg.

Brief Items

A donation of $15 to the Westernport Health Center to purchase an audiometer to test school children's hearing in Westernport, Luke, Barton and McCoole was ordered at the meeting of the Westernport and Luke Lions Club Thursday evening.

John Rinehart, 203 Spruce Street, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg in a fall on the ice yesterday morning. He is employed as a pipefitter at the Celanese Plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Troxell McKenzie, announce the birth of a son, Guy Thomas McKenzie, at Rutherford Hospital, Rutherfordton, N. C., February 4.

Thomas F. Conlon, Cumberland, Maryland veterans' service officer, will be at Westernport City Building Monday from 10 to 11:30 a. m.

3 Keyser Scouts Get Eagle Award At Honor Court

Workman, Bishoff, Hixenbaugh Honored

By JUNE B. ROLLEY

KEYSER, W. Va.—Approximately 170 persons attended the Scout Court of Honor and banquet held at First Presbyterian Church Thursday.

Immediately following the dinner the presentation of officers, who were recently elected in New Creek District, was made by Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State School, who served as master of ceremonies.

Officers presented are: Dr. Robert T. Coffman, scout commissioner of New Creek District; James H. Swadley, Jr., executive commissioner; Lawrence Lewis, camp and activities chairman, with Edgar Ward, as assistant; Edgell Grayson, finance chairman; and E. Wade Thomas, safety chairman, with Lester Oates as assistant. Guests introduced were Kenneth E. Jackson, chief Scout executive of Potomac Council; Earl Black, Potomac Council field director, both of Cumberland; Justin Jussel, regional field director, New York; Allen Fortney, district chairman and scoutmaster for the Tri-Towns area, and Martin L. Watson, Keyser, member of the National Scout Council.

Of the numerous awards presented during the Court of Honor were three Eagle Scout Awards to three members of Troop 39, Glenn O. Workman, William Bishoff and Marshall Hixenbaugh. It is believed that it is the first time in the history of Potomac Council for three members of the same troop to receive Eagle Awards at the same time.

Parents of the three scouts made the awards. They are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn O. Workman, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Chester K. Bishoff, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hixenbaugh.

Special awards presented by Jackson were Douglas Spencer, four-year perfect attendance; William Bishoff, seven-year perfect attendance, both of Troop 39; Douglas Spencer, Glenn O. Workman, Marion Dorsey, all of Troop 39, were presented 5-year veteran awards by Jackson.

Court Officials To Dine

Secretaries and clerks to officials of the Mineral County Court House will be guests at a turkey dinner to be served at the Shrine Club, Main Street, today at 12 o'clock noon.

Those attending will be Paul W. Dayton, clerk of Circuit Court; Juanita Rotruck, deputy clerk; Harry Rogers, clerk of the County Court, and Mabel Cannon, Faye Hawk and Mary Nelson Huffman, all of his office; Frank Hott, tax assessor, and his secretary, Ruth Elaine Rotruck; H. I. Idleman, county superintendent of schools, and his secretaries, Marie McDowell, and Georganna Kelly; Sheriff James A. Dixon, and Adrian Clark, deputy sheriff; William Waller, county health sanitarian officer, and his office assistants, Charlotte Waller and Henrietta Allen, county health nurse; Judge Ernest A. See, Margaret Pence, court reporter; Vernon A. Rankin, prosecuting attorney, his secretary, Gay Mellon; and West Virginia State Troopers Frank Bowley and Robert Karickhoff.

Jacob Shear, president of the Shrine Club, will be a guest.

Registration Canvass Underway

Harry Rogers, clerk of the County Court, reports that a house to house canvass by 62 workers is being made in Mineral County for the registration of voters for the primary election. A Republican and Democrat is working in each of the 31 precincts, Rogers said.

Keyser Without Electricity

All of Keyser and vicinity was without electricity yesterday morning from 6 o'clock to 6:45 when a pole at McCoole, which evidently had been hit by a car earlier in the week, fell to the ground, severing a 33,000 volt line that brings power to Keyser from Cumberland.

Earlier in the morning it was reported that a transformer on a pole near the Royale Dairy on South Water Street burned out.

Dancers Well Received

The concert presented in Keyser High School auditorium last night by the famous Spanish dancers, Rosario, Antonio and Company, was well received. The appearance of these artists marked the first of a series of three concerts to be presented by the Keyser Community Concert Association.

Opening the program was the traditional opening number of dance programs in Spain, "Sevilla" by Albeniz. Spanish dances and music featured the entire program which consisted of 16 dances and instrumental numbers.

$650 Is Pledged For Support Of The Arion Band

Campaign For $5,000 Is Getting Underway

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—Six hundred and fifty dollars was pledged at a Lions Club-sponsored meeting in City Hall Wednesday for the purpose of arranging a community-wide drive for $5,000 to equip the Arion Band with new uniforms and for other financial needs, such as repairing instruments, remodeling the band hall and purchasing new music.

Those making the pledges were Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, represented by Frank T. Powers and Arthur Norris, $500; Green Chevrolet Company, represented by S. W. Green, $50; and Hafer Furniture Company, represented by Mrs. Pearl Mattingly, $100. An additional $250 was assured by an organization whose representative stated the pledge would have to be approved at a meeting before it could be announced.

W. W. Sluss, president of the Lions Club, presided and announced that a committee, including all members of the Lions Club, headed by Darrell Zeller as general chairman and Charles Shutz as general secretary, will launch the community-wide drive at a meeting February 26 in City Hall. In the meantime, an advanced gift committee, consisting of William Dolder and S. W. Green will contact business and professional people for donations to be reported at the February 26 meeting.

The Arion Band was organized here in 1877 with the late Conrad F. Nickel as director and after rehearsing for several months in the Nickel and Gross Furniture Factory located on the site of the Berkowitz Pajama Factory, made its first public appearance in 1878 with 20 members to serenade the late J. S. Metzger, who had been elected mayor on the Republican ticket. From that time until the present, the Arion Band has been one of the county's popular organizations.

In 1899 the band became a part of the state militia, having been admitted to one of Maryland's regiments as the Fourth Battalion Band. It was outfitted with elaborate uniforms by the state and camped with the Fourth Battalion at Camp Jackson, near Frederick, under command of the late Col. George A. Pearre, Cumberland.

In 1912 one of the features of Frostburg's centennial celebration was the appearance of 120 former members from every section of the country marching behind the band in a street parade.

On its various occasions in its history of 70 years when the band found itself in need of funds for new uniforms, instruments, music or other purposes, the people always responded generously.

The band, according to Director Darrell Zeller, has 66 members, the largest in its history. Due to the larger membership and present high prices, more money than ever is needed to keep the organization going. The band receives $300 annually from the Mayor and Council for current expenses.

P-TA Plans Plays

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our Mother, Mrs. Annie Canoe, who died four years ago, February 14, 1942.

As the snow falls today,
Brings sad memories of the morning you went away.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But God knew the pain you had
And He called you Home.

Sadly missed by her CHILDREN.

CARD OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS 9C

We take this means of publicly expressing sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the illness and following the death of our beloved Mother, Mrs. Louisa Wagner. We are grateful for the many floral tributes, the use of motor cars for the funeral and to all persons who in any manner assisted us.

Her Children, MRS. ANNA PLUMMER, JOHN WAGNER & ALBERT WAGNER.

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to anyone helping us in our recent bereavement, the death of our husband and Father, John Simpson. We especially thank Rev. Gunkel and the choir, those who sent floral tributes and those who loaned cars for the funeral.

Wife and Children, Sisters and Brothers.

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement, the sudden death of our beloved husband and Father, Frank H. McCoy. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.

His Wife and Children.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our Mother, Mrs. Annie Gance, who died four years ago, February 14, 1942.

As the snow falls today,
Brings sad memories of the morning you went away.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But God knew the pain you had
And He called you Home.

Sadly missed by her CHILDREN.

CARD OF THANKS 9C

We take this means of publicly expressing sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the illness and following the death of our beloved Mother, Mrs. Louisa Wagner. We are grateful for the many floral tributes, the use of motor cars for the funeral and to all persons who in any manner assisted us.

Her Children, MRS. ANNA PLUMMER, JOHN WAGNER & ALBERT WAGNER.

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to anyone helping us in our recent bereavement, the death of our husband and Father, John Simpson. We especially thank Rev. Gunkel and the choir, those who sent floral tributes and those who loaned cars for the funeral.

Wife and Children, Sisters and Brothers.

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement, the sudden death of our beloved husband and Father, Frank H. McCoy. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.

His Wife and Children.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our Mother, Mrs. Annie Ganoe, who died four years ago, February 14, 1942.

As the snow falls today,
Brings sad memories of the morning you went away.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But God knew the pain you had
And He called you Home.

Sadly missed by her CHILDREN.

CARD OF THANKS 9C

We take this means of publicly expressing sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the illness and following the death of our beloved Mother, Mrs. Louisa Wagner. We are grateful for the many floral tributes, the use of motor cars for the funeral and to all persons who in any manner assisted us.

Her Children, MRS. ANNA PLUMMER, JOHN WAGNER & ALBERT WAGNER.

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to anyone helping us in our recent bereavement, the death of our husband and Father, John Simpson. We especially thank Rev. Gunkel and the choir, those who sent floral tributes and those who loaned cars for the funeral.

Wife and Children, Sisters and Brothers.

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement, the sudden death of our beloved husband and Father, Frank H. McCoy. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.

His Wife and Children.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our Mother, Mrs. Annie Ganoe, who died four years ago, February 14, 1942.

As the snow falls today,
Brings sad memories of the morning you went away.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But God knew the pain you had
And He called you Home.

Sadly missed by her CHILDREN.

CARD OF THANKS 9C

We take this means of publicly expressing sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the illness and following the death of our beloved Mother, Mrs. Louisa Wagner. We are grateful for the many floral tributes, the use of motor cars for the funeral and to all persons who in any manner assisted us.

Her Children, MRS. ANNA PLUMMER, JOHN WAGNER & ALBERT WAGNER.

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to anyone helping us in our recent bereavement, the death of our husband and Father, John Simpson. We especially thank Rev. Gunkel and the choir, those who sent floral tributes and those who loaned cars for the funeral.

Wife and Children, Sisters and Brothers.

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement, the sudden death of our beloved husband and Father, Frank H. McCoy. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and loaned cars for the funeral.

His Wife and Children.

Easy Aces Team Returning To The Kilocycles On CBS

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—Arturo Toscanini, after a mid-winter rest, returns to the podium of the NBC Symphony orchestra on Saturday. He will direct the next eight concert broadcasts via NBC at 5 p. m. The program will be devoted to music of Richard Strauss, Berlioz and Moussorgsky.

Remember Goodman and Jane Ace of the old Easy Aces script? Well, they've got a comedy script which they intend to introduce on CBS at 7 p. m. as a replacement for Hawk Larabee. It will be known as "Mr. Ace and JANE," the typed listing appearing in just that form. For the supporting roles there will be Leon Janney and Eric Dressler.

A special matinee to last an hour will come to CBS from St. Louis at 4 to call attention to St. Valentine's Day. Listed in the talent is Lanny Ross, veteran of the kilocycles.

From Omaha, MBS at 11:30 a. m. has scheduled a tenth annual National Farm Institute program, with Lady Astor listed as one of the speakers. The theme is "Agriculture and World Reconstruction."

On the Music list: MBS 1:30 p. m. Symphonies for Youth, "Nutcracker Suite;" ABC 2 Metropolitan Opera "Der Rosenkavalier," which gets a rating as a comedy; NBC 3 Orchestras of the Nation, Kalamazoo, Mich., Symphony; MBS 10 the Chicago Theater of the Air, Victor Herbert's operetta "Sweethearts."

Stock Market Registers Its First Overall Average Advance In Week

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—Stocks tried for post-holiday recovery with selective success today although many market leaders failed to emerge from minus territory. The overall average recorded its first advance of the week.

Early improvement of some recently slumping commodities inspired timid bidding for securities.

The Asssociated Press 60-stock composite was up .2 of a point at 60.5. Of 988 issues registering, 377 rose and 379 fell.

Ahead a point or so were Firestone Tire at 44½, Montgomery Ward 50⅝, American Can 79, Allied Chemical 173 and Santa Fe 87¼.

American Telephone dropped better than a point to a new 1947-48 low and finished off seven-eighths at 149. On the downside were Western Union, Consolidatd Edison, Commonwealth Edison, United States Steel and General Motors.

A wide assortment of corporate issues moved up fractions to a point in a relatively quiet bond market.

The foreign dollar section eased, however, and a few inactive domestic obligations showed some sharp declines.

Total sales contracted to $3,320,000 compared with $4,905,000 on Wednesday, the last session before the Lincoln's Birthday recess.

United States governments were quiet with narrow improvement in the over-the-counter market limited to intermediate maturities.

Chicago Board Of Trade

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP) — Grains showed some signs of resisting the price plunge on the Board of Trade today. Oats firmed and distant contracts of wheat and corn held steady.

But May and July corn again collapsed the eight-cent daily limit, and so did all soybean contracts. May wheat ended weak, down five cents. Lard showed strength and ended 30 to 47 cents a hundred pounds higher.

It was a wild trading day. Prices moved swiftly up and down as new buying and selling waves swept into the pits. Observers said a good deal of spreading was going on—buying one contract and selling another in the same grain.

Price declines in May wheat and corn were the largest in history for such a short period, dealers said. May wheat is down 74½ cents and May corn 73½ cents. The January 16 prices were highs for the year, and in the case of corn represented an all-time high. Closing futures:

WHEAT—March 2.40, May 2.33-32; July 2.18⅜-18, September 2.17-15¾, December 2.16⅛-⅜.

CORN—May 1.97¼, July 1.90-89½, September 1.77½-77, December 1.54¾-54.

OBSERVERS SEE BEALL WINNING GOP PRIMARY

J. Glenn Beall, incumbent representative to the United States House of Representatives from Maryland's Sixth District, can expect his opposition to be nil in the Republican primary election this June, according to political observers who recently surveyed the field.

In the Democratic lineup, the observers are paying particular attention to Thomas McConnell, of Forest Glenn, who played a prominent part in breaking the May-Garsson case recently exposed by the War-Profits Investigation Committee.

Also mentioned as a likely Democratic candidate is Arch McDonald, nationally known radio commentator and sports announcer, whom Beall defeated in the last election. McDonald, however, recently indicated that he will not be interested in the 1948 election but said he may return to the political field in 1950 or 1952.

Neither Beall nor McConnell have officially filed their intentions of seeking the Sixth District chair as yet, but indications, according to the observers, are that the announcements will be only a matter of formality.

J. W. Beacham Named Beneficiary Of Estate

The will of Emma B. Lulwig, LaVale, was admitted to probate in Orphans Court here yesterday, with James W. Beacham, her son-in-law, well known local realtor, named sole beneficiary, with the provision that he pay her sisters, Mary B. Carskadon and Frances R. Brengle, the sum of $25 per month during their lifetime. Beacham was also named executor.

Sarah Ella Richards, this city, who died December 1, 1947, bequeathed her estate to her husband, Thomas Davis Richards, in her will, also admitted to probate yesterday.

First Aid Classes Planned For City

An up-to-date first aid course including new treatments for shock and changes in the use of stimulants will be offered to Cumberland citizens on Sunday afternoons, according to H. Lee Silcox, Allegany County Chapter Red Cross first aid chairman.

The course will be aimed particularly at small industry personnel and storekeepers who at present have no working knowledge of first aid, Silcox explained.

Even for persons who have completed previous first aid courses, the chairman said the new classes will be interesting since a number of changes in first aid methods, including use of antiseptics, care of burns and transportation technique changes have been made.

A definite date for opening the course has not been set.

Local Man Fined For Hitting Wife

Charles Miller, 47 North Liberty Street, was fined $5 yesterday in Police Court after his wife testified he struck her in the mouth in a local restaurant during an argument over a picture frame.

Miller told the court he struck his wife only after she threatened him with a butcher knife. Mrs. Miller told police she required treatment after her husband struck her.

George Stewart, 215 Fifth Street, one of three men arrested on disorderly conduct charges early yesterday morning when residents in the Henderson Avenue-Bedford Street section complained about garbage cans being kicked over, was committed to jail for 10 days in default of $10 fine.

His companions, Roy and Raymond Rowe, Ridgeley, were freed after Stewart told the court he kicked the cans over because "I was mad at myself."

Five Join Army

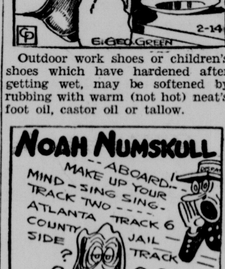

The local recruiting office of the United States Army yesterday sent five men to Baltimore for final processing into Regular Army units. They are:

Robert Cornelius Koelker, 804 Maryland Avenue; Herman Turner, Jack Robert Harper and Richard Lee Day, all of Onega, W. Va., and George Andrew Beerman, Kempton.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Outdoor work shoes or children's shoes which have hardened after getting wet, may be softened by rubbing with warm (not hot) neat's foot oil, castor oil or tallow.

FIVE MOTORISTS FORFEIT BONDS

One driver was fined and five others forfeited bonds amounting to $47.25 yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court for violating state motor laws.

David Bierman, Mexico Farms, paid a fine of $2.75 on a charge of failing to report a traffic accident within 24 hours. He was arrested as the result of a minor mishap on Mexico Farms Road on February 2.

R. Warren Linton, New Market, forfeited $16.45 for passing on a curve on Route 40 at Martin's Mountain on January 10. and M. George Paquette, North Hero, Vt., forfeited $11.45 for exceeding 50 on Route 40 at Pleasant Grove on January 21.

Russell Lee Smith, 86 Elder Street, Oakland, and Donald W. Smith, 972 Piedmont Avenue, each forfeited $6.45 for passing a school bus discharging passengers along Route 40 in LaVale. The former was arrested January 30 and the latter was taken into custody February 4.

H. M. Heise, Baltimore, forfeited $6.45 for exceeding 30 in LaVale January 31.

All six motorists were arrested by State Trooper William F. Baker.

Chicago Board Of Trade

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP)—Grains showed some signs of resisting the price plunge on the Board of Trade today. Oats firmed and distant contracts of wheat and corn held steady.

But May and July corn again collapsed the eight-cent daily limit, and so did all soybean contracts. May wheat ended weak, down five cents. Lard showed strength and ended 30 to 47 cents a hundred pounds higher.

It was a wild trading day. Prices moved swiftly up and down as new buying and selling waves swept into the pits. Observers said a good deal of spreading was going on—buying one contract and selling another in the same grain.

Price declines in May wheat and corn were the largest in history for such a short period, dealers said. May wheat is down 74½ cents and May corn 73½ cents. The January 16 prices were highs for the year, and in the case of corn represented an all-time high. Closing futures:

WHEAT—March 2.40, May 2.33-32; July 2.18⅛-18, September 2.17-15¾, December 2.16⅛-¼.

CORN—May 1.97¼, July 1.90-89½, September 1.77¼-77, December 1.54¾-54.

OATS—March 1.12, May 1.01¼-01, July 87-86¾, September 82½-¾, December 82.

SOYBEANS—March 3.33, May 3.28½, July 3.24½.

LARD—March 20.40, May 20.45-47, July 20.60-65, September 20.72.

CASH WHEAT: None.

CORN: No. 2 yellow 2.04½; No. 3, 2.03-04; No. 4, 1.93-2.00; No. 5, 1.91½.

OATS: No. 1 heavy mixed 1.15; No. 1 mixed 1.14.

OBSERVERS SEE BEALL WINNING GOP PRIMARY

J. Glenn Beall, incumbent representative to the United States House of Representatives from Maryland's Sixth District, can expect his opposition to be nil in the Republican primary election this June, according to political observers who recently surveyed the field.

In the Democratic lineup, the observers are paying particular attention to Thomas McConnell, of Forest Glenn, who played a prominent part in breaking the May-Garsson case recently exposed by the War-Profits Investigation Committee.

Also mentioned as a likely Democratic candidate is Arch McDonald, nationally known radio commentator and sports announcer, whom Beall defeated in the last election. McDonald, however, recently indicated that he will not be interested in the 1948 election but said he may return to the political field in 1950 or 1952.

Neither Beall nor McConnell have officially filed their intentions of seeking the Sixth District chair as yet, but indications, according to the observers, are that the announcements will be only a matter of formality.

J. W. Beacham Named Beneficiary Of Estate

The will of Emma B. Lulwig, LaVale, was admitted to probate in Orphans Court here yesterday, with James W. Beacham, her son-in-law, well known local realtor, named sole beneficiary, with the provision that he pay her sisters, Mary B. Carskadon and Frances R. Brengle, the sum of $25 per month during their lifetime. Beacham was also named executor.

Sarah Ella Richards, this city, who died December 1, 1947, bequeathed her estate to her husband, Thomas Davis Richards, in her will, also admitted to probate yesterday.

First Aid Classes Planned For City

An up-to-date first aid course including new treatments for shock and changes in the use of stimulants will be offered to Cumberland citizens on Sunday afternoons, according to H. Lee Silcox, Allegany County Chapter Red Cross first aid chairman.

The course will be aimed particularly at small industry personnel and storekeepers who at present have no working knowledge of first aid, Silcox explained.

Even for persons who have completed previous first aid courses, the chairman said the new classes will be interesting since a number of changes in first aid methods, including use of antiseptics, care of burns and transportation technique changes have been made.

A definite date for opening the course has not been set.

Local Man Fined For Hitting Wife

Charles Miller, 47 North Liberty Street, was fined $5 yesterday in Police Court after his wife testified he struck her in the mouth in a local restaurant during an argument over a picture frame.

Miller told the court he struck his wife only after she threatened him with a butcher knife. Mrs. Miller told police she required treatment after her husband struck her.

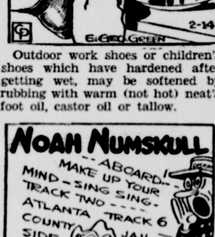

George Stewart, 215 Fifth Street, one of three men arrested on disorderly conduct charges early yesterday morning when residents in the Henderson Avenue-Bedford Street section complained about garbage cans being kicked over, was committed to jail for 10 days in default of $10 fine.

His companions, Roy and Raymond Rowe, Ridgeley, were freed after Stewart told the court he kicked the cans over because "I was mad at myself."

Five Join Army

The local recruiting office of the United States Army yesterday sent five men to Baltimore for final processing into Regular Army units. They are:

Robert Cornelius Koelker, 804 Maryland Avenue; Herman Turner, Jack Robert Harper and Richard Lee Day, all of Onega, W. Va., and George Andrew Beerman, Kempton.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Outdoor work shoes or children's shoes which have hardened after getting wet, may be softened by rubbing with warm (not hot) neat's foot oil, castor oil or tallow.

FIVE MOTORISTS FORFEIT BONDS

One driver was fined and five others forfeited bonds amounting to $47.25 yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court for violating state motor laws.

David Bierman, Mexico Farms, paid a fine of $2.75 on a charge of failing to report a traffic accident within 24 hours. He was arrested as the result of a minor mishap on Mexico Farms Road on February 2.

R. Warren Linton, New Market, forfeited $16.45 for passing on a curve on Route 40 at Martin's Mountain on January 10, and M. George Paquette, North Hero, Vt., forfeited $11.45 for exceeding 50 on Route 40 at Pleasant Grove on January 21.

Russell Lee Smith, 86 Elder Street, Oakland, and Donald W. Smith, 972 Piedmont Avenue, each forfeited $6.45 for passing a school bus discharging passengers along Route 40 in LaVale. The former was arrested January 30 and the latter was taken into custody February 4.

H. M. Heise, Baltimore, forfeited $6.45 for exceeding 30 in LaVale January 31.

All six motorists were arrested by State Trooper William F. Baker.

Numerous Repairs To Court House Being Considered

Extensive repairs to the Court House are being considered by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, and surveys are being planned to determine how much will be needed to make the needed renovations so sufficient funds for the purpose can be provided in the annual budget.
At yesterday's meeting of the Board, members discussed the condition of several parts of the structure and recalled that numerous recent grand jury reports have recommended extensive improvements.
Special attention was called at the meeting to a letter from S. E. White, chief Inspector for Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company regarding the two boilers in the Court House basement. White recommends that the boilers, used to heat the building, be replaced immediately.
Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said he understands the boilers have been in use for many years and must be replaced. Local heating contractors are asked to make a survey and submit estimates on the cost of replacement with modern boilers.
Repairs to the roof and elimination of a serious fire hazard created by the wooden roof structure were also considered, and these plans, too, will be placed in the survey and estimate stage, it was indicated.
Some of the water pipes in the building have been giving trouble lately, and new lighting fixtures, plaster repairs, repainting and other improvements are also badly needed.
A survey has already been made for replacing lights in the Court rooms on the second floor, and it was reported yesterday the acoustic panelling along the walls is also in poor condition.
Commissioner James Holmes and Commissioner William H. Lemmert, Jr., commented that no major work has been attempted at the Court House for years, and the current repair bill will be very high, but the work must be done.

Oakland Man Faces Slot Machine Count

An Oakland magistrate yesterday took under advisement a charge against Robert Coffey, alleged proprietor of the Amvets Club, that he maintained a slot machine in the club rooms, but dismissed a second charge against the man of selling whisky without a license.
Coffey was arrested Monday night by Sheriff Junior S. Teats and Constable Mark H. Moon, who testified they confiscated one slot machine and several bottles of whisky after they forced their way into the club.
Magistrate H. A. Loraditch dismissed the whisky charge because of insufficient evidence but said he will give a verdict on the gaming charge later.

Numerous Repairs To Court House Being Considered

Extensive repairs to the Court House are being considered by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, and surveys are being planned to determine how much will be needed to make the needed renovations so sufficient funds for the purpose can be provided in the annual budget.

At yesterday's meeting of the Board, members discussed the condition of several parts of the structure and recalled that numerous recent grand jury reports have recommended extensive improvements.

Special attention was called at the meeting to a letter from S. E. White, chief inspector for Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company regarding the two boilers in the Court House basement. White recommends that the boilers, used to heat the building, be replaced immediately.

Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said he understands the boilers have been in use for many years and must be replaced. Local heating contractors are asked to make a survey and submit estimates on the cost of replacement with modern boilers.

Repairs to the roof and elimination of a serious fire hazard created by the wooden roof structure were also considered, and these plans, too, will be placed in the survey and estimate stage, it was indicated.

Some of the water pipes in the building have been giving trouble lately, and new lighting fixtures, plaster repairs, repainting and other improvements are also badly needed.

A survey has already been made for replacing lights in the Court rooms on the second floor, and it was reported yesterday the acoustic panelling along the walls is also in poor condition.

Commissioner James Holmes and Commissioner William H. Lemmert, Jr., commented that no major work has been attempted at the Court House for years, and the current repair bill will be very high, but the work must be done.

Oakland Man Faces Slot Machine Count

An Oakland magistrate yesterday took under advisement a charge against Robert Coffey, alleged proprietor of the Amvets Club, that he maintained a slot machine in the club rooms, but dismissed a second charge against the man of selling whisky without a license.

Coffey was arrested Monday night by Sheriff Junior S. Teats and Constable Mark H. Moon, who testified they confiscated one slot machine and several bottles of whisky after they forced their way into the club.

Magistrate H. A. Loraditch dismissed the whisky charge because of insufficient evidence but said he will give a verdict on the gaming charge later.

Library Project To Be Presented To County Board

Plans Discussed At Open Meeting

Sponsors of the county library project plan to present their viewpoint to the Board of County Commissioners at the regular board meeting next Tuesday, Mrs. Stanley Buckley, chairman, said last night at a public meeting held in City Hall to discuss the project.

The project would establish a county library with branch libraries and possibly a mobile unit to be set up at the discretion of a seven-member board of trustees.

Organizations supporting the proposal include the Allegany County Council of Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. Buckley is president; Business and Professional Women's Club; Music and Arts Club, American Association of Childhood Education and the Allegany County Homemakers' Council.

Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., Westernport, chairman of the county delegation to the General Assembly, acted as moderator of last night's discussion, which was attended by about 40 persons.

An enabling act passed by the General Assembly in 1945 empowers the county commissioners of any county in Maryland to establish and maintain county public libraries.. It also provides a state grant of $5,000 for purchase of books for any county which can supply a sum equivalent to the amount which would be raised by a tax of not less than two cents per $100 of taxable property. In Allegany County's case this would amount to $21,346.

Whitworth pointed out that sufficient funds might be available without the necessity of levying the two-cent tax, provided the commissioners approve the plan.

Sponsors of the project pointed out that the minimum amount specified by the law would thus amount to $26,346, or 30 cents per capita for the 86,000 residents of the county.

The American Library Association advises $1 per capita as a requirement for excellent service, while 50 cents is set as the minimum for adequate service. Since the enabling act does not limit the amount to be spent for library service, Mrs. Buckley said the group will suggest a levy of three cents per $100, which would give $32,019 from the county. This plus the $5,000 from the state would total $37,019, or 43 cents per capita.

Whitworth said he believes the Cumberland Free Public Library would probably be designated as the county library if the plan is approved.

Tasker G. Lowndes, president of the State Board of Education and a member of the board of the library, said the board will co-operate with any attempt to set up a county library system. He pointed out, however, that the library is supported by city funds and therefore the board must act under the city commissioners. The current appropriation amounts to about $15,000.

In his opinion, Whitworth said, it would not be possible to undertake the project unless Cumberland took part along with the county.

Delegate Lester Reed, Mt. Savage, said he did not sponsor the enabling act but that he supported it in the legislature and hopes the county will take advantage of its provisions.

J. Milton Dick, who was a delegate at the time the bill was passed, suggested that the county might set up its own library plan, but Whitworth pointed out that such a move would need approval by the General Assembly, which would delay the project until 1949.

Dick said the County Commissioners oppose the "machinery" of the enabling act in its present form.

There was some discussion regarding the possibility of politics entering into the appointment of the seven-member board of trustees, but Whitworth pointed out the board would serve without pay for staggered terms of from one to seven years.

A movie on state library service in Alabama was shown.

Spring Gap Man Is Struck By Car

John E. Hixon, 42, Spring Gap, a B. and O. worker, was treated in Memorial Hospital yesterday morning for possible hip injuries suffered when he was struck by a car while waiting for a ride to work.

Attaches said they were told Hixon was standing on the highway waiting for the car of Thurman Twigg, Oldtown, which struck him when the driver was unable to stop due to the snow and ice. State Trooper Harry S. Bosley, who investigated, preferred no charges. Hixon was released from the hospital after X-rays were taken.

Merle Newton Hivick, 32, Route 5, suffered a sprained ankle Thursday night when hit by a car operated by Joseph A. Minke, 47, 106 McKinley Avenue, near the intersection of Greene and Lee Streets. He was treated in the office of a local physician.

Minke told police that Hivick stepped in front of his machne and was struck by the bumper. The street was slippery, he said.

Miss Kinnear Improves

Miss May Kinnear, 546 Fairview Avenue, who was admitted to Memorial Hospital Thursday for treatment of a compound fracture of the right ankle suffered in a fall down a pair of cellar steps at her home was reported resting well last night.

In an account of the accident yesterday, the News incorrectly reported Miss Kinnear's name as Mrs. Margaret Kinnear.

Order Audit Paid

The expenses of the audit of county books for last year, totaling $1,400 were ordered paid yesterday by the county commissioners. Leon Bozman, Baltimore auditor, completed the work.

SERVICE OFFICERS AID MARYLAND VETS

The Maryland Veterans Commission aided 27 veterans to receive various kinds of aid during January, an increase of three over the December, 1947, total, Thomas F. Conlon, assistant state service officer, reported yesterday.

The benefits granted to veterans as a result of claims filed by the department amounted to $62,199.92, he added.

Back pay claims paid to Spanish-American War veterans totaled $322.60; World War I, $2,287.44, and World War II veterans, $4,867.48, for a total of $7,471.52.

Pension claims resulted in total payments of $22,478.40 with $576 going to Spanish-American War veterans; $13,154.40 for World War I servicemen and $8,758 to World War II veterans.

Burial allowances totaled $2,250 and insurance payments another $30,000.

The Cumberland branch office, located on the third floor of the Liberty Trust Company, is one of five branches in Maryland.

Sedgwick Street Will Be 'Highway'

Sedgwick Street will shortly become a simulated national highway with all of the traffic warnings and devices that are found between Maine and California posted there to aid Allegany High School seniors in their automobile driving course.

The local police department yesterday began collecting the traffic warnings and said the curbs on Sedgwick Street will be painted at different sections to indicate "no parking," "for loading and unloading" and any other marks that are known to the American motorist.

The plan to develop a simulated highway to aid in training students who are now taking actual driving lessons, was initiated at the high school and received the immediate approval of the local police department who will attempt to furnish a complete set of highway markers and signs.

If the plan works, police explained, students will be able to recognize the meaning of signs just by their shape, something the average motorist on the road today never has learned.

The plan will be extended to other schools if requested police officials said, but explained they prefer to see Sedgwick Street completed before undertaking other projects.

4-H Boys Plan Annual Round-Up

March 6 has been set as the date of the annual "round-up" of parents' night of Boys 4-H Clubs, according to William Kennedy, president of the Allegany County Boys 4-H Federation, following their meeting last night at the county farm agent's office, Court House.

The "round-up" will be held at Fort Hill High School gymnasium, with a series of games events and activities of interest to the boys and for the entertainment of parents.

Each boy will pay as admission one cent for each three inches of his height, or four cents a foot. In return for this fee,; Kennedy said, he will receive all the milk and doughnuts he can consume.

Dr. C. N. Foose and William Shoemaker will act as "measuring-in" judges, and Perry Shryock and Roy Shryock were named to the finance committee to collect the fees.

Jack Cessna, Douglas Heavener and William Heavener will have charge of refreshments. Eugene Hopkins, physical culture director at Allegany High School, will have charge of the program of games and contests and will serve as judge. Prizes will be awarded winners of the various events.

The president of each club has been sent a letter, Kennedy explained, asking that each member indicate whether or not his parents will attend. These cards must be returned by March 3, he explained.

Cresaptown Man Held After Breaking Door

A man booked as John Dick, Cresaptown, was being held in City Jail last night on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct after he broke a glass panel in the front door at 104 Paca Street, according to police.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ryan, who reside at the address, told police Dick broke the door in an attempt to reach his wife who fled into the house after he choked her. Police said the Ryans became involved in the case only because Mrs. Dick fled from her husband into their home.

Dick was treated at Memorial Hospital for lacerations of his head and returned to jail to await a hearing this morning in Police Court.

County-Wide Co-operation Sought In Campaign To Destroy Rodents

The "Rat Death Week" campaign to be carried on during the first week in March in this county, is open to all and any people of the county who are troubled with rats, or who are interested in helping clean out these destructive and disease-carrying rodents.

Thus far, organizations have been set up to work on the campaign throughout the Greater Cumberland Area and in county rural districts and on farms.

Albert O'Neal, chairman of the county committee, said there are many city-dwellers and people living in smaller communities who are interested in learning how they might join the campaign. To be really effective and gain the maximum result, he said, all towns in the county should participate.

It is hoped that Frostburg, Mt. Savage, Midland, Lonaconing, Barton and Westernport will join in the effort, and that some kind of an organization to co-operate will be formed in each general neighborhood. Agencies that usually get back of the rat clean-up campaigns include civil authorities, service clubs, women's clubs, Boy Scout troops and fraternal organizations. In Cumberland, the Junior Association of Commerce is already organizing the city drive, O'Neal explained.

O'Neal said any organizations which might be interested in sponsoring the campaign in their communities should contact him at 37 Washington Street, or telephone Cumberland 420. The county campaign committee will assist in setting up local organizations.

Losses due to the depredations of rats in Allegany County are estimated to exceed $500,000 annually, O'Neal estimated yesterday. He said statistics show there are about 50,000 rats in this county, each destroying at least $10 in grain, foodstuffs and other material a year. "This is quite a bill to pay for rats," he exclaimed.

He pointed out that anything which can be done to destroy rats will help save grains and other foods so badly needed at home and abroad.

RECOGNIZE THEM?—You may have to take a second look Monday morning when Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn (left), wearing his new uniform, walks down the street, or Assistant Chief of Police B. Frank Gaffney (right), reports for duty at 5 o'clock in the afternoon in his new outfit. The two officials who served in the Detective Bureau of the local department until their present appointments last September, said yesterday they have not been in uniform for nearly 10 years.

City Police Seek Mother To Grant Child's Adoption

Margaret Arnone Missing 2 Months

The Cumberland Police Department yesterday began searching for a 27-year-old mother who has been missing from her room at the York Hotel, 202 Baltimore Avenue, since December 27, and declared "it is the future of a 3½-year-old child that concerns us."

Lt. Detective Edwin R. Lilya, who is heading the investigation, said the disappearance of Margaret Arnone, formerly of Frostburg, was not reported to the Police Department until yesterday when a local couple interested in adopting the child learned legal action could not be started until the mother was consulted.

Police said investigation at the hotel led to a "blank wall," because the mother was reported to have left there early in the night of December 27 to go to a movie, but never returned.

Lt. Lilya checked former associates of the woman yesterday and contacted other places that she frequented but admitted last night that the Arnone woman has "just disappeared from the city."

Teletype messages were sent to police departments of other cities in the east with requests that they search for the mother.

The baby, according to police, was placed in the care of the local couple several months before the mother disappeared and has been cared for by them since. They have grown fond of the child, Lt. Lilya explained, and now want to adopt it, but must have the mother's consent.

The present guardians, however, according to Lt. Lilya, made a pretty thorough search of the city and surrounding area for the mother before requesting police assistance, but have been unable to find a trace of her.

Hotel attaches said the mother left her personal belongings behind when she departed from the hotel in December and added that the articles are still being held for her.

Mental Hygiene Clinics Planned Here Each Month

County Commissioners yesterday agreed to pay the expenses of three officials of Springfield State Hospital, who will come here March 4 and 5 to conduct a two-day mental hygiene clinic, Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said yesterday.

The present program of mental hygiene clinics, stopped since before the war, calls for regular visits here the first Thursday and Friday of each month. The clinic are designed to help correct mental conditions of some persons afflicted with mental disorders in time to prevent later hospitalization.

Officials who will come here are Miss Henrietta D. DeWitt, director of psychiatric services; Dr. Gertrude Gross, psychiatrist, and Marshall Bruce, pychologist.

Butter Drops Here Four Cents Pound

A four cent per pound price cut in butter was announced last night by one local chain market, with butter down from 90 cents a pound to 86 cents.

Numerous other grocery items have been dropped a cent or two a pound during the past week, as local prices followed the national downward trend.

It was expected that independent retailers would also reduce prices, since a wholesale cut in butter listings was reported.

John Albert Reed Dies Suddenly

John Albert "Buck" Reed, 45, died suddenly at his home, 122 South Street, late yesterday afternoon. Members of his family said he had been in failing health for several years and had been under a physician's care for some time. He dropped dead in the kitchen of his home while reaching in his pocket for his pipe.

Mr. Reed for a number of years was engaged in the housecleaning business after he and Mrs. Reed established the Professional Housecleaning Service here about 20 years ago.

For the past three years he had been maintenance foreman for the Bata Shoe Company, Belcamp, Md., but returned home a short time ago to take medical treatment.

John A. Reed

During the depression, Mr. Reed worked on local WPA projects, and he is remembered as the leader of a group who appeared before the mayor and city council asking that work on the jobs be equalized, and warned that many men were loafing and not producing.

He was well known in the Tri-State area for the radio program "Ham and Eggs," which he and James Stein presented here about 12 years ago. Stein, the other member of the blackface comedy team, died about six weeks ago.

He was born in Cumberland, a son of John W. Reed, and the late Sophia Eschenbacher Reed. He is survived by his father, his widow, Mrs. Emma Hogamier Reed, and the following children: Mrs. Charles Volb, Mexico Farms; Mrs. Robert Rupert, Belcamp, Md.; Mrs. Roy E. Rhodes, this city; Katherine Reed, Jeannine Reed, Thomas W. Reed, Arlene Reed and Hugh Reed, all at home.

Mr. Reed was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church. The body will be taken to the family residence this morning.

Union And Cab Firm Discuss Contract

No agreement was reached yesterday afternoon at a contract negotiating session between Local 453, Teamsters Union, and the Johnny's Cab Company here, C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, said.

He said the union presented contract proposals of the workers at a meeting at 2 p. m. with company representatives.

Stutzman said the union will present a contract proposal to the Yellow Top Cab Company in the near future.

Elliott To Address Townsend Clubs Here

John Doyle Elliott, of the Washington Legislative Bureau, will be the principal speaker Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the sectional meeting of Townsend Clubs scheduled for Textile Hall, 34 North Mechanic Street.

Elliott will discuss "the Progress of the Townsend Mutual Insurance Plan," now in the Ways and Means Committee awaiting action in Congress.

Divorce Granted

RIU And Railway Reach Agreement For Road Crews

Emergency Board May Add To Provisions

A complete agreement on a contract between the Railroad Industrial Union and the Western Maryland Railway covering about 560 engineers, firemen and hostlers was reached in Baltimore yesterday, Elmer E. Davis, this city, president of the union, announced last night.

He said the agreement, reached at 5 p. m. after an all-day conference, was signed by G. R. Haworth, Baltimore, vice president and general manager of the railway, and by himself for the union.

Contract negotiations for the workers were started by District 50, United Mine Workers, in April, 1947, and have been continued by the RIU with the District 50 proposals and some RIU proposals.

The contract, he said, will preserve the present agreement plus four rule changes, with both parties accepting a standby agreement pending decisions by the president's emergency board. Any changes in rules resulting from the board's decision, he added, would be incorporated into the standby agreement.

The RIU, organized in 1947, represents the engineers, firemen and hostlers of the Western Maryland system through Baltimore Local 1, Hagerstown Local 2 and Cumberland Local 3.

New Location Sought For Local Studio

W. Addison Rinker filed an appeal with the Board of Zoning Appeals yesterday for a permit to move the Addison Photographic Laboratory from its present location at 111 North Centre Street to the first floor of a building at 188 North Centre Street.

City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer refused Rinker's application for a permit because the building, formerly used as a residence, is located in a residential zoning district. Louis LaNeve, 190 North Centre Street, was listed as the owner.

The Board of Zoning Appeals will hold a hearing next Wednesday on the case and two other appeals filed earlier this week.

Albert Owens secured a permit to enclose a two-story porch with frame walls at 623 Montreal Avenue. Cost of constructing the 7 by 8-foot enclosure was estimated at $85. Work will be done by the owner.

Unemployment Office Changed In Mt. Savage

Persons filing claims for unemployment compensation in Mt. Savage will use the Volunteer Fire Company Hall in the future instead of the Community Building, Francis H. Kenney, local manager of the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board, announced yesterday.

Kenney said the fire hall has been offered by the firemen as a community service and will be used by unemployment compensation officials each Monday when they record applications in the Mt. Savage area.

Service To Reopen

Money order service between Switzerland and the United States will be resumed March 1, after having been suspended in June, 1941, local postal officials said yesterday.

Orders payable in Switzerland will be based on the rate of one franc to 25 cents.

Temperature Reading

Slowly descending fog and a slight drizzle of rain blanketed the Tri-State area last night, following rising temperatures which brought a steady thawing of ice and snow throughout the day. Minimum mercury reading reported yesterday was 35 above at 8 a. m. with a maximum of 40 above reached during the afternoon. At 11 p. m. mercury was reported at 36 above. The Weather Bureau predicted light rainfall during the night followed by colder weather late today and Sunday, with possible snow flurries.

Kelly Worker Is Given Right To "Bump" For Job

Blair Says Contract Gives Right To Jankey

Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO, won a clear-cut decision this week when Jacob J. Blair, Pittsburgh, umpire for the union and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, ruled that Section 17B of Article VII in the agreement gives J. M. Jankey the right to insist upon placement in the bead room of the tire plant.

According to the report from a hearing held here January 12, Jankey, who had been employed at the Kelly since 1922, was demoted from foreman to a "mechanic A" rating last November as a result of a reduction in the supervisory force.

He was given the job previously held by another mechanic who had been placed on sick leave a few days before Jankey was demoted. Sometime after Jankey began his new work, he requested a job in the bead room where he had worked prior to his promotion to foreman), held by a mechanic named Fleck holding three and one-half year's seniority. The company was willing, the brief related, to grant Jankey's request for assignment to the bead room but refused to comply with the union request that he be given Fleck's job in accordance with Article 7, Section 17B and the issue was submitted to arbitration.

Present Arguments

The union contended that Jankey, because of his greater seniority, is entitled to exercise his preference for the job in the bead room since:

Article Section 17B is clear and unambiguous and gives him the right to exercise his "seniority preference" in picking the job in the bead room; (2) the clause was negotiated in the 1947 agreement to give mechanics with seniority the right to advance to more desirable jobs in the Engineering Division; (3) the rights asked by Jankey are no more than rights granted to other workers under Section 7B covering re-assignments; (4) affirming the union request would not encourage wholesale "bumping" by older millwrights who are already assigned, and (5) the company has already allowed another demoted supervisor to bump a worker with less seniority.

While the company was reported willing to place Jankey in the job he prefers, it held that such action would be an exception to the terms of the agreement since:

1. Section 17B was introduced in the contract only on condition it would apply only to "vacancies" (when one or more mechanics of equal skill want the same job arising from a vacancy) when the job would be given to the worker with greatest seniority, and that the union request resulted from objection to work in the Black Mill area; (2) granting the union request would result in confusion by encouraging wholesale bumping; (3) reference to another case is not pertinent since he was not given preference and was assigned to his job through "juggling" of forces at the time of the layoff, and (4) the union is attempting to gain through arbitration what it failed to gain in negotiations.

Jankey May "Bump"

In his award, Blair declared the company contentions that the disputed section applies only in the case of vacancies, and that an affirmative ruling would result in large scale bumping "cannot be sustained" in the Jankey case since the disputed article is clear and unambiguous and Jankey could invoke his seniority preference only because he was assigned to the division when he was demoted from supervisor.

Other reasons sustaining Jankey's claims, Blair said, are found in another case and the coincidence of the claimant's demotion, and the sick leave granted an incumbent, making unnecessary a realignment of forces.

It must be held, the arbitrator concluded "that Jankey may insist upon placement in the bead room under the requirements of Section 17B of the agreement."

Station WTBO Gets FM Broadcast Permit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission yesterday issued a new FM broadcast station construction permit to the Cumberland Broadcasting Company, Cumberland, Md., which operates Station WTBO in that city.

Bill Of Complaint

A bill of complaint was filed in equity in Circuit Court yesterday by Mary Francis Stiver vs Samuel Ross Stiver.

COMMITTEE TO PLAN FOR CHEST CAMPAIGN

A campaign committee to lay plans for the 1948 campaign of the Cumberland Community Chest was named last night at a meeting of the executive committee of the Chest in the Liberty Trust Building.

The committee, composed of Mrs. Emma Everstine, James W. Bishop, Charles E. Bramble, Clarence Lippel and Earl C. Robertson, will meet in the near future to begin planning for the campaign next fall.

The financial report for January presented by Mrs. Everstine, treasurer of the Cumberland Community Chest, was approved by the committee headed by Frederick W. Eller.

Receipts from 1947-48 pledges during January totaled $9,491.90 and total disbursements were $5,887.38, leaving a balance of $39,696 as of February 2. Total receipts from 1947-48 pledges to that date totaled $57,299.91 for an average of 73 per cent.

Rainfall Helps To Thaw Snow

There was no noticeable rise in the Potomac River or Wills Creek last night, city and railroad officials said, despite an almost steady two-day thaw and drizzling rain in mountainous sections. Snow and ice appear to be leaving gradually and there is no immediate danger of a flood threat, it is claimed.

Temperatures in the Tri-State area yesterday remained above freezing throughout the day. Last night at Thomas, W. Va., and Deal, Pa., 48 above zero was reported at 11 p. m. Temperature at both places reached 54 above during the day. There was some fog reported last night and a drizzling rain fell in both areas.

In Cumberland the mercury dropped to 35 above zero, and rose only five degrees during the day to reach a maximum of 40 above. At 11 p. m. the temperature reading showed 36 above. There was also some fog here and a slight rainfall, measured at .05 inches.

At Romney, W. Va., State Police reported the mercury around 40 above, with a little rain faliing at 10 p. m. There was some fog.

There is only about three inches of snow left in Cumberland, officials reported, but in some mountain areas, there is still from six inches to a foot. The gradual thaw is expected to remove the snow sloyly enough to eliminate any danger of flood, but high water may be expected by the first of the week, it is believed, unless the weather turns cold.

DEATHS

LEWIS ROSENBAUM

Lewis Rosenbaum, 88, 115 Bedford Street, died yesterday afternoon at 3:39 o'clock in Memorial Hospital where he was admitted a week ago.

He was a native of Meimbressen, Germany, and a son of Isaac and Regina Rosenbaum. His wife was the late Rose Prince Rosenbaum.

Mr. Roseibaum came to Cumberland at the age of 19 and started in business as a clothing merchant. A few years laert he joined Rosenbaum Brothers Department Store for a period of about five years. He then went to Lonaconing where he became associated with Charles Price as co-owner of Price and Rosenbaum's store there. Upon returning to Cumberland he again set up in business for himself and maintained his own store for 20 years.

He returned to Rosenbaum Brothers in 1919 in charge of the Boys Department where he remained until 15 years ago. He has been semi-active in the furniture business in recent years with his daughter, Mrs. Minna Millenson, this city.

He is survived, besides Mrs. Millenson, by another daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Schwab, and three grandchildren, Richard and Leonard Schwab and Rita Millenson, all of Cumberland.

A funeral service for Mr. Rosenbaum, who was the oldest member of B'er Chayim Congregation, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the residence. Rabbi M. Soloff, Baltimore, will officiate and interment will be in East View Cemetery.

ARTHUR MCDONALD

PARSONS, W. Va., — Arthur McDonald, 53, died in Tucker County Hospital here yesterday morning at 7:30, a victim of pneumonia.

He was the son of the late James William and Mary Elizabeth Philips McDonald and the husband of the former Cora Nestor.

Weatherman Takes Backward Look, Finds 9 Below A February Record

The weatherman, who has been having prognosticating difficulties for the past two weeks, yesterday took a backward glance where weather conditions are history and discovered a minus nine temperature that prevailed in Cumberland for four days in February, 1934, is something of a modern record in the city for the second month.

There were only four other years since 1913 when the temperatures dipped below zero in February—the lowest was 4 below—and there were five years when not a flake of snow fell during the second month.

February has been a mellow month, too, as records of 1932 will prove. A maximum of 88 degrees was reached that month, with a minimum of 17 above. Actually there wasn't a day when the mercury did not rise to 42 degrees.

Probably the two most interesting years included in the records were 1924 and 1936 when flood waters from the Potomac River and Wills Creek inundated the business section of the city. The records show that 20.5 inches of snow fell in Allegany County during February, 1924, which melted down to 2.25 inches of precipitation, including rain of other days.

In 1936 the snowfall for the month was not nearly so heavy but the rains and snow together resulted in a total precipitation of 3.34 inches, a figure that was topped only twice in the 35-year period.

Actually, the weatherman said after checking figures for the 35 year period, February can't be considered a frigid month for the maximum temperatures have never gone below 50 degrees during the past 35 years.

There have been some cold spells though, he admitted, like the 9 below freeze that gripped the area for four days in 1934. Then there was the 1918 spell when the thermometer dropped to 4 below for a spell and again in 1914, 1917, 1924, and 1936 sub-zero weather had a hold on the district.

The top figure for precipitation was recorded in February, 1927, when melting snow and rain totaled 4.10 inches, and then again in 1939 the local citizenry got a brief scare when precipitation for February totaled 3.98 inches.

The heaviest snows during the recorded period occurred in 1914, 1917, 1921, 1924, 1927, and 1947, according to the prognosticator The year 1947 was the lightest of the six years with a total depth of 15.5 inches of snow. The year 1924 was, of course, the heaviest with 20.5 inches of snow, while the remaining four years had snowfalls averaging 17 inches.

Scout Leadership Record Here Tops National Average

Review Discloses Cubbing Advance

Potomac Council rates near the top in its leadership training record, camping activities and charter renewals during 1947, as compared with the 544 other Boy Scout councils in the United States, according to the annual charter review completed yesterday.

The review also disclosed that Potomac Council's greatest single advance during the year was in the organization of Cub packs for boys 9 to 12 years old.

Kenneth E. Jackson, council executive, and Judson Jusell, Philadelphia, deputy regional executive of Region three, Boy Scouts of America, prepared the review during the latter's visit here.

At a Scout banquet held in Keyser, W. Va., Thursday night, Jusell praised the council for the fine record which it achieved during the past year.

Eight Packs Here

Although only three Cub packs were organized in the council during 1946, the first year of that activity, four more, all in Cumberland District, were formed last year, and the eighth pack was organized last month at Potomac Park, Jackson said.

The earliest packs were formed in Piedmont, Westernport and Petersburg. Last year Cub groups were organized in LaVale and Grantsville, and at Mt. Royal and Gephart Schools in Cumberland.

Jackson pointed out that this increase was due in large part to an increase in the Scout budget granted by the Community Chest, which made it possible to employ one man to promote the development of new Cub packs.

Total number of Cubs registered in Potomac Council, which includes the two Maryland counties of Allegany and Garrett and the four West Virginia counties of Mineral, Hampshire, Grant and Hardy, rose from 53 in 1946 to 153 in 1947.

Total membership in the council, in both Cub packs and Scout troops increased from 1,767 to 1,914 during the same period, according to the annual review. The number of units increased from 38 to 45.

In reference to leadership training activities, Jackson pointed out that 66.7 per cent of the 45 units have at least one trained leader, as compared to the national average of about 40 per cent.

Twenty-seven leadership training courses were conducted in the six districts of Potomac Council last year, and the council has a better training record than 93 per cent of the other Scout councils throughout the nation, the review showed.

Air Squadron Formed

Another advance made by the council during 1947 was the organization of its first senior Scout unit, an Air Scout squadron sponsored by SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church under the leadership of Lt. George Gocke, local Army Air Force recruiting officer.

Only six per cent of other Scouts councils in the country had a better long-term (six days or more) average camping record than Potomac Council. In this connection, Jackson termed the 1947 camporee at Rawlings the best ever held by the council.

Likewise, only 18 per cent of other Scout councils had a better record of unit charter renewals than Potomac Council, according to the review.

Council organization and personnel was considerably above the national average.

Cumberland District led the council in increased Cubbing and was rated above the council average in units having trained leaders, percentage of improvement in advancement in the various ranks of Scouting, and in its camping record.

ROTARY DIRECTORS WILL BE ELECTED

The Cumberland Rotary Club will elect five new members to the Board of Directors for two-year terms February 17 and indicated in its weekly bulletin that 10 candidates have been nominated.

Two of the candidates will be seeking re-election to the board from which the club's officers will be elected after the installment ceremony scheduled for July 1.

Adolf Blunk and Frank U. Davis are the incumbent officers seeking re-election while the new candidates are:

Louis D. Baudwin, Max W. Bastian, Kenneth E. Beck, Robert L. Ebert, C. William Gilchrist, John A. Kreiling, James M. Pitkethly, and J. Louis Weber.

The five new directors will serve on the board with Charles S. Catherman, Kenneth S. Hopwood, William B. Ludlman, Howard M. Smith and John R. Wilkinson, who are beginning the second year of their two-year terms.

Members of the club explained that the annual election is being held early this year to conform with the International convention which is being held a month earlier than usual.

Transcription Work Is Almost Completed

A dozen persons who have been working on the task of transcribing the names on the county poll books, expect to complete the task in about another week, it was indicated yesterday.

Old registration books had become filled and could no longer be used. Officials said the transcription was necessary before another election was possible.

Two complete sets of books are being completed as required by law, and the task of transferring the names, while a tedious one, has been done carefully and neatly, election officials said.

Installation Posiponed

The installation of officers of the Cumberland Building and Construction Trades Council, scheduled last night, will be held February 27, George W. Lucas, president, announced.

Library Project To Be Presented To County Board

Plans Discussed At Open Meeting

Sponsors of the county library project plan to present their viewpoint to the Board of County Commissioners at the regular board meeting next Tuesday, Mrs. Stanley Buckley, chairman, said last night at a public meeting held in City Hall to discuss the project.

The project would establish a county library with branch libraries and possibly a mobile unit to be set up at the discretion of a seven-member board of trustees.

Organizations supporting the proposal include the Allegany County Council of Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. Buckley is president; Business and Professional Women's Club; Music and Arts Club, American Association of Childhood Education and the Allegany County Homemakers' Council.

Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., Westernport, chairman of the county delegation to the General Assembly, acted as moderator of last night's discussion, which was attended by about 40 persons.

An enabling act passed by the General Assembly in 1945 empowers the county commissioners of any county in Maryland to establish and maintain county public libraries. It also provides a state grant of $5,000 for purchase of books for any county which can supply a sum equivalent to the amount which would be raised by a tax of not less than two cents per $100 of taxable property. In Allegany County's case this would amount to $21,346.

Whitworth pointed out that sufficient funds might be available without the necessity of levying the two-cent tax, provided the commissioners approve the plan.

Sponsors of the project pointed out that the minimum amount specified by the law would thus amount to $26,346, or 30 cents per capita for the 86,000 residents of the county.

The American Library Association advises $1 per capita as a requirement for excellent service, while 50 cents is set as the minimum for adequate service. Since the enabling act does not limit the amount to be spent for library service, Mrs. Buckley said the group will suggest a levy of three cents per $100, which would give $32,019 from the county. This plus the $5,000 from the state would total $37,019, or 43 cents per capita.

Whitworth said he believes the Cumberland Free Public Library would probably be designated as the county library if the plan is approved.

Tasker G. Lowndes, president of the State Board of Education and a member of the board of the library, said the board will co-operate with any attempt to set up a county library system. He pointed out, however, that the library is supported by city funds and therefore the board must act under the city commissioners. The current appropriation amounts to about $15,000.

In his opinion, Whitworth said, it would not be possible to undertake the project unless Cumberland took part along with the county.

Delegate Lester Reed, Mt. Savage, said he did not sponsor the enabling act but that he supported it in the legislature and hopes the county will take advantage of its provisions.

J. Milton Dick, who was a delegate at the time the bill was passed, suggested that the county might set up its own library plan, but Whitworth pointed out that such a move would need approval by the General Assembly, which would delay the project until 1949.

Dick said the County Commissioners oppose the "machinery" of the enabling act in its present form.

There was some discussion regarding the possibility of politics entering into the appointment of the seven-member board of trustees, but Whitworth pointed out the board would serve without pay for staggered terms of from one to seven years.

A movie on state library service in Alabama was shown.

Spring Gap Man Is Struck By Car

John E. Hixon, 42, Spring Gap, a B. and O. worker, was treated in Memorial Hospital yesterday morning for possible hip injuries suffered when he was struck by a car while waiting for a ride to work.

Attaches said they were told Hixon was standing on the highway waiting for the car of Thurman Twigg, Oldtown, which struck him when the driver was unable to stop due to the snow and ice. State Trooper Harry S. Bosley, who investigated, preferred no charges. Hixon was released from the hospital after X-rays were taken.

Merle Newton Hivick, 32, Route 5, suffered a sprained ankle Thursday night when hit by a car operated by Joseph A. Minke, 47, 106 McKinley Avenue, near the intersection of Greene and Lee Streets. He was treated in the office of a local physician.

Minke told police that Hivick stepped in front of his machne and was struck by the bumper. The street was slippery, he said.

John Rinehart, 44, Westernport, was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday morning with a compound fracture of the right leg sustained when he fell on the ice. His condition is satisfactory.

Miss Kinnear Improves

Miss May Kinnear, 546 Fairview Avenue, who was admitted to Memorial Hospital Thursday for treatment of a compound fracture of the right ankle suffered in a fall down a pair of cellar steps at her home was reported resting well last night.

In an account of the accident yesterday, the News incorrectly reported Miss Kinnear's name as Mrs. Margaret Kinnear.

Order Audit Paid

The expenses of the audit of county books for last year, totaling $1,400 were ordered paid yesterday by the county commissioners. Leon Bozman, Baltimore auditor, completed the work.

SERVICE OFFICERS AID MARYLAND VETS

The Maryland Veterans Commission aided 27 veterans to receive various kinds of aid during January, an increase of three over the December, 1947, total, Thomas F. Conlon, assistant state service officer, reported yesterday.

The benefits granted to veterans as a result of claims filed by the department amounted to $62,199.92, he added.

Back pay claims paid to Spanish-American War veterans totaled $322.60; World War I, $2,287.44, and World War II veterans, $4,867.48, for a total of $7,471.52.

Pension claims resulted in total payments of $22,478.40 with $576 going to Spanish-American War veterans; $13,154.40 for World War I servicemen and $8,758 to World War II veterans.

Burial allowances totaled $2,250 and insurance payments another $30,000.

The Cumberland branch office, located on the third floor of the Liberty Trust Company, is one of five branches in Maryland.

Sedgwick Street Will Be 'Highway'

Sedgwick Street will shortly become a simulated national highway with all of the traffic warnings and devices that are found between Maine and California posted there to aid Allegany High School seniors in their automobile driving course.

The local police department yesterday began collecting the traffic warnings and said the curbs on Sedgwick Street will be painted at different sections to indicate "no parking," "for loading and unloading" and any other marks that are known to the American motorist.

The plan to develop a simulated highway to aid in training students who are now taking actual driving lessons, was initiated at the high school and received the immediate approval of the local police department who will attempt to furnish a complete set of highway markers and signs.

If the plan works, police explained, students will be able to recognize the meaning of signs just by their shape, something the average motorist on the road today never has learned.

The plan will be extended to other schools if requested police officials said, but explained they prefer to see Sedgwick Street completed before undertaking other projects.

4-H Boys Plan Annual Round-Up

March 6 has been set as the date of the annual "round-up" of parents' night of Boys 4-H Clubs, according to William Kennedy, president of the Allegany County Boys 4-H Federation, following their meeting last night at the county farm agent's office, Court House.

The "round-up" will be held at Fort Hill High School gymnasium, with a series of games events and activities of interest to the boys and for the entertainment of parents.

Each boy will pay as admission one cent for each three inches of his height, or four cents a foot. In return for this fee, Kennedy said, he will receive all the milk and doughnuts he can consume.

Dr. C. N. Foose and William Shoemaker will act as "measuring-in" judges, and Perry Shryock and Roy Shryock were named to the finance committee to collect the fees.

Jack Cessna, Douglas Heavener and William Heavener will have charge of refreshments. Eugene Hopkins, physical culture director at Allegany High School, will have charge of the program of games and contests and will serve as judge. Prizes will be awarded winners of the various events.

The president of each club has been sent a letter, Kennedy explained, asking that each member indicate whether or not his parents will attend. These cards must be returned by March 3, he explained.

Cresaptown Man Held After Breaking Door

A man booked as John Dick, Cresaptown, was being held in City Jail last night on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct after he broke a glass panel in the front door at 104 Paca Street, according to police.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ryan, who reside at the address, told police Dick broke the door in an attempt to reach his wife who fled into the house after he choked her. Police said the Ryans became involved in the case only because Mrs. Dick fled from her husband into their home.

Dick was treated at Memorial Hospital for lacerations of his head and returned to jail to await a hearing this morning in Police Court.

County-Wide Co-operation Sought In Campaign To Destroy Rodents

The "Rat Death Week" campaign to be carried on during the first week in March in this county, is open to all and any people of the county who are troubled with rats, or who are interested in helping clean out these destructive and disease-carrying rodents.

Thus far, organizations have been set up to work on the campaign throughout the Greater Cumberland Area and in county rural districts and on farms.

Albert O'Neal, chairman of the county committee, said there are many city-dwellers and people living in smaller communities who are interested in learning how they might join the campaign. To be really effective and gain the maximum result, he said, all towns in the county should participate.

It is hoped that Frostburg, Mt. Savage, Midland, Lonaconing, Barton and Westernport will join in the effort, and that some kind of an organization to co-operate will be formed in each general neighborhood. Agencies that usually get back of the rat clean-up campaigns include civil authorities, service clubs, women's clubs, Boy Scout troops and fraternal organizations. In Cumberland, the Junior Association of Commerce is already organizing the city drive, O'Neal explained.

O'Neal said any organizations which might be interested in sponsoring the campaign in their communities should contact him at 37 Washington Street, or telephone Cumberland 420. The county campaign committee will assist in setting up local organizations.

Losses due to the depredations of rats in Allegany County are estimated to exceed $500,000 annually, O'Neal estimated yesterday. He said statistics show there are about 50,000 rats in this county, each destroying at least $10 in grain, foodstuffs and other material a year. "This is quite a bill to pay for rats," he exclaimed.

He pointed out that anything which can be done to destroy rats will help save grains and other foods so badly needed at home and abroad.

RECOGNIZE THEM?—You may have to take a second look Monday morning when Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn (left), wearing his new uniform, walks down the street, or Assistant Chief of Police B. Frank Gaffney (right), reports for duty at 5 o'clock in the afternoon in his new outfit. The two officials who served in the Detective Bureau of the local department until their present appointments last September, said yesterday they have not been in uniform for nearly 10 years.

City Police Seek Mother To Grant Child's Adoption

Margaret Arnone Missing 2 Months

The Cumberland Police Department yesterday began searching for a 27-year-old mother who has been missing from her room at the York Hotel, 202 Baltimore Avenue, since December 27, and declared "it is the future of a 3½-year-old child that concerns us."

Lt. Detective Edwin R. Lilya, who is heading the investigation, said the disappearance of Margaret Arnone, formerly of Frostburg, was not reported to the Police Department until yesterday when a local couple interested in adopting the child learned legal action could not be started until the mother was consulted.

Police said investigation at the hotel led to a "blank wall," because the mother was reported to have left there early in the night of December 27 to go to a movie, but never returned.

Lt. Lilya checked former associates of the woman yesterday and contacted other places that she frequented but admitted last night that the Arnone woman has "just disappeared from the city."

Teletype messages were sent to police departments of other cities in the east with requests that they search for the mother.

The baby, according to police, was placed in the care of the local couple several months before the mother disappeared and has been cared for by them since. They have grown fond of the child, Lt. Lilya explained, and now want to adopt it, but must have the mother's consent.

The present guardians, however, according to Lt. Lilya, made a pretty thorough search of the city and surrounding area for the mother before requesting police assistance, but have been unable to find a trace of her.

Hotel attaches said the mother left her personal belongings behind when she departed from the hotel in December and added that the articles are still being held for her.

Mental Hygiene Clinics Planned Here Each Month

County Commissioners yesterday agreed to pay the expenses of three officials of Springfield State Hospital, who will come here March 4 and 5 to conduct a two-day mental hygiene clinic, Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said yesterday.

The present program of mental hygiene clinics, stopped since before the war, calls for regular visits here the first Thursday and Friday of each month. The clinic are designed to help correct mental conditions of some persons afflicted with mental disorders in time to prevent later hospitalization.

Officials who will come here are Miss Henrietta D. DeWitt, director of psychiatric services; Dr. Gertrude Gross, psychiatrist, and Marshall Bruce, pychologist.

Butter Drops Here Four Cents Pound

A four cent per pound price cut in butter was announced last night by one local chain market, with butter down from 90 cents a pound to 86 cents.

Numerous other grocery items have been dropped a cent or two a pound during the past week, as local prices followed the national downward trend.

It was expected that independent retailers would also reduce prices, since a wholesale cut in butter listings was reported.

John Albert Reed Dies Suddenly

John Albert "Buck" Reed, 45, died suddenly at his home, 122 South Street, late yesterday afternoon. Members of his family said he had been in failing health for several years and had been under a physician's care for some time. He dropped dead in the kitchen of his home while reaching in his pocket for his pipe.

Mr. Reed for a number of years was engaged in the housecleaning business after he and Mrs. Reed established the Professional Housecleaning Service here about 20 years ago.

For the past three years he had been maintenance foreman for the Bata Shoe Company, Belcamp, Md., but returned home a short time ago to take medical treatment.

John A. Reed

During the depression, Mr. Reed worked on local WPA projects, and he is remembered as the leader of a group who appeared before the mayor and city council asking that work on the jobs be equalized, and warned that many men were loafing and not producing.

He was well known in the Tri-State area for the radio program "Ham and Eggs," which he and James Stein presented here about 12 years ago. Stein, the other member of the blackface comedy team, died about six weeks ago.

He was born in Cumberland, a son of John W. Reed, and the late Sophia Eschenbacher Reed. He is survived by his father, his widow, Mrs. Emma Hogamier Reed, and the following children: Mrs. Charles Volb, Mexico Farms; Mrs. Robert Rupert, Belcamp, Md.; Mrs. Roy E. Rhodes, this city; Katherine Reed, Jeannine Reed, Thomas W. Reed, Arlene Reed and Hugh Reed, all at home.

Mr. Reed was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church. The body will be taken to the family residence this morning.

Union And Cab Firm Discuss Contract

No agreement was reached yesterday afternoon at a contract negotiating session between Local 453, Teamsters Union, and the Johnny's Cab Company here, C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, said.

He said the union presented contract proposals of the workers at a meeting at 2 p. m. with company representatives.

Stutzman said the union will present a contract proposal to the Yellow Top Cab Company in the near future.

Elliott To Address Townsend Clubs Here

John Doyle Elliott, of the Washington Legislative Bureau, will be the principal speaker Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the sectional meeting of Townsend Clubs scheduled for Textile Hall, 34 North Mechanic Street.

Elliott will discuss "the Progress of the Townsend Mutual Insurance Plan," now in the Ways and Means Committee awaiting action in Congress.

Divorce Granted

A divorce decree was signed in Circuit Court yesterday by Chief Judge William A. Huster in the case of Maxine Fairgrieve vs John R. Fairgrieve. She was given the right to resume her maiden name, Maxine Miller.

RIU And Railway Reach Agreement For Road Crews

Emergency Board May Add To Provisions

A complete agreement on a contract between the Railroad Industrial Union and the Western Maryland Railway covering about 560 engineers, firemen and hostlers was reached in Baltimore yesterday, Elmer E. Davis, this city, president of the union, announced last night.

He said the agreement, reached at 5 p. m. after an all-day conference, was signed by G. R. Haworth, Baltimore, vice president and general manager of the railway, and by himself for the union.

Contract negotiations for the workers were started by District 50, United Mine Workers, in April, 1947, and have been continued by the RIU with the District 50 proposals and some RIU proposals.

The contract, he said, will preserve the present agreement plus four rule changes, with both parties accepting a standby agreement pending decisions by the president's emergency board. Any changes in rules resulting from the board's decision, he added, would be incorporated into the standby agreement.

The RIU, organized in 1947, represents the engineers, firemen and hostlers of the Western Maryland system through Baltimore Local 1, Hagerstown Local 2 and Cumberland Local 3.

New Location Sought For Local Studio

W. Addison Rinker filed an appeal with the Board of Zoning Appeals yesterday for a permit to move the Addison Photographic Laboratory from its present location at 111 North Centre Street to the first floor of a building at 188 North Centre Street.

City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer refused Rinker's application for a permit because the building, formerly used as a residence, is located in a residential zoning district. Louis LaNeve, 190 North Centre Street, was listed as the owner.

The Board of Zoning Appeals will hold a hearing next Wednesday on the case and two other appeals filed earlier this week.

Albert Owens secured a permit to enclose a two-story porch with frame walls at 623 Montreal Avenue. Cost of constructing the 7 by 8-foot enclosure was estimated at $85. Work will be done by the owner.

Unemployment Office Changed In Mt. Savage

Persons filing claims for unemployment compensation in Mt. Savage will use the Volunteer Fire Company Hall in the future instead of the Community Building, Francis H. Kenney, local manager of the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board, announced yesterday.

Kenney said the fire hall has been offered by the firemen as a community service and will be used by unemployment compensation officials each Monday when they record applications in the Mt. Savage area.

Service To Reopen

Money order service between Switzerland and the United States will be resumed March 1, after having been suspended in June, 1941, local postal officials said yesterday.

Orders payable in Switzerland will be based on the rate of one franc to 25 cents.

Temperature Reading

Slowly descending fog and a slight drizzle of rain blanketed the Tri-State area last night, following rising temperatures which brought a steady thawing of ice and snow throughout the day. Minimum mercury reading reported yesterday was 35 above at 8 a. m. with a maximum of 40 above reached during the afternoon. At 11 p. m. mercury was reported at 36 above. The Weather Bureau predicted light rainfall during the night followed by colder weather late today and Sunday, with possible snow flurries.

Kelly Worker Is Given Right To "Bump" For Job

Blair Says Contract Gives Right To Jankey

Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO, won a clear-cut decision this week when Jacob J. Blair, Pittsburgh, umpire for the union and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, ruled that Section 17B of Article VII in the agreement gives J. M. Jankey the right to insist upon placement in the bead room of the tire plant.

According to the report from a hearing held here January 12, Jankey, who had been employed at the Kelly since 1922, was demoted from foreman to a "mechanic A" rating last November as a result of a reduction in the supervisory force.

He was given the job previously held by another mechanic who had been placed on sick leave a few days before Jankey was demoted. Sometime after Jankey began his new work, he requested a job in the bead room where he had worked prior to his promotion to foreman), held by a mechanic named Fleck holding three and one-half year's seniority. The company was willing, the brief related, to grant Jankey's request for assignment to the bead room but refused to comply with the union request that he be given Fleck's job in accordance with Article 7, Section 17B and the issue was submitted to arbitration.

Present Arguments

The union contended that Jankey, because of his greater seniority, is entitled to exercise his preference for the job in the bead room since: Article Section 17B is clear and unambiguous and gives him the right to exercise his "seniority preference" in picking the job in the bead room; (2) the clause was negotiated in the 1947 agreement to give mechanics with seniority the right to advance to more desirable jobs in the Engineering Division; (3) the rights asked by Jankey are no more than rights granted to other workers under Section 7B covering re-assignments; (4) affirming the union request would not encourage wholesale "bumping" by older millwrights who are already assigned, and (5) the company has already allowed another demoted supervisor to bump a worker with less seniority.

While the company was reported willing to place Jankey in the job he prefers, it held that such action would be an exception to the terms of the agreement since:

1. Section 17B was introduced in the contract only on condition it would apply only to "vacancies" (when one or more mechanics of equal skill want the same job arising from a vacancy) when the job would be given to the worker with greatest seniority, and that the union request resulted from objection to work in the Black Mill area; (2) granting the union request would result in confusion by encouraging wholesale bumping; (3) reference to another case is not pertinent since he was not given preference and was assigned to his job through "juggling" of forces at the time of the layoff, and (4) the union is attempting to gain through arbitration what it failed to gain in negotiations.

Jankey May "Bump"

In his award, Blair declared the company contentions that the disputed section applies only in the case of vacancies, and that an affirmative ruling would result in large scale bumping "cannot be sustained" in the Jankey case since the disputed article is clear and unambiguous and Jankey could invoke his seniority preference only because he was assigned to the division when he was demoted from supervisor.

Other reasons sustaining Jankey's claims, Blair said, are found in another case and the coincidence of the claimant's demotion, and the sick leave granted an incumbent, making unnecessary a realignment of forces.

It must be held, the arbitrator concluded "that Jankey may insist upon placement in the bead room under the requirements of Section 17B of the agreement."

Station WTBO Gets FM Broadcast Permit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission yesterday issued a new FM broadcast station construction permit to the Cumberland Broadcasting Company, Cumberland, Md., which operates Station WTBO in that city.

Bill Of Complaint

A bill of complaint was filed in equity in Circuit Court yesterday by Mary Francis Stiver vs Samuel Ross Stiver.

COMMITTEE TO PLAN FOR CHEST CAMPAIGN

A campaign committee to lay plans for the 1948 campaign of the Cumberland Community Chest was named last night at a meeting of the executive committee of the Chest in the Liberty Trust Building.

The committee, composed of Mrs. Emma Everstine, James W. Bishop, Charles E. Bramble, Clarence Lippel and Earl C. Robertson, will meet in the near future to begin planning for the campaign next fall.

The financial report for January presented by Mrs. Everstine, treasurer of the Cumberland Community Chest, was approved by the committee headed by Frederick W. Eiler.

Receipts from 1947-48 pledges during January totaled $9,491.90 and total disbursements were $5,887.38, leaving a balance of $39,696 as of February 2. Total receipts from 1947-48 pledges to that date totaled $57,299.91 for an average of 73 per cent.

Rainfall Helps To Thaw Snow

There was no noticeable rise in the Potomac River or Wills Creek last night, city and railroad officials said, despite an almost steady two-day thaw and drizzling rain in mountainous sections. Snow and ice appear to be leaving gradually and there is no immediate danger of a flood threat, it is claimed.

Temperatures in the Tri-State area yesterday remained above freezing throughout the day. Last night at Thomas, W. Va., and Deal, Pa., 48 above zero was reported at 11 p. m. Temperature at both places reached 54 above during the day. There was some fog reported last night and a drizzling rain fell in both areas.

In Cumberland the mercury dropped to 35 above zero, and rose only five degrees during the day to reach a maximum of 40 above. At 11 p. m. the temperature reading showed 36 above. There was also some fog here and a slight rainfall, measured at .05 inches.

At Romney, W. Va., State Police reported the mercury around 40 above, with a little rain falling at 10 p. m. There was some fog.

There is only about three inches of snow left in Cumberland, officials reported, but in some mountain areas, there is still from six inches to a foot. The gradual thaw is expected to remove the snow sloyly enough to eliminate any danger of flood, but high water may be expected by the first of the week, it is believed, unless the weather turns cold.

DEATHS

LEWIS ROSENBAUM

Lewis Rosenbaum, 88, 115 Bedford Street, died yesterday afternoon at 3:39 o'clock in Memorial Hospital where he was admitted a week ago.

He was a native of Meimbressen, Germany, and a son of Isaac and Regina Rosenbaum. His wife was the late Rose Prince Rosenbaum.

Mr. Roseibaum came to Cumberland at the age of 19 and started in business as a clothing merchant. A few years laert he joined Rosenbaum Brothers Department Store for a period of about five years. He then went to Lonaconing where he became associated with Charles Price as co-owner of Price and Rosenbaum's store there. Upon returning to Cumberland he again set up in business for himself and maintained his own store for 20 years.

He returned to Rosenbaum Brothers in 1919 in charge of the Boys Department where he remained until 15 years ago. He has been semi-active in the furniture business in recent years with his daughter, Mrs. Minna Millenson, this city.

He is survived, besides Mrs. Millenson, by another daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Schwab, and three grandchildren, Richard and Leonard Schwab and Rita Millenson, all of Cumberland.

A funeral service for Mr. Rosenbaum, who was the oldest member of B'er Chayim Congregation, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the residence. Rabbi M. Soloff, Baltimore, will officiate and interment will be in East View Cemetery.

ARTHUR MCDONALD

PARSONS, W. Va., — Arthur McDonald, 53, died in Tucker County Hospital here yesterday morning at 7:30, a victim of pneumonia.

He was the son of the late James William and Mary Elizabeth Philips McDonald and the husband of the former Cora Nestor.

Besides his widow, he is survived by the following children: Arthur McDonald Jr., Canton, Ohio; Mrs. Elwood Blizzard, Frostburg Md.; Mrs. Lena Hendley, Baltimore, Md.; and Mary Lee, Betty Don, Ronald

Scout Leadership Record Here Tops National Average

Review Discloses Cubbing Advance

Potomac Council rates near the top in its leadership training record, camping activities and charter renewals during 1947, as compared with the 544 other Boy Scout councils in the United States, according to the annual charter review completed yesterday.

The review also disclosed that Potomac Council's greatest single advance during the year was in the organization of Cub packs for boys 9 to 12 years old.

Kenneth E. Jackson, council executive, and Judson Jusell, Philadelphia, deputy regional executive of Region three, Boy Scouts of America, prepared the review during the latter's visit here.

At a Scout banquet held in Keyser, W. Va., Thursday night, Jusell praised the council for the fine record which it achieved during the past year.

Eight Packs Here

Although only three Cub packs were organized in the council during 1946, the first year of that activity, four more, all in Cumberland District, were formed last year, and the eighth pack was organized last month at Potomac Park, Jackson said.

The earliest packs were formed in Piedmont, Westernport and Petersburg. Last year Cub groups were organized in LaVale and Grantsville, and at Mt. Royal and Gephart Schools in Cumberland.

Jackson pointed out that this increase was due in large part to an increase in the Scout budget granted by the Community Chest, which made it possible to employ one man to promote the development of new Cub packs.

Total number of Cubs registered in Potomac Council, which includes the two Maryland counties of Allegany and Garrett and the four West Virginia counties of Mineral, Hampshire, Grant and Hardy, rose from 53 in 1946 to 153 in 1947.

Total membership in the council, in both Cub packs and Scout troops increased from 1,767 to 1,914 during the same period, according to the annual review. The number of units increased from 38 to 45.

In reference to leadership training activities, Jackson pointed out that 66.7 per cent of the 45 units have at least one trained leader, as compared to the national average of about 40 per cent.

Twenty-seven leadership training courses were conducted in the six districts of Potomac Council last year, and the council has a better training record than 93 per cent of the other Scout councils throughout the nation, the review showed.

Air Squadron Formed

Another advance made by the council during 1947 was the organization of its first senior Scout unit, an Air Scout squadron sponsored by SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church under the leadership of Lt. George Gocke, local Army Air Force recruiting officer.

Only six per cent of other Scouts councils in the country had a better long-term (six days or more) average camping record than Potomac Council. In this connection, Jackson termed the 1947 camporee at Rawlings the best ever held by the council.

Likewise, only 18 per cent of other Scout councils had a better record of unit charter renewals than Potomac Council, according to the review.

Council organization and personnel was considerably above the national average.

Cumberland District led the council in increased Cubbing and was rated above the council average in units having trained leaders, percentage of improvement in advancement in the various ranks of Scouting, and in its camping record.

ROTARY DIRECTORS WILL BE ELECTED

The Cumberland Rotary Club will elect five new members to the Board of Directors for two-year terms February 17 and indicated in its weekly bulletin that 10 candidates have been nominated.

Two of the candidates will be seeking re-election to the board from which the club's officers will be elected after the installment ceremony scheduled for July 1.

Adolf Blunk and Frank U. Davis are the incumbent officers seeking re-election while the new candidates are:

Louis D. Baudwin, Max W. Bastian, Kenneth E. Beck, Robert L. Ebert, C. William Gilchrist, John A. Kreiling, James M. Pitkethly, and J. Louis Weber.

The five new directors will serve on the board with Charles S. Catherman, Kenneth S. Hopwood, William B. Ludman, Howard M. Smith and John R. Wilkinson, who are beginning the second year of their two-year terms.

Members of the club explained that the annual election is being held early this year to conform with the International convention which is being held a month earlier than usual.

Weatherman Takes Backward Look, Finds 9 Below A February Record

The weatherman, who has been having prognosticating difficulties for the past two weeks, yesterday took a backward glance where weather conditions are history and discovered a minus nine temperature that prevailed in Cumberland for four days in February, 1934, is something of a modern record in the city for the second month.

There were only four other years since 1913 when the temperatures dipped below zero in February—the lowest was 4 below—and there were five years when not a flake of snow fell during the second month.

February has been a mellow month, too, as records of 1932 will prove. A maximum of 88 degrees was reached that month, with a minimum of 17 above. Actually there wasn't a day when the mercury did not rise to 42 degrees.

Probably the two most interesting years included in the records were 1924 and 1936 when flood waters from the Potomac River and Wills Creek inundated the business section of the city. The records show that 20.5 inches of snow fell in Allegany County during February, 1924, which melted down to 2.25 inches of precipitation, including rain of other days.

In 1936 the snowfall for the month was not nearly so heavy but the rains and snow together resulted in a total precipitation of 3.34 inches, a figure that was topped only twice in the 35-year period.

Actually, the weatherman said after checking figures for the 35 year period, February can't be considered a frigid month for the maximum temperatures have never gone below 50 degrees during the past 35 years.

There have been some cold spells though, he admitted, like the 9 below freeze that gripped the area for four days in 1934. Then there was the 1918 spell when the thermometer dropped to 4 below for a spell and again in 1914, 1917, 1924, and 1936 sub-zero weather had a hold on the district.

The top figure for precipitation was recorded in February, 1927, when melting snow and rain totaled 4.10 inches, and then again in 1939 the local citizenry got a brief scare when precipitation for February totaled 3.98 inches.

The heaviest snows during the recorded period occurred in 1914, 1917, 1921, 1924, 1927, and 1947, according to the prognosticator The year 1947 was the lightest of the six years with a total depth of 15.5 inches of snow. The year 1924 was, of course, the heaviest with 20.5 inches of snow, while the remaining four years had snowfalls averaging 17 inches.

Transcription Work Is Almost Completed

A dozen persons who have been working on the task of transcribing the names on the county poll books, expect to complete the task in about another week, it was indicated yesterday.

Old registration books had become filled and could no longer be used. Officials said the transcription was necessary before another election was possible.

Two complete sets of books are being completed as required by law, and the task of transferring the names, while a tedious one, has been done carefully and neatly, election officials said.

Installation Postponed

The installation of officers of the Cumberland Building and Construction Trades Council, scheduled last night, will be held February 27, George W. Lucas, president, announced.
